Party Series Is Given For Students in Gold Hill

Gold Hill—Students of the eighth grade class of Hanby Elementary school in Gold Hill were honored at a party following promotion exercises. Hostesses for the event, given in the multi-purpose room at Patrick Elementary school, were Mrs. Floyd Taylor, Mrs. Allen Hilkey and Mrs. Walter Dye. This was one of several social functions given the past few weeks for members of this class.

Mike Drake, eighth grade graduate and Miss Janet Rosecrans, a guest from Scio, Ore., were selected by parents as the best couple in the dance number that preceded refreshment hour. They led the 1962 class of 42 eighth grade graduates and guests to the refreshment table.

The hostesses were assisted as chaperones by Walter Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Myers, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Theibert Wright, Mrs. Lester Parker, Walter Dye, Floyd Taylor, Gilbert Mack, Mrs. Leonard McMahan, Mrs. Raymond Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Rosecrans, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosecrans.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McMahan and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson were hosts for a barn dance and hay ride honoring the students at the McMahan home on Sardinia creek June 2. The barn was decorated in the "Country Theme" for the occasion. Chaperones other than the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Theibert Wright, Mrs. Lester Parker and Mrs. Roland Rosecrans. Thirty-two members of the class attended this party.

An eighth grade skip day prior to closing of school included a morning of bowling, lunch at North's Chuck Wagon, Medford, and an afternoon of swimming at Twin Plunges and a visit to Lithia park in Ashland. Chaperones on this outing were teachers Walter Doherty and Leon Myers, and Mrs. Charles Rosecrans, Mrs. Lester Parker, Mrs. Everett Drake, Mrs. Roland Rosecrans, Mrs. Floyd Taylor, and Mrs. Allen Hilkey, parents.

Members of the class who had been pupils of Mrs. Mark (Mildred) Black when they were in the sixth grade at Hanby Elementary school were among students honored at a party at the Black home on Lampan road recently. It was an outdoor event. For the occasion the garden was lighted with gay colored Japanese lanterns. Mrs. Leonard McMahan and Mrs. James Wilson took charge of arrangements. Assisting the hosts as chaperones during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ness, Mrs. Lester Parker, and Mrs. Roland Rosecrans.

Seven members of the class were among 30 Hanby Elementary students who were honored June 1 at a banquet given at North's Chuck Wagon in recognition for both academic achievement and good citizenship. These students were Linda Parker, Mike Turner, Mike Barber, David White, Susan Rosecrans, Shirley Kell and Julianne Hokifield. Parents of these students who attended the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosecrans, Mrs. Donald Meister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kell, The Rev. and

Many Relatives At Graduation In Hornbrook

Hornbrook—Among those here to attend grammar school graduation exercises last week were Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Reynolds, Redding, Calif., grandparents of Gary Choate. The Reynolds arrived the Sunday before graduation and remained for several days after.

Here from Yreka were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bray and Jimmy, Mrs. Stanley Balfrey and Rhonda, Mrs. Albert Wedin and Mike Tyrer, and Mrs. Allie Tyrer, all relatives of Jennifer Cummins.

Mr. and Mrs. George Michels Sr. were here from O'Brien, Ore., to see their grandson, Larry Michels receive his diploma. Larry was salutatorian of his class.

Relatives of Barbara Burrell, valedictorian, were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burrell, Etna, Calif.; Mrs. Joyce Burrell, Yreka; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cedros and children, Hill. Mrs. Germaine Nunes came up from Dunsuir to see her nephew, Danny Thompson, graduate and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Shipman and children, Yreka, were here as guests of Roy Hall. Also from Yreka were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sanders and daughter Marcia, and Mrs. Orlo Davis came from Little Shasta to witness the ceremony. Mrs. Davis has been a substitute teacher in Hornbrook from time to time, and thus at one time or another had taught most of the 18 graduates.

Also here was former principal Harley Baker and Mrs. Baker and their daughter Karen, Olinda, Calif.

1962 Publication Lists New Roses

A "Z-Alecarza" to "Zodiac"—it's all explained in the 1962 American Rose annual, the official publication of the American Rose society. These are just two of the 126 new, domestic and foreign, rose varieties described in the "New Roses of the World." Fifteen new roses are beautifully illustrated in full color. Published for both the beginner and the expert, the American Rose annual's 28 articles are a collection of the latest information on general rose culture, and specific articles deal with rootstocks, floribunda roses, miniature roses, fragrance, propagation, landscape uses, importing and even include recipes for old-fashioned rose jars.

The "proof of the pudding," now in its 36th year, reports on the performance of 159 new roses in home gardens throughout the nation and is an invaluable guide in planning new rose purchases.

The publication is available from the American Rose Society, 4048 Roselea place, Columbus 14, Ohio, for $4.50.

Sparkler
New York (UPI)—Why does a clear, colorless diamond give off every hue in the spectrum? Because it traps light, bending the rays from all directions toward the center and reflecting them back through the top in a rainbow of color.

Honeymoon
The word "honeymoon" came from the term "honey month." In ancient Europe, the bride and groom were required to drink mead—a kind of wine made from honey—for 30 days after the wedding to insure fruitfulness.

Duplicate Club Plans Contest

A series game contest is being inaugurated by Medford Duplicate Bridge club to enliven the summer weeks. The contest will begin July 10 and continue for eight regular sessions of play, closing September 11.

Rules for the contest may be obtained from the club director, Mrs. Frank R. Baker. She states that all bridge players interested in duplicate are invited to attend the sessions, held each Tuesday evening at the Girls Community club. Play begins at 7:45 p.m.

North-south winners for play on June 12 were Mrs. Paul A. Hatton and Mrs. Leland Clark, first, 132½; Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. Jack Mitchell, second, 115½; Mrs. Baker and Mr. Hatton tied for third and fourth with B. L. Sanderson and Richard Finnell, each pair scoring 113½ points.

Winning east-west were Mrs. Hugh Collins and Mrs. J. J. Finegan, first, 141 points; Roy Pruitt and Ray Wise, second, 122½; Mrs. B. B. Davis and Mrs. Berg Marten, third, 114; Mrs. Ben Todd and Mrs. Laurence W. Buonocore, fourth, 112.

Expert Gives Advice About Planting Flowers

Consider doing something more imaginative with those favorite summer flowers than stringing them like a two by thirty foot necklace around your lawn.

George Fredeen, Oregon State university landscape architect, thinks borders are dull, look man-made and leave blanks in the landscape after they've bloomed.

With spring planting in full swing, he offers these considerations for combining forms and colors and reducing upkeep.

First, he says, consider all herbaceous material when choosing perennials. Herbaceous plants are those considered to have solid, non-woody stems, most with a profusion of bloom at the same time, and a tendency to die back and return the following year. When the gardener thinks of all the annuals, perennials and bulbs these include he has a much better choice than the usual pansies, petunias and pinks he finds at the neighborhood grocery or garden store.

Herbaceous plants offer such a range of color that their upkeep may be the gardener's downfall, notes Fredeen. The temptation is to plant more varieties and a larger area than can be maintained. Fredeen suggests that perennials be used in isolated groups to concentrate forms and colors. He also suggests use of some of them in planters and containers so when bloom is finished they can be moved from sight. Use herbaceous plants to get color both in bloom and foliage. Brighten a dark corner with a clump of yellow allium. Heather and iberis also go well together. When heather has finished blooming iberis takes over to brighten dark, rainy spring days.

OSU's landscaping expert says to study plant form and capitalize on it. For example, dianthus, ajuga, lupine and iris are upright. A striking combination for the patio might be a four foot square planted about half to dianthus, half to ajuga, and one iris clump in the center.

Castor beans add a dramatic touch to other perennial plantings. For a few cents gardeners can experiment to see if a bold leaf pattern is what they want in a raised planting, on other arrangements. Later, the castor bean can be replaced with fatia if the bold leaf pattern is desired. Acanthus, a large bold leaf plant with long flower spikes, combined with baby's breath provides a striking contrast in texture.

For close inspection, perhaps near a doorway, near the patio, under a small tree or around river rock. Fredeen suggests bergenia. Although bergenia has flowers, the persistent leaves are bold and stand out as a design.

One of the favorite plants for foliage color is dusty miller. Its dissected leaf looks handsome in either a container of dark wood or near bricks or redwood.

Fredeen praises the versatility of peonies. They come in singles and doubles; reds, pinks and whites; bush and tree forms, solid and finely dissected leaf, green leaves and fall color. After flowering, the foliage adds character and strength to a fence, enhances it in the fall when its foliage is subdued orange, copper and yellow.
