

Scott-McNaught Rites Held at Cave Junction

Cave Junction—Miss Marilyn Sue McNaught, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max E. McNaught, Cave Junction, became the bride of Ben Andrew Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scott, Kerby, in a ceremony held May 19 at the Community church.

The Rev. Gene Denning officiated at the eight o'clock evening rites attended by about 50 relatives and friends. Mrs. Wayne Saffer, soloist, was accompanied on the organ by Miss Elizabeth Denning. Orchid and white flowers decorated the church for the singlering ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with scoop neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip length veil was held by a seed pearl crown and she carried a white Bible with a white orchid.

Miss Maureen Kennedy attended the bride. She wore a street length frock of lavender brocade satin with matching orchid cummerbund and headpiece. Her accessories were white and her corsage was an orchid.

Terry McNaught, brother of the bride, and Stanley Broadus, Springfield, Ore., nephew of the bridegroom, were candlelighters.

Ernest Neil served as best man and seating the guests were Marion Nichols and Herbert Kennedy.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception which followed Mrs. McNaught wore an apricot colored sheath dress with matching coat and beige accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Serving the cake and punch were Mrs. Neil Samuels, Corvallis, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Helen Lyman, Mrs. Charles Evans, and Mrs. Lillie Martin, another sister; Miss Bonita Robinson and Miss Donna Parmerlee were in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Clarence Gift and Mrs. Rudy Smith were at the gift table.

The couple traveled to Tacoma, Wash., and visited the Seattle World's Fair prior to making their home in Kerby. The bride wore for traveling a two-piece mint green suit with white accessories.

The bride will graduate this month from Illinois Valley High school. The bridegroom is employed by the Illinois Valley Logging company.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Agnes Kirkham, Monterey Park, Calif., grandmother of the bride; Mr. Samuels, Corvallis, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Miss Carolyn Broadus, niece of the bridegroom; Mrs. Mabel Smith, Mrs. Homer Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jesinghaus, Grants Pass.

Seniors Honored At Breakfast

Yreka—Yreka High school seniors who have been associated with the Yreka Methodist church and their parents were honored at a breakfast recently by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Seniors honored were Sharon Bray, Robert Dickinson, Grant Hosford, Jennifer Moore, Shelley Young, Jan Smith and Josiane Patissier. Each was presented a small gift.

Guest speaker for the event was Mrs. Mildred Jackson, Redding district secretary of student work for the WSCS. Mrs. Jackson spoke on college life, presenting several aspects of higher education.

Spring flowers centered the tables set with cloths imprinted with pictures of graduates and diplomas. Place cards were in the form of a graduate with cap.

General chairman for the breakfast were Mrs. James Elsen and Mrs. Robert Buckner. Mrs. Harry Taylor was kitchen chairman.

The food industry employs a total of 1.6 million workers.

Dance Studio Presents Pupils in Annual Recital

More than 200 students of the Colleen Hope Dance studio were presented in a spring recital May 31 in the Craterian theater. Featured were dance students from Medford and Ashland under the direction of Miss Hope and Sidney Yarnell, assistant teacher; and students from Central Point, Eagle Point, and Butte Falls under the direction of Miss Louise Lull, assistant teacher. Members of the kindergarten class also appeared.

Narrating for the review was Miss Lois Stedman, a drama student at Medford High school. Scenery was designed by Mr. Yarnell.

The first part of the program was devoted to the younger pupils, while part two was done by intermediate students and the final part of the review was by advanced dancers.

Feature parts were done by Mr. Yarnell, and the Misses Cecelia Kee, Edie Reinking, Carolyn Knoll and Paulette Kime.

The first part of the program was divided into individual numbers with the second and third parts done in themes. "Under the Sea," was the title for the second part with the scenery and lighting effects simulating an underwater scene.

The third part, entitled "Outer Space," featured a trip to the moon.

Black lighting was used to produce unusual effects.

Visiting

Ashland—Mrs. Guy Clarke, Fork street, left last week for Dallas, Tex., and other southwest cities where she will visit her mother and a number of relatives.

Miss McKillop is employed by the Lambert Food agency while her fiancé is an engineering student at Oregon State university. An early fall wedding is planned.

Travelers Return After Long Trip East and South

Dr. and Mrs. Jouett P. Bray, Lozier lane, arrived home last week after a month's trip to eastern and southern points.

In Bridgeport, Conn., they visited their youngest daughter, Mrs. Donald Robinson and family. Before proceeding to Cartersville, Ga., they visited in New York City and Washington, D.C. In Cartersville they were guests of Percy H. Bray, attorney, who formerly practiced law in Medford.

Returning west the couple stopped in Los Angeles to visit their eldest daughter and family, the Dean S. Lundys; their son, Max Bray, a graduate of Medford High school and the University of California, Berkeley; and Dr. V. B. Bray in Pasadena. Mrs. Lundy's husband is assistant supervisor of the University of California, Los Angeles, hospital, and their son is associated with Bausch and Lomb as a consultant.

While there they made a side trip to Atlanta, where Dr. Bray visited Emory university, which he and all his brothers have attended. Near Cartersville, they also saw the first iron smelter built before the Civil war, in north Georgia. They also visited the Etawah Indian mounds near there as well as an extensive mining area and refinery.

They toured a Civil war battlefield and saw Stone mountain.

In Redding the Brays stopped overnight to visit with their three sons, Lee Bray and Mrs. Bray; Charles Bray and Robert Bray. Lee and Charles Bray are in the electrical contracting business and Robert Bray is with the American Automobile association.
