

Stock Prices Go Higher During Early Trading

New York—(UPI)—Stocks inched higher during the early hours today.

Electronics were about the strongest group with IBM, the recent heavy loser, up more than 3, and Beckman, Burroughs, Litton, Minneapolis-Honeywell and RCA each up a point or more.

Motors found good support in Chrysler and Ford, each up about 1 following news that auto assemblies this week will run 20 per cent ahead of the similar 1961 period. Steels firmed and chemicals were narrowly mixed.

Drugs, foods, stores, aircrafts, oil and cosmetics all participated in the advance. Utilities were about the only weak spot.

Stocks dropped to new lows for the year Thursday as heavy selling developed for the third consecutive session.

Texas Rangers Look for Killer in Estes Case—If There Is a Killer

Franklin, Tex. — (UPI)—Texas Rangers and local law enforcement officers searched today for the person who may have killed the man who was investigating Billie Sol Estes.

There may be no such person. A medical examiner's report said that Henry H. Marshall, who was looking into Estes' cotton allotment deals, probably was murdered. But the report left open a slight possibility that Marshall committed suicide.

If he did, no man ever worked so hard to destroy himself.

State officials investigating Marshall's death were unhappy today because the Department of Agriculture and the Justice Department refused to turn over a complete copy of a 175-page report entitled "Billie Sol Estes."

The Justice Department said portions of the report dealing solely with Marshall could be turned over, but not the complete report.

"This jury (the grand jury investigating Marshall's death) would prefer to see the whole file and make its own decision as to what is material to this investigation," State Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said.

The story of the collapse of Estes' multi-million dollar business empire still is unfolding, but it is going to be difficult to match the story of the strange death of Marshall. He was the U.S. Agriculture Department employee who was found dead on his ranch near Franklin last June. He had been shot five times with a 22-caliber bolt-action rifle. Local authorities conducted a hasty investigation—no attempt was made to get fingerprints of the rifle—and Marshall's death was pronounced a suicide.

When what Estes called his "house of cards" collapsed, people began thinking about Marshall. Members of his family, convinced he had been murdered, demanded a new

Committees List Campaign Expenses

Salem — (UPI)—The Morat campaign committee spent $18,843 to help get Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) nominated in last week's primary election, according to a report filed with the State Elections Division today.

The committee listed a total of $20,367 in contributions, meaning it had $1,524 left over after the campaign.

The reelect Edith Green committee listed only $310 in expenses in the successful campaign that renominated Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) in Oregon's third district.

The committee to retain Tax Judge Peter Gunnar showed expenses of $3,474 in its successful job of electing Gunnar as Oregon's first state tax judge.

Monday is the deadline for all campaign committees to file their campaign expense reports here. The deadline for expense report filings by individuals is June 1.

Richard Frank Estate Set at $1.3 Million

Portland — (UPI)—The late Richard S. Frank, vice president of Meier and Frank Co., left an estate of $1.3 million, an inventory filed in circuit court here Thursday showed.

Frank died of cancer March 19 after a long illness.

could a man shoot himself five times with a rifle, take carbon monoxide, strike himself on the head, and cut his forehead.

A. Sneed Bonner, Marshall's brother-in-law, confronted Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ in the courthouse Thursday after the medical verdict was returned and asked what the next step would be.

"If Henry Marshall was murdered, we want to find out who did it," Russ replied.

"But you leave us doubt that," Bonner said. "Do you know what this does to my wife and me?"

Russ promised to keep on pushing the investigation. Local authorities say there are some persons they want to question in connection with Marshall's death, but concede they have no direct evidence against anybody.

A Robertson county grand jury has been in session since Monday to hear evidence about Marshall's death. It recessed Thursday until Monday just before the medical verdict was returned.
