Hints Offered Home Buyers by Bank Association

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS
United Press International
New York—(AP)—Almost 60 per cent of American non-farm families own their own homes today and each year almost 2.5 million families buy a house.

If it is your turn this year, the American Bankers association has eight house-buying hints to help insure success.

Dr. Kurt F. Flexner, director of the ABA mortgage finance committee, stresses that a little advance planning can spell the difference between proud ownership and years of regret.

He advises: Determine first the desires and needs of your family. Plan ahead. Consider long-range requirements. Will you need more room as your family grows? Will the house still be in style 20 years from now? Be prepared to compromise, however. You probably won't find a home meets all your requirements and your price range as well.

Read up on home construction, design, layout and landscaping. You can get a lot of good ideas from national home magazines, the local newspaper and building trade publications.

Use Care

Select the neighborhood with care. Pick one that will give you a thrill of pride every time you approach, but don't select a neighborhood that's too expensive, and over your head. Trying to keep up with the Joneses can be disastrous. Check school, fire and police protection, place of worship, shopping, recreation or social facilities and transportation, especially the cost of commuting to work. Consider the possibilities of excessive traffic noise, smoke or unpleasant odors, and zoning restrictions. Finally, figure assessment, taxes, utility and the cost of other community services. But remember a wholesome environment in which to rear your family sometimes is worth certain inconveniences.

Consider the homestead. Ask yourself if the property is attractive. Does it afford privacy? Are the grounds large enough? Do walks provide access to front and service entrances? Does driveway give easy access to garage? Is the lot sloped for satisfactory drainage? What about planting? Is there enough top soil? Are all areas around foundations filled in? Are there depressions or signs of excessive ground settlement? Where is the sewer connection? If a septic tank or cesspool is used, where is it? Are there setback restrictions, zoning ordinances or easements?

Consider construction. Don't trust your own judgment. Hire a building expert or independent appraiser to check. The small cost is a good investment.

Upkeep Varies

Mark maintenance costs. Keep in mind tomorrow's bills. Upkeep varies with age, size, location and construction of a house. If the house is not new, ask the owner for his utility, tax, insurance and repair bills for the past year.

Review resale value. Buy your home mainly for family comfort and enjoyment. Don't consider it primarily as an investment.

But don't overlook resale value either. Consider good basic design that will outlive temporary trends.

Figure finances. Ask yourself three questions: How much house can I afford? How much can I spend on housing each month? How large a mortgage will I need? If you are a first-time home buyer, you may have trouble figuring out the answers. Talk things over with your local banker, for houses cost money and money is banking's business.

Slayton Said Playing Important Space Role

Washington—(AP)—Space agency director James E. Webb said Tuesday that astronaut Donald K. Slayton was playing "a very vital role" regardless of whether he makes an orbital flight.

Slayton was grounded by the space agency in March because of an irregular heart beat. Dr. Paul Dudley White, heart specialist who treated President Eisenhower, examined Slayton last week but Webb said he had not yet made his report.

Cuban Wells Suffer Low Production Rate

New York—(AP)—Oil Facts magazine says since Castro's Cuba confiscated private oil facilities in late 1960, the government has drilled only 13 oil wells and none is commercially successful.

It also said thousands of Cuban vehicles are out of service because of a lack of spare parts, and lubricants and erratic supply of quality gasoline.
