

Lady Lions To Pay For Boy's Lessons

The final meeting of the year for the Medford Lions Club auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Tomjack, 918 Grant avenue, Mrs. W. E. Ashton presided. Prior to the meeting a potluck dinner was served on the patio beside the swimming pool.

Each committee chairman was asked to give an accounting of the work completed during the year. Mrs. Anthony Capello reported on the ways and means committee, outlining the fund raising projects and the sums collected. Mrs. Clyde Webb reported on the hospitality committee and Mrs. Eston Humphrey on the historian books. In the president's report, Mrs. Ashton expressed her appreciation for the cooperation of all the members, and also her regret that the annual Christmas project with the Medford firemen had come to an end during her term of office.

In the absence of Mrs. John Henson, Mrs. Tomjack made a report on the delegates to the state convention at Salem. The members who had attended the convention had taken that opportunity to meet the partially blind boy whom the organization adopted a year ago. The superintendent of the school advised Mrs. Henson that the boy was talented in music and since the school had instructed him as far as they could, perhaps the Lady Lions would be interested in furthering his education along that line. It was agreed that one of the club projects for the new year beginning in September, 1962 would be to pay the cost of music lessons with an outside teacher for a period of at least one year.

Mrs. Capello presented the president's gift which was a vase of coin glass, and Mrs. Ashton presented silver bonbon dishes to her team of officers.

Among the guests at the golden anniversary tea which Talent Federated Women's club gave June 12 were three officers of First district, Oregon Federation of Women's clubs. They were (left to right) Mrs. William Harms, new district president; Mrs. Allen Cooley, secretary and Mrs. Claude Axford, corresponding secretary, all of Grants Pass. Mrs. Harms presented past president's pins during the afternoon.

All Growers Invited to Enter Show

Anyone may enter roses in the coming rose show whether a member of the Medford Rose society or not. The society states that any gardener who has roses is invited to take them to the show and "added you might take home a ribbon or two, or even a trophy."

Committee members will be on hand to assist those who are exhibiting for the first time and urge all those who have roses to take them to the show this year. There are classes of everyone, including junior rosarians. Entries will be accepted beginning at 7 a.m. and must be in place for judging by 10 a.m. The show will be held at the Senior High school cafeteria on Saturday, June 23.

The following information will be useful to those entering for the first time: Select the buds several days in advance of the show, cut them the evening before the show and immediately plunge them in water up to their blooms and leave overnight to "harden." Be sure to label the roses as you cut, as they must be named. Choose buds on which the sepals are just beginning to fall back. Roses for judging should be 1/2 to 3/4 open, or in the most perfect phase of possible beauty. Cutting buds that are fairly well advanced toward opening may cause them to be too fully open by the time they are judged.

Containers Furnished The Rose society furnishes containers for all specimens except miniatures. Cut with stems long enough to be in proportion to the bloom. Be sure the foliage is free of insects and spray damage. Hybrid tea roses must be disbudded; all others are shown as naturally grown. Show schedules are available at Lawrence's Jewelers, Monarch Seed and Feed store or Elton's Garden Supply; study the various classifications and general rules, take your roses to the show early.

The perfect rose has not as yet been grown, the committee points out. There are always defects and blooms entered in rose shows are judged on the degree of imperfection. The ones with the fewest faults place highest. If your entries are fresh, have good color and form with attractive clean foliage, on stems in proportion to the size of the bloom, you might win a ribbon. If you don't rate a ribbon, your roses are a very important part in the overall ensemble that makes a good rose show.

The schedule is divided into color classifications for hybrid teas and floribundas. Blooms of Peace, Garden Party, Korde's Perfecta, Sutter's Gold, Pink Favorite and Duet are entered in a special division. Decorative or garden roses are in a class by themselves as are miniature roses and climbers. Only one section is reserved for American Rose society members, all others are open for public participation. A number of awards are to be given for old fashioned rose bouquets.

Classes Listed Classes for floral arrangements featuring roses include: Tea table, coffee table, arrangement depicting a hymn, miniature arrangement and small arrangement featuring small roses. One class calls for arrangements using weathered wood, one in a silver container, and an arrangement in any other metal container.

Jackson county garden clubs are invited to enter arrangements and their section includes arrangement in a tall vase or bottle, one suitable for patio, and an arrangement depicting a song with the word "rose" in the title.

A new division for ARS members only featuring arrangements of roses is included this year and it is hoped members who have never exhibited arrangements will enter in this class.

A silver tea will be held in connection with the rose show. Mrs. Vaughn Quackenbush, chairman of the tea committee, requests all rose society members to furnish three dozen cookies.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Arnold Bohnert, telephone 664-1154 or Mrs. Olin J. Poe, 535-1220.

CHATTER FROM MANN'S

It is that time of the year again. Just about the time we are all set for summer clothes, manufacturers invite us to Fall Openings. It is a little confusing to sit in an air-conditioned showroom all afternoon, looking at fur trimmed coats, then walk out in 80 degree temperature. But since it takes time to make up fall merchandise, orders must be placed in advance.

Hundreds of buyers from big and little stores are doing just this, looking at back-to-school sweaters and skirts, coats, suits, and dresses. It is interesting to watch people at market, we all start out early in the morning. A very smartly dressed, efficient looking group of females wearing tailored suits or dresses, feminine looking hats, carrying important looking portfolios, very confidently walking in and out of showrooms.

By the end of the day you see a different picture. Can spot a buyer a mile away. She has a worried look, little wrinkles at the forehead, her white gloves are no longer spotless, she has been handling the materials probably to see if they are gold filled! She is carrying that little valise-covered hat because her head is so full of figures, she cannot stand anything to touch it. Nine chances to ten, she is mumbling something like "Did I buy too much or too little?"

But like the proverbial saying about grease paint and the theater, ink and the newspaper, once a buyer, always a buyer - we will probably be crippling up to market when we are eighty, trying to decide whether to buy fur stoles or sun suits!

Since summer has just barely started, we purchased some hot weather fill-ins and we would like very much to show them to you. If you want the garment to be handled without care, we suggest you purchase an Arnel Jersey. The coffee striped and white shirtwaist style with flat pleated skirt. With it with white or bone accessories, it will take you places and the price is only 11.95. The print scoop neck in black and white can double for a party. See them all at Mann's in the Center of Medford!
