Harry Jewett, 525 Barnes avenue, is one of 12 men from throughout the country featured in an article in the June issue of Better Homes and Gardens.

The magazine cover points up the article with "The Best Cookout Chefs We Know." The article is as a result of a nationwide contest sponsored by the magazine last summer, and each of the men, as winners received a large barbecue grill with electrically turned spit and electric starter.

Recipes entered are also given.

Mr. Jewett was a winner in the contest with his recipe for "Barbecue Sauce, Alamo." In the article he is quoted as saying: "Only an incautious wife would dare devise, revise, or advise in the strictly masculine realm of the barbecue."

The recipe for the sauce which Mr. Jewett blends is described as "mellow and beautiful. Does great things for 'burgers, chicken, pork. Use it to glaze kabobs of canned luncheon meat, too."

The recipe calls for one-fourth cup chopped onion; two tablespoons salad oil; two cups catsup; one fourth cup Worcestershire sauce; one-third cup honey; one tablespoon prepared horseradish mustard; one-half teaspoon liquid smoke; one teaspoon vinegar; one-fourth teaspoon garlic salt; one-fourth teaspoon coarse cracked pepper; one-fourth teaspoon crushed rosemary; one-fourth teaspoon crushed thyme; one-fourth teaspoon crushed oregano; one-fourth teaspoon crushed savory and two drops of Tabasco sauce.

Cook onion in hot oil till tender, but not brown. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer uncovered 10 to 15 minutes. As a basting sauce, use only last half hour of cooking. Makes two and three-fourths cups.
