LANDMARK DESTROYED—This was all that was left of Stage Coach Orchards' packing house after Friday night's fire. Damage was estimated at $180,000.

Orchard Packing Plant Destroyed In $180,000 Fire

Flames shooting 20 to 30 feet high reduced the Stage Coach Orchards packing house to charred rubble Friday night.

Gordon Green, a principal owner of the once-scenic landmark on Old Stage rd. east of Jacksonville, Saturday morning estimated the damage to building and equipment as $180,000. The building and its contents were partly insured, he said.

State police were poking around in the still smoldering ruins Saturday to determine how and where the fire started. Amidst the scorched tractors, trucks, farm implements and rows of large drums stood a tall brick chimney, a lonely marker for the ruins.

"Not a thing was saved," Green said. "All the equipment was inside the plant, spray rigs and all. It's a terrible, terrible thing to see your dream go up in smoke. I had tears in my eyes and I noticed many of the huge crowd at the fire did, too. A lot of the people said it was a severe loss to the valley. It was such a beautiful place!"

Scorched Trees

Although the packing plant and adjoining supply building were destroyed, firemen were able to protect two nearby homes. Flames scorched fruit trees approximately 200 yards away.

The 140 acres of pear and some apple trees around the buildings had been leased. Green added he definitely is still in business and will have a packing plant available for handling fruit from all his old customers and any new ones.

Mrs. Claude Speegle, whose home is next door to the Stage Coach Orchards, Inc., phoned in the alarm. However, others may have, too, her husband said. The packing plant is outside all fire districts except that of the state forest patrol which does not have equipment to handle such a fire.

Sent Trucks

However, Medford, Jacksonville, Central Point Rural and the forest patrol each sent a truck to the fire. Early fire observers estimated it was about 30 minutes after the alarm was turned in at 8 p.m. that the first water was on the fire.

"My wife and I were reading when we heard a lot of honking on the road, then somebody knocked on the door," Speegle said.

"I thought there must be a heck of a party going on. When I answered the door somebody said, 'You have a terrific fire next door!' I rushed out and saw flames shooting up 20 feet. I rushed back in and my wife called all the different fire departments."

Dynamite Blast Said Cause of Airliner Crash

Washington —UPI— The Civil Aeronautics board said Saturday that a dynamite explosion definitely ripped apart a Continental Airlines 707 jet over Centerville, Iowa last May, killing all 45 persons aboard.

The announcement came in the wake of an FBI report that said a Kansas, Thomas G. Doty, bought some explosives not long before he boarded the big plane.

Sabotage had been suspected almost from the start as the cause of the May 22 crash. Leon Tanguay, acting director of the CAB's bureau of safety, said Saturday that FBI laboratory tests confirmed that dynamite was the explosive involved.

Investigators believed a saboteur set off the dynamite with a fuse placed in a toilet-towel receptacle in the jet's lavatory.

They believe he then returned to his seat to await the explosion. The 34-year-old Doty was reported to have carried at least $275,000 in flight insurance, naming his pregnant wife as beneficiary. His traveling companion on the flight, Mrs. Geneva Fraley, was insured for $75,000. Mrs. Fraley was Doty's business associate in a home furnishings firm they planned to start.

Doty, who was described as having studied use of explosives in the past, was facing an armed robbery charge in Kansas City, Mo., the plane's destination.

Union Announces Strike Plan to Major Airlines

Washington —UPI— The Flight Engineers association decided Saturday to stage a "selective" strike against one or more of three major U.S. airlines in defiance of President Kennedy's appeal for arbitration.

Union headquarters here said late Saturday night, however, that a decision had not been reached on which of the lines would be struck — Eastern Air Lines, Pan American World Airways or Trans World Airlines. A spokesman said an announcement probably would not be forthcoming until about 9 a.m. EDT today.

Involved are 1,700 flight engineers. Their two-year contract dispute centers around the duties and qualifications of the "third man" in a jet cockpit.

A presidential board has recommended that the crews be reduced from four to three and that the third man have both the skill of an engineer and the training of a pilot. The union claims this would displace its members and put them at the mercy of the large and more powerful airline pilots association.

Public Interest

The walkout decision defies the White House. The President had said a stoppage would be contrary to the public interest and strike a hard blow at the national economy.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg met during the morning with airline representatives. But no one was present from the flight engineers.

A labor department spokesman had no comment when informed of the strike decision.

The union said Friday that it was willing to have an arbitrator decide the economic issues but it stuck by its refusal to submit to arbitration the question of crew makeup on jetliners. This is the key issue in the 22-month dispute.

Pan American and Eastern turned down this approach Friday night. Union officials then held a series of meetings and telephone conferences Saturday which culminated in the strike announcement.

There was no immediate report on his condition, but the youth's father reported he was doing as well as could be expected.

The accident occurred at 12:15 p.m. on East Evans Creek rd. near Sykes Creek rd. in the Wimer area. Tucker was westbound on his motorcycle and the car, driven by Eugene Hiram Moore, 62, also of Rogue River, was eastbound.

The bird's talent won $250 for its owners, the Carleton Sandeen family, West Evans Creek rd., Rogue River. Holding the rooster is Carl Sandeen, 13. More than 2,500 people were on hand Saturday to listen to approximately 100 contestants crow for more than $400 in prize money.

'Geronimo' Named Winner in Annual Rogue River Event

Rogue River — "Geronimo," a sleek, bantam rooster entered in the tenth annual National Rooster Crowing contest here Saturday, crowed 63 times to win the $250 first prize.

The winning rooster is owned by the Carleton Sandeen family, West Evans Creek rd., Rogue River. The family won fifth place last year, but with a different bird.

Mayor Larry Sheehan estimated the attendance at more than 2,500 people. He noted that this was the largest crowd ever to attend the event.

Richard Niquette, general chairman of the Crow, said there were about 100 roosters entered into the contest. There were only two out-of-state entries — one from Shasta, and the other from Oakland, Calif. The Oakland entry, "Honest John," won $15 for being from the farthest distance. There were no international entries as in previous years.

Saturday activities also included a parade, the Huckleberry Finn contest, a concert, and an art exhibit.

30-Minute Period

Other winning roosters, the number of times they crowed in the 30-minute period, and their owners include "Chiang," 50, second, Cliff Green, Central Point; "Zeke," 48, third, Loran Fernald, Rogue River; "Beetlegrunt," 43, fourth, Ethel Slaughter, Grants Pass; and "Mickey," 41, fifth, Gary Osborn, Medford.

Besides the $250 first prize, $75 was given to the second place winner; $50, third; $35, fourth; and $25, fifth. Prize money and awards were donated by valley merchants through the Rogue River Chamber of Commerce.

Receiving $25 cash awards for the most unique cages were Rusty Randall of Rogue River, owner of "Silent Sam," and Candy Morasch of Grants Pass. Her entry was named "Emperor Shajahan."

Relatively Silent
"Rascal," last year's winner with reportedly 69 crows, dropped out of competition at 42 this year. A rooster named "Castro," in contrast to its Latin American counterpart, remained relatively silent through the whole affair, but managed to crow once.

Prior to the crowing contest, which started at noon, the winners of the Huckleberry Finn contest and the top entries in the parade were announced. Larry Hatch Jr., 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hatch Sr., of Rogue River, was crowned King of the Rooster Crow by Mayor Sheehan. Chosen second was Paul Fodge, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Fodge, also of Rogue River. Ronald Hatch, Larry's 5-year-old brother, was third. Fourteen youngsters were competing.

Terms Agreed on After 15 Days of Secret Meetings

Formal Declaration Scheduled Today

New York —UPI— The Secret Army Organization (OAS) and the Moslem nationalists have signed a peace treaty in Algeria, the American Broadcasting Co. reported Saturday night.

ABC news correspondent Sid Lazard reported from Algiers that the agreement is scheduled to be announced today by a high-ranking member of the OAS and a Moslem member of the provisional executive.

Agreement was reached, he said, after 15 days of secret negotiations when the Moslems agreed to three OAS demands:

—General amnesty in Algeria for all OAS members.
—Recognition by Moslems of the OAS as the representative organ of the European settler population.

—Participation by Europeans in the local police force, especially to patrol European neighborhoods.

Treaty Signed

Lazard said that most of the OAS military leaders agreed to abide by the peace treaty, signed by the OAS' civilian leadership and the Algerian nationalists. The agreement was signed in behalf of the OAS by Col. Yves Godard, considered to be the No. 2 man in the terrorist organization, Lazard said.

Secret army terrorists moved their operations to the foreign legion city of Sidi Bel Abbas Friday and Saturday. At the same time, they stepped up their drive to get Europeans out of the country before the July 1 independence vote.

On Friday, they set fire to the Sidi Bel Abbas courthouse, buildings housing the reconstruction ministry offices, and at least six schools.

Blast Smashed

They also dynamited the pumping station of the big Daguinah hydro-electric dam about 140 miles east of Algiers. The blast smashed the valves controlling the flow of water to the dam.

The OAS spread word in the western city of Oran that Europeans could leave for France and take their furniture and automobiles with them.

As the news spread that the OAS no longer would take reprisals against their departing fellow countrymen, long lines of cars formed outside the Oran docks for shipment to metropolitan France.

Nearly 4,000 Polio Doses Dispensed

A total of 3,937 doses of type 3 Sabin oral polio vaccine were administered in the makeup clinic in the Jackson county courthouse last week, according to Dr. W. J. Miller, chairman of the sponsoring Jackson County Medical Society.

The figure brings to 42,913 the number of persons who received the type 3 vaccine through the clinics June 9 and 10 and at the makeup clinic. Dr. Miller said 86,544 persons received types 1 and 3 vaccine since the program started last month.

It is estimated that some 3,000 persons started their vaccine program at the type 3 clinics, Dr. Miller said. Type 1 vaccine will be offered for these persons and others desiring to obtain the permanent polio protection at a special clinic at the court house on July 11.
