Regional Roundup

by Cleve Twitchell
Mail Tribune Regional Editor

This is the first summer in quite some time that your regional editor has spent living on standard time. Like all stories, there are two sides to the matter. I like the idea of watching TV programs an hour earlier, although in a few instances programs that used to be on at 7 p.m. have now been switched to 10 o'clock in order to avoid conflicting with the 6 o'clock news. It's also rather nice to be able to listen to a baseball game being played in San Francisco or Los Angeles and still get to sleep early.

But there are other considerations. For instance, if you look over the weather chart you'll find that the sun rises at around 4:30 a.m. standard time. I noticed that fact one Saturday night when I was working at the office here. I left for home at 11:30 p.m. with the realization that the sun should be up in five hours. Needless to say, it was a rather tiring realization.

Middle-Of-The-Night Call

The election in Siskiyou county, Calif., last week had repercussions in Medford early June 6. About 1:30 a.m. Medford Police Detective Lt. Lyle C. Perkins was awakened at his home by a telephone call from Yreka informing him that Sheriff Al Cottar had lost the election. The caller asked the Medford officer if he could line up jobs in the area for the chief criminal deputy and the undersheriff in Siskiyou county.

Perkins, upset at the news, did some checking before he arrived at the Medford police station and managed to get some jobs for the two men. Later he was informed that Cottar had not lost, but won the election. Later in the day another call from Yreka (this one for real) invited Perkins and other detectives to an election party at the Shamrock which was attended by 150 persons.

Strawberry War?
I haven't noticed any gas wars lately, but a strawberry price war seems to be brewing among the fruit and vegetable stands on highway 99 between Medford and Phoenix. A week ago, I priced strawberries at one of the stands and found them to be $3 a crate. Later, last week, one of the stands had cut the price to $2.80. Then over the week end, two stands advertised $2.69. Yesterday morning, one of the stands posted a $2.49 a crate. I hope the fellows keep it up. Strawberries are one of my weaknesses.

Skating Party Will Aid Stadium Fund

Gold Hill - A Crater High Stadium Fund Skating party has been scheduled for Friday at the Grants Pass Roller-drome.

Gilbert A. Mack, principal of Gold Hill schools said there are two purposes for this party. One is to have fun and the other is to raise some money for the Crater Stadium Fund. He said the owner of the rink is not charging any rent and the bus drivers will donate their service free. All money collected is to go to the Stadium Fund.

Buses will leave Hanby at 6:20 p.m. Friday. Skating will start at 7 p.m. and continue until 9:30 p.m. Buses will return to Hanby by 10 p.m. Buses will leave Crater High at 6 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the rink, on the buses and from the following business firms in Gold Hill, Van Horn's Market, Morrrows' Hardware store and Gold Hill Feed store. Also at Pendleton's Service Station in Central Point.

All fifth through eighth graders are eligible. High school students have been invited to attend.

It is hoped that at least 200 tickets will be sold so $200 could be presented to the committee who is raising money for the stadium.

Bids Submitted For CP Fire Truck

Central Point - Bids for fire trucks were opened at the city council meeting held recently.

Western States Fire Apparatus submitted a bid for $20,348.85. Coast Apparatus Incorporated submitted a bid for $19,975.00, and the American La France's bid for $18,933.10.

The Council turned the bid sheets over to the Fire Chief for approval and further study, to see if specifications were met.

Lloyd Clark, Bill Light, and Mr. A. Downing, consulting engineer from Salem, came and discussed with the Council pressure controls for pumps to be installed for the new water tower. The City Council approved their recommendation.

Three ordinances were adopted, the spreading assessments for curbs on East Pine, curbs and paving on Eighth st., and paving only on Alder st., from Fourth to Seventh st.

A group of citizens from the Grand ave. area came to the meeting to discuss the width of the street. The street is slated to be widened to 38 feet. They pointed out that the widening will take out shade trees, hedges and other shrubs along the sides of the street.

The Council approved a franchise with California Pacific

Utilities granting it permission to install natural gas mains in the city, within the next two years.

Phoenix Fire Department Will Receive New Items

Phoenix - The Phoenix volunteer fire department will receive new items in the near future, Chief Dave Haggard told the volunteers last night during the regular fire drill and meeting.

The fire department committee from the Phoenix city council has approved purchase of two new flip-up type doors and a new battery hook-up for the fire engine.

The new doors will make it possible to move equipment out of the fire station quicker and to drive out both the fire engine and emergency panel truck at the same time, Chief Haggard had explained to the committee during a special meeting last week at the fire station.

A second battery will be hooked up on the engine in case the main battery should go out. The committee also decided to purchase chemicals to flush out the fire engine tank to clean out rust and other sediment which may have settled in it.

As requested by Mrs. A. C. Reese, fire department committee member, Haggard sounded the siren last night to announce that a fire department drill was being held.
