Training Held for Fire Patrolmen

Yreka—The first training session of its kind on the Klamath National forest for logging industry fire prevention patrolmen was held on the Seiad Ranger district recently, according to Seiad Fire Control Officer William E. Cadola.

The meeting was designed to aid industry paid patrolmen in their fire prevention efforts on national forest timber sale areas, and included discussions on logging equipment inspection, communication and the fire danger rating system.

In attendance were patrolmen or representatives from Lucas Logging of Seiad Valley, Eastlick Mills of Yreka, Kline Logging company of Medford, and V. and K. Logging, Graves Logging company, Carolina Pacific and Ti Bar Logging company from Happy Camp area.

NO UNBLEMISHED RECORD

Clear Lake, Wis. — (UPI) — Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson launched his campaign for the U.S. Senate in his home town Sunday night with some misgivings. He admitted to residents that he "broke too many windows with a BB gun here to tell
