Perkins-France Ceremony Held in Portland Church

Miss Susan Jane France, Portland, became the bride of Gerald Keith Perkins, also of Portland in a double ring ceremony June 9 at the Portland First Methodist church. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. France, 1820 East Main street, Medford, and Mr. Perkins' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alva M. Perkins, formerly of Medford, now of Portland.

The Rev. Paul E. Peterson, minister of the Coos Bay Methodist church, officiated at the two o'clock afternoon rites, assisted by Dr. Laurence Nye, Portland First Methodist church.

Pink gladioli and carnations decorated the church for the wedding attended by 100 relatives and friends. Dr. Nye was soloist accompanied by Mrs. Nye.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel length gown of white nylon organza over satin fashioned with fitted bodice, shirred short sleeves and scoop neckline. The neckline and skirt were accented with lily of the valley edging and bow knots. Her elbow length veil of illusion was held by a lace and pearl crown and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Susan Leffler, Newberg, attended the bride. She wore an ice blue satin sheath dress and carried a bouquet of happiness roses. Little Karen Wilson, Portland, was flower girl. She wore a blue dress.

Joe Wilson, her brother, was ring bearer.

Larry Perkins, Ft. Benning, Ga., was best man for his brother and seating the guests were Willard Lilly, Medford, and Gerald Green, Portland. Candelighter was Russell France, Medford, brother of the bride.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Wilson, Portland.

The couple will be at home in Sandy, Ore., tomorrow after a trip to the Seattle World's fair. For traveling the bride wore a beige suit with pink accessories.

The bride attended South Eugene High school, Sacred Heart School of Nursing, Eugene, and was graduated this month from the University of Oregon Medical school in X-ray technology. Mr. Perkins is a graduate of Medford High school and Linfield college. He is vice president of Sandy Truck Lines Inc.

Medford Woman Home From Trip

Mrs. Mabel Poage, 145 South Ivy street, has returned from a three-week trip during which she attended the Seattle World's Fair and also visited her former home in Powell, Wyo.

In Seattle Mrs. Poage was the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Poage and family. Her son is an engineer with the Bonneville Power company in Seattle.

In Powell, Wyo., she visited her brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Buchanan, and other relatives. During her stay there, 28 of her friends, persons she had known while living there, honored her at a morning coffee hour. The event was held in the home of Mrs. Harry Fulton, and cohostesses were Mrs. Buchanan and her daughter, Mrs. Darwin Franklin.

Traveler Home From Island Trip

Mrs. Maude Ottomann, 1048 West Thirteenth street, arrived home last week after being away for five weeks, two of which she spent in Hawaii with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. DuRose of Corte Madera, Calif.

The group stayed a week in Honolulu on Oahu island, and during the remainder of the time they visited and toured the islands of Hawaii, Kauai and Maui.

Before arriving in Medford, Mrs. Ottomann spent three weeks at the DuRose home in Corte Madera.

Beeswax Important In Making Cosmetics

Kington, R.I. — Bees do more than make honey. They help make women beautiful.

The cosmetics industry is the biggest single user of beeswax in the nation. It's an ingredient in face creams, lotions, ointments, lipstick, rouges and other cosmetics.

This country produces four to five million pounds of beeswax a year, said Elaine Stedman, home demonstration agent of the University of Rhode Island. But the United States has to import millions of additional pounds.

To Observe Anniversary

Central Point — The 65th anniversary of the founding of the Central Point Woman's Relief corps, auxiliary to the William H. Harrison post, Grand Army of the Republic, will be observed Tuesday, June 19. The group will meet for a noon cookout luncheon at the Veterans Administration domiciliary at White City.

Veterans at the domiciliary will join the group for the observance and members of the General Logan corps from Grants Pass have been invited.

A brief meeting will be conducted before noon at the home of Mrs. Wallace McDowell, before the group leaves for White City.

Miss Donahue Is Assigned To Foreign Flights

Miss Patricia Donahue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis Donahue, 1687 Spring street, a stewardess with Trans-World Airlines, this month made her first international flight. Through the month of June she will make flights to Frankfurt, Germany, leaving New York City each Saturday.

In Germany she has a 33-hour stopover when she stays at Bad Homburg.

The stewardess has been on domestic flights throughout this country.

She recently completed her language requirements for the international flights and received international flight training in May in Kansas City. In New York, she is a roommate of Miss Jacqueline Colton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Colton, 1619 East Main street.

Miss Donahue is a 1957 Medford High school graduate and also had attended Southern Oregon college and the University of Oregon, and before becoming a stewardess lived in Honolulu for six months.

She will continue making international flights, though each month it may be into different countries.

Reno Party Held at Villa

About 150 guests attended a "Reno party" given June 9 by residents of the Elmore Trailer villa, 1059 Morrow road. Harvey W. T. chairman for the event, was assisted by committees.

Preceding the party a swimming and diving exhibition was given in the villa pool arranged for through Ken Lyons, Medford park and recreation director. Mrs. Lyons also was guest as were members of the exhibition team.

A buffet dinner was served and the evening was spent playing games.

Format for the party was from a kit obtained from Harold's club in Reno which consisted of banners, posters and games.

A soft drink bar was set up with root beer, orange drinks and fruit punch served from bottles bearing liquor labels.

The recreation room where the party was held was decorated to simulate a Reno casino. W. R. Johnston is the present "mayor" of the villa and Mr. Wyatt, party chairman, is a former "mayor."

Guests Visit From Honolulu

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hesdorfer, 2414 Hillcrest road, had as their guests last week Mrs. Fred H. Kanne and her nephew, Wilbur Colwell, both of Honolulu, Hawaii. Mrs. Kanne has visited here for several summers.

During their stay Mrs. Maize Daily and Mrs. M. M. Morris entertained at a cocktail hour in their honor in the family home, on Hillcrest road, followed by dinner at the Rogue Valley Country club.

Mrs. Kanne plans to return in September for a month's visit.

Veni-Vidi

By MARGARET SCHULER

Rome — Rome on this seventh of June is full of sunshine, and I am happy about it because from Medford, Ore., comes this day a friend of mine. I rather wish the city authorities had known it so they could have cleaned the place a bit.

Elections are in the offing here, and Roman electioneering is curious. They have various ways of adjuring the voters to "vota." The most fascinating one to me is the tossing of handbills — tons of them — into the streets from automobiles. They flutter and fall where they may. When the wind catches them, they scurry in flocks to snug corners to lie. Communists, Monarchists, Socialists all together one on top of the other.

Some of these adjulatory appeals are pink, some blue, or red, or yellow. But they all say "vota" for someone. I haven't seen any one pick one up, or glance down to learn about it, but they represent, each one, one of the 30 political parties.

Also, all over the city are huge lettered banners, hanging stretched across the streets, telling the populace to "Vota Socialist," "Vota Democratic," "Vota Fascist" (only they call this last one by initials). Tourists from the states must be a little startled to see these big banners in front of their hotels urging a vote for communism.

Remarkable, too, are the billboards. Weeks ago, workmen began building a gargantuan scaffolding of heavy iron piping, the long pieces put together with the things plumbers use. These are as high as 40 feet, and on this framework, in primary colors, and with party symbols and letters are more opinions about voting. There are yet more methods of handling billboards. These are long frames instead of high, and they are placed along the edge of the sidewalks, so that as you walk along the street you can not see out into the street. You see the bare side of the board. You must be in a car going unmy miles an hour to learn whom and what to vote for.

Gardens and palaces seem to be spared, and I haven't seen any propaganda in the Vatican or the Forum. These elections, they say are important. The Fascist party, shockingly enough, seems to be carrying on a tremendous campaign.

Sunday, it will all be over, and Rome will again be its impervious eternal self.

Dorothy Elhart Receives Degree

The 18th annual commencement exercises at the University of Oregon school of nursing, Portland was held June 7 in the medical school auditorium. A total of 81 nurses received bachelor of science degrees and 10 received their master of science degrees.

Ashland Catholic Church Scene of Marriage Rites

Ashland — Mr. and Mrs. George Harold Moses will make their home at 4069 South Pacific highway, Medford, following their return from a wedding trip to Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Moses is the former Alyene Kay Siebenlist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Siebenlist, 873 Glendale avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moses, 910 Glendale avenue, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. William Walsh officiated for the wedding held June 9 at Our Lady of the Mountain Catholic church in Ashland. Organists were the Misses Marilyn Fellars and Teresa Krug.

The bride wore a white lace and chiffon frock fashioned with lace and shirred chiffon bodice, elbow length sleeves and round neck which formed a vee in back. The full gathered skirt was afternoon length and her short veil was held by a pearl and crystal crown. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis encircling a white orchid. Mr. Siebenlist escorted his daughter to the altar.

Miss Barbara Siebenlist was maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Dana Smith was bridesmaid. They wore pink cotton batiste frocks with embroidered bodices and pink headresses which held circular veils. Their bouquets were white carnations.

Glen Moses served as best man for his brother. Seating the guests were Harold Bartol and Dane Smith.

Baskets of pink gladioli and stock decorated the church for the wedding attended by 110 relatives and friends. The double ring rites were held at two o'clock in the afternoon and were followed by a reception at St. Anne's hall.

Mrs. Harold Bartol cut and served the wedding cake and Lee Gettling presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Robert Burke poured coffee.

The bride is a graduate of Ashland High school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ashland High school and is a student at Southern Oregon college. He is employed at Cubby's Drive-in. For traveling to Seattle the bride wore a black and white stripe shirtwaist frock with black accessories.

Luncheon Is Slated

A picnic luncheon will be served at a meeting of Electa Social club June 22 at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ray Newman, 407 Newtown street. Those who attend should take a covered dish for the luncheon, and table service.

Miss Erb, Lary Smith Married

Miss Mary Ann Erb and Lary Don Smith were married in a candlelight ceremony June 2 at 7 o'clock in the evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Pritchard in the Epworth Methodist church in Fallon, Nev.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Erb of Fallon, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, 3637 Old Stage road, Medford. Mr. Erb gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Keith Holland, Carson City, Nev., sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and Gary Von Smith, Eugene, identical twin brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Stephen Erb, Yerington, Nev., a brother of the bride and Bruce Gardella, Reno, were ushers.

The bride's street length dress of white satin was designed with a bell skirt and sleeves, and her elbow length veil was held by a pearl crown. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid.

The matron of honor wore a matching blue frock of silk and she carried an old fashioned white carnation bouquet.

The altar was decorated with white iris and peonies.

Mrs. Roger Mills furnished the wedding music. The bridegroom and his brother both sang solos.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the church rooms.

The couple is living in Reno. Both are students at the University of Nevada and the bridegroom also attended George Fox college in Newburg.

The couple recently visited in Medford with the bridegroom's parents who were hosts June 8 for a reception in their honor. The event was held in the Friends church at 8 o'clock in the evening. For the occasion the bride wore her wedding dress. About 50 persons attended.
