Redman and Pocahontas To Assemble in Medford

Final preparations have been made for a joint district meeting in Medford June 9 of the Improved Order of Redmen, Zone 4, and Degree of Pocahontas, District 1, of California and Oregon.

The event will open with a parade in downtown Medford Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The parade units will assemble at the Library park.

A banquet is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the American Legion hall on Walnut street preceding the business meetings. The Redmen Tribe will hold sessions in the lodge hall on Apple street at 8 p.m. with Sachem Lewis Thompson of Weatonka tribe, Medford, presiding.

The Degree of Pocahontas will meet in the Legion hall at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Orville Hayes, pocahontas, presiding. A degree staff from Arcata, Calif., will conduct initiation for the women's order and Weatonka tribe's team will conduct the warrior's and chief's degree for the Redmen.

A joint meeting of the two orders will be held at 10 p.m. in the Legion hall following the business sessions. Mrs. Vivian Bowser, third great warrior of the Great Council of California will be mistress of ceremonies and Bill Fields, Redding, Calif., great sannah for the Great Council of California, will be master of ceremonies.

Valley Families Plan to Attend Two Ceremonies

Two valley families will be in Berkeley, Calif., this week end to attend graduation ceremonies at the University of California, Berkeley, and a wedding.

Leaving Friday will be Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Green and sons, Kenneth and Frederick, and daughter, Barbara, 919 Kenyon street, and the Green's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Turner and children, Gary and Brenda of Sams Valley.

They are making the trip to attend the graduation Saturday, June 9 of the Green's son, Lawrence Green. He has majored in public health work. He attended Eagle Point Elementary schools, and was graduated from Lawton, Okla., High school and also is a graduate of American River Junior college at Sacramento, Calif.

On Sunday, June 10 they will attend his wedding to Miss Patricia Mary Fahey of Modesto, Calif., a student at the university. The ceremony will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Newman hall on the university campus.

University To Honor Women

Eugene - University of Oregon women graduates of 1912 and 1962 will be especially honored at the Senior Women's Breakfast Saturday, June 9, on the Eugene campus.

The annual breakfast, one of the activities of commencement week end, will begin at 8 a.m. (PST) in the dining hall of Hendricks hall.

Speakers at the event will be Mrs. Sydney Henderson (Lucia Campbell) of Palo Alto, Calif., daughter of Prince Campbell, former University of Oregon president, and Janice Nakata of Portland. Mrs. Henderson will speak for the Class of 1912, and Miss Nakata, president of the Association of Women Students on campus, will represent the Class of 1962.

At the annual business meeting of the State association of University of Oregon Women following the breakfast, officers will be elected. Members of the Half-Century club and reunion classes attending commencement activities will be recognized at the breakfast.

Personalized Service Helps American Tourist Abroad

By JOAN SWEENEY
United Press International
Los Angeles—Going to Rome? Need an English speaking dentist or perhaps a villa with seven bedrooms and baths for a month?

A personalized service called Guide-International can provide either.

The service guides tourists to everything from out-of-the-way bargains to ice cream sodas.

Guide International is the brain child of dark-haired, dark-eyed Mrs. Paola Kenneally. The daughter of a Danish count and an Italian woman, Mrs. Kenneally was raised in Italy. But she lived in America for several years after her marriage to an American citizen in 1951.

Although Guide International's clients come from many countries, from India to South Africa, most of them are Americans.

The most common services the organization provides are English speaking secretaries, drivers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and shipping guides.

Guide For Bargain Hunters

Mrs. Kenneally said Rome has many bargains but a tourist must know where to go. Her organization also provides guides for bargain hunting expeditions.

Although the voluble Mrs. Kenneally can fill most requests readily, a few have proved more difficult—such as an American industrialist's request to rent a villa with seven bedrooms and bathrooms for a month. Mrs. Kenneally located the villa but suggested to her client that it would be far cheaper to stay in a hotel. He followed her advice.

Mrs. Kenneally's work has led her into some unusual situations.

One request Mrs. Kenneally was unable to fill was made by a Hollywood celebrity. He wanted sweetened lime juice. She could find only the unsweetened variety in Rome.

A number of Mrs. Kenneally's clients are Hollywood movie people who are making films in Rome and want the service to find them apartments and villas for their stay.

"I never heard of spaghetti and meat balls until I came here after I was married," she said. "It was the shock of my life."

"The Italians will hate me," she added, "but the best pizza I ever had in my life was in New York."

Mrs. Kenneally came up with the idea for her guide service which is affiliated with the Italian travel agency, Pierbusselli - while she was working in Italy as a technical assistant on a movie.

"I realized Americans coming to Italy needed such a service," she said.

She returned to her native land in 1960 to organize it, drawing upon her contacts in Rome and her Italian friends to provide the personalized services.

Mrs. Kenneally believes American tourists have become more sophisticated in the last few years.

"Although some of them still want steak just like at home and ice cream sodas, many of them are more willing to explore," she explained. "They are more open minded and prepared to accept what is different. They want to do exactly as Italians do."

Presbyterians Honor Jacksonville Students

Jacksonville - About 100 persons attended a dinner held recently by the Church Night Fellowship group of the Jacksonville Presbyterian church honoring Jacksonville students who will be graduated this evening from Medford High school. Parents of the students also were guests.

John Keaveny, chairman of the fellowship, was in charge of the arrangements and hostesses for the event were Mrs. Robert Cosler, Mrs. Otto Niedermeyer and Mrs. M. H. Hall. The hostesses also provided floral arrangements and decorations depicting caps and diplomas in the graduation theme.

Each graduate was presented a souvenir plate by members of the Women's association. The plates are illustrated with a picture and background material concerning the church.

The Rev. John Reynolds, minister of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Medford, was main speaker. John Crabb, Jacksonville, distributive education and vocational counsel at Medford High school, and the Rev. King Jones, minister of the Jacksonville Presbyterian church, also spoke. Dave Allen, a member of the church, was master of ceremonies.

The graduating seniors are the Misses Carren Carter, Letha Davis, Diane Evernham, Maryann Hein, Joyce Johnson Owen, Yvonne Perreard, Judy Hogan, Darlene Bowman and Sue Green; and David Jordan, Ben Long, Bruce Niedermeyer, Gene Offord, Steven Smith, Don Weter and Tim White.
