Quotes From the News

By United Press International
Washington—President Kennedy, taking a long-range view of the easing of tensions in Laos:
"It would encourage us to believe that there has been a change in atmosphere and that other problems could be subjected to reason and solution."

London—Lawrence Marks, a British television critic, complaining that nearly half of the week end television viewing in the London area is provided by American shows:
"I doubt whether Parliament intended almost half our week end entertainment to come from America."

Washington—Jimmy (The Monk) Allegretti, an alleged vice figure from Chicago, testifying before the Senate Rackets subcommittee:
"I'll have to take the Fifth."

Moscow—Pianist Van Cliburn, commenting on the visit of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to his sell-out concert:
"It was so unexpected, I never thought he would come. We talked about many things, but really it was a family affair."

Portland Zoo Has Unnamed Animal

Portland — (AP) — The Portland Zoo has a new animal, and it may be a new species. Zoo Director Jack Marks said he doesn't know whether to call it a "Zenni or a Zakass."

The new animal is a cross between a zebra and a jenny-burro, Marks said.

The birth occurred after eight attempts at mating the zebra with eight different jenny burros. The zebra belongs to the zoo and the jenny-burro to Homer Taylor, a Gresham area farmer.

Marks said when the zoo lost its zebra filly which died of a heart attack, he tried to get a replacement. He said the stallion zebra was lonely.

Skin Diver Dies From Heart Attack

Cave Junction, Ore. — (AP) — Frank W. Dietz, 48, Facoma, Calif., died of an apparent heart attack while skin diving for gold in the Illinois River near here Thursday.

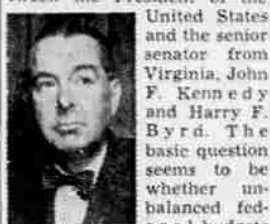

Dietz was skin diving with Josef Tylecek, Beverly Hills, Calif., when the apparent attack occurred. His body was recovered.

Unbalanced Federal Budget Is Subject of JFK-Byrd Debate

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

Washington — (AP) — The great debate now engaged is between the President of the United States and the senior senator from Virginia, John F. Kennedy and Harry F. Byrd.

The basic question seems to be whether unbalanced federal budgets are good for the U.S. economy and for the common man or are, in fact, likely to destroy the American way of life.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has stated more clearly than the President the theory that federal deficits are good for the U.S. economy and the common man.

Dillon was talking about the administrative budget system whereunder the Treasury operates. Kennedy's Yale commencement address stated the same theory less definitely but at much greater length.

Rich or Broke?
If it is true that unbalanced budgets are good for the American way of life, Americans never had it so good. There have been 24 federal deficits in the past 31 years. The 25th deficit is coming up in the present fiscal year which will end at midnight, June 30. Byrd estimates that the current fiscal year budget was running in the red at the rate of nearly $10 billion in the first 10 months of the year.

Deficit No. 26 is forecast for fiscal '63 which begins July 1. Byrd estimates that it will range between $3 to $5 billion. Byrd cites these figures as part of a developing catastrophe for the American people. Writing in the current issue of the Tax Foundation's tax review, Byrd said:

"Federal debt and federal deficits are the prime factors in inflation which continues to reduce the value of the dollar. Recent claims that inflation had stopped (this week) were short lived.

"As of March of this year the dollar was worth 46.1 cents on the 1939 index. Its purchasing power dropped between February and March, and it had dropped between January and February. I suspect that the records will show it to be down in April and again in May. And, on the basis of present indications the decline will continue."

Prices Go Higher
Byrd's suspicions were correct. The Labor Department calculates the April, 1962, purchasing power of the dollar, in relation to 1939 as an arbitrary 100, to be an even 46 cents, down one tenth of 1 per cent from March. Not much, perhaps, but enough to keep the cost of living and the rotting of the dollar steadily on the rise.

The Tax Foundation provided some figures more easily to be understood by the common man in answer to this question: "What is your real income?" If your real income was $2,000 in terms of the dollar's purchasing power in 1946 then you must have $3,152 in 1962, just to stay even, an increase of 58 per cent.

Congressman Unset Over Building Plans

Washington — (AP) — R. p. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) is upset over the overseas construction proposals of the state department.

In congressional testimony made public today, Hays, chairman of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, took a dim view of plans to build the American ambassador in Cyprus a $300,000 house, and to build a $1,370,000, 40-unit apartment building for U.S. diplomats in Japan.

He said there was no need for such a large house for the ambassador to Cyprus, despite state department arguments that a "good-sized appropriate residence" was necessary for entertaining.

"You are not going to invite more than 10 per cent of the population at any one time," Hays observed, and "there are only 578,000 people on the whole island."

BRIDGE COLLAPSE FATAL

Belize, British Honduras — (AP) — Four children and one adult drowned Thursday when a temporary pontoon bridge over the Belize River collapsed and sent 60 persons plunging into the waters below, according to police.

FAA INVITES EXPERTS

Washington — (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has invited top electronic experts to a conference July 12-13 on anti-collision equipment. The FAA said they would review research and development work aimed at preventing plane collisions.

If your real 1946 income was $5,000, you need to break even $7,870 today. The $10,000 man would need $15,513. These figures take account of the impact on real income of both inflation and taxes.

Not in dispute is the fact that there is alarm at home and abroad because of the ill health of the U.S. dollar. The dispute is about the cause of the disease and the remedy. Byrd has going for him the generally accepted principle that if you live consistently beyond your means, you go broke. A bankrupt United States? Byrd says it could happen here.
