CHATTER

FROM MANN'S

With Father's Day coming up and everyone getting ready to do the honors for HIM on that day, we thought you might be interested in this little quip.

It seems two little boys were bragging about their fathers and one said "My dad is an Elk, a Moose and a Lion." His playmate was obviously impressed and asked "He is... how much does it cost to look at him?"

Yes sir, we are used to paying for looking in this country, but we would like to invite you to see something absolutely free... it will cost you nothing to look at the cool summer dresses at Mann's. Of course, if you find them irresistible (as we hope) you may purchase as many as you like.

While you are downtown buying that tie, socks or shirt for Dad, we suggest that you really give him a treat. Get yourself something cool and colorful to wear early in the morning, no matter how trying his day at work, he will have something to look forward to coming home in the evening.

Floral design spaghetti strap cotton dress is easy to slip into and washes like a hankie. Very youthful looking, the skirt is full and you have no need for a petticoat with it. The full skirt style is perfect for the woman who does not wear shorts or any of the pants outfits, but still wants a dress for picnics and patio parties. Priced at 10.98

If it is a party you are going to, there is nothing more flattering than a full skirted rayon chiffon voile. The coral colored one has yards and yards in the skirt. The blue magic chiffon is sophisticated looking and just waiting to be asked to dance. There are lots of others. We could not possibly describe them all here. Priced from 10.98... yours for the choosing.

Remember the place and we hope to be seeing you at Mann's in the Center of Medford!

for your greater convenience...

Preparations for 4th Observance Near Complete

Ashland - Fourth of July preparations are reaching their final stage after a meeting of the entire planning committee Thursday at the Mark Antony hotel.

Clint Lorber, general chairman, announced that letters of invitation have been sent to all organizations and towns in southern Oregon and northern California which have entered floats in the parade or had concessions.

He emphasized the need of early application in order to secure preferred locations as all entries will be handled on a "first come, first served" basis.

According to Al Brown, who is in charge of the parade, the National Guard will march and at least two Army tanks are promised for the celebration. Fifteen trucks and jeeps and 30 uniformed men are listed by the officers in charge.

In addition to headquarters battery 2d AW battalion 249th artillery, from Ashland, commanded by Capt. Gordon Hays, there will be battery A 2d AW battalion 248th artillery from Medford, commanded by Capt. Raymond R. Harris, and Battery D, also of Medford commanded by Capt. Charles Henry.

Tanks On Display The tanks will be on display in Lithia park after the parade until 2 p.m. when they will be moved to the Armory for dedication of the new flag pole that is to be presented by Veterans of World War I, Barracks 1268, of Ashland. Maj. Ardis N. Warren, executive officer of 2d battalion, 249th artillery, will be master of ceremonies. Lt. Col. Clifford L. Sanders, battalion commander, and William Beare, WWII commander, will speak.

The Lions club will have charge of all the daytime events and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will put on the evening fireworks display at Emigrant lake. Arrangements have been made with city and state police to handle traffic at and around the lake area to avoid such congestion as occurred last year.

Prizes will be given for parade entries and floats at the Butler band shell where a concert will be played at 11 a.m. Information and application blanks are available at the chamber of commerce office on the Plaza.
