Oregon Middle Distance, Javelin Depth Could Be Big Helps in NCAA Meet

University of Oregon, Eugene—Oregon's power in the middle distances and depth in the javelin could prove to be key weapons when the Webfoots go in search of the NCAA track and field championship Friday and Saturday at Hayward Field.

Dyrol Burleson, two-time NCAA mile king and holder of the American citizen's record at that distance, heads up the Webfoot middle distance contingent.

Coach Bill Bowerman could double Burleson back in the 800, where he has a best effort of 1:58.2, but it seems more likely the Webfoot star will compete in the steeplechase if he doubles.

Burleson's best effort this spring in the mile is 3:57.9 and he's one of two collegiate performers under the four-minute barrier this season. The other is Oregon teammate Keith Forman, third place finisher at Philadelphia a year ago, who has a run a nifty 3:58.3.

Face Solid Field

The two Webfoots will be facing a solid field, which includes Bill Dotson of Kansas (4:03.7), runnerup to Burleson last year, and Mil Dahl of UCLA (4:02.3), who grabbed a fourth place finish in 1961. Other top-rated competitors are John Reilly of Georgetown (4:01.9), Bill Cornell of Southern Illinois (4:02.7), Ben Tucker of San Jose State (4:03.6), and Tom O'Hara of Loyola of Chicago (4:01.6). Tucker and Reilly might be absent from the mile, however, if they decide to try the 800, where both again figure prominently.

Tucker, in fact, rates as the nation's best half-mile runner off his 1:47.6 performance last Saturday. This race could prove to be one of the most closely

Count Jumps

Spokane grabbed a 2-0 lead after three innings and jumped the count to 5-1 by the fifth with the aid of Gene Marianacci's two-run homer. Charlie White got three of Hawaii's six hits and drove in the only islander run.

John Briggs put San Diego within halting distance of the lead with a six-hitter over Salt Lake. Harry Anderson of the winners hit a solo homer in the sixth and Bobby Klaus drove in two more with a double in the same frame.

Little Done In NW Loop

Portland snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh with a pair of runs and went on to down Seattle.

Bill Kern, who drove in five runs with a homer and two singles, collected one of his singles in the inning for one run and Ron Debus doubled in the other.
