

Mrs. Kennedy Dunked in Pool

Washington—(AP)—Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, wife of the attorney general, fell into the family pool during an outdoor dinner Saturday night, it was learned Wednesday.

So did a couple of guests, Special Presidential Assistant Arthur Schlesinger and Mrs. Spencer Davis, a close friend of Mrs. Kennedy.

A source close to the family said Mrs. Kennedy, in full evening attire, plunged into the water after a leg of her chair slipped off a plank placed across the pool's edges. The same thing happened later to Schlesinger and Mrs. Davis. All three changed clothes and returned to the party.

But another guest, astronaut John Glenn, managed to keep his chair upright although its legs were but three inches from the edge of the plank.

The seating arrangement was necessary because with 300 guests, there barely was room in the yard of the McLean, Va., estate to situate all the tables and chairs.

NEW CONCEPT IN TRANSPORT—This new Navy vehicle is known as the Airoll, a new concept in off-the-road transport. The free-rolling tires mounted on the endless chain can take the 19,000-pound vehicle over ordinarily impossible terrain, such as deep mud, heavy snow and watery swampland. It has 16 tires on each track. (UPI)

Try
New Crescent Original Dill Salt

A new, exclusive Crescent creation inspires many delightful flavor ideas. Mix it with melted butter to make a sauce for green vegetables. Sprinkle on fresh sliced cucumbers or tomatoes. Try it in cole slaw or potato salad. Adds wondrous flavor to seafoods, meats and eggs, too!

This Week's Ranch and Modern Home

Regardless of how exceptionally designed and well liked a floor plan may be, many home buyers would never build a home unless they also have an outstanding exterior. This is the way it should be. Here is a home that completely meets all design requirements — both interior and exterior.

Many homes have been built that have impressive floor plans and which can be strikingly decorated. Yet, the exteriors have obviously been given little thought and have not been properly planned.

Gain New Life
Building materials often gain new life and meaning when they are used in conjunction with other materials. Here we show a few of the many and wonderful ways to add extra beauty and value to your home by careful exterior design.

Used brick adapts itself to many types of architecture but none so well as the rustic-ranch style home. It has a fine overall texture and complements both the wood siding and cedar shake roofing. Used brick has been used here in the chimney, as veneer, and to form a planter.

Turned posts extend from the planter to support the roof which continues past the eave overhang at the entry. This better protects the front landing and entry from the weather. The low roof also adds design interest at just the right spot while this roof and the extension of the garage roof form a frame for the living room windows.

Diamond Pane Windows
Diamond pane windows — which are available in either wood or aluminum — have been used exclusively in the front exterior. To tie in with the window design and to help provide light for the entry, a diamond-pane, cross-buck entry door has been specified. A specially designed window shutter has been used. This same design was repeated in the garage door and in the hand sawn barge rafters of the gable extending over the bedroom wing.

The roof gables extend out from the walls at an angle and make the house look wider.

To enhance the appeal of this home, a low pitched gable roof was located over the bedroom wing. This breaks up the monotony of the single ridge of the house. A light fixture hangs from a beam and supporting hand sawn brace which projects from the gable end.

Both horizontal and board-and-batt siding have been used to good advantage so that the home is very attractive from any angle.

Imaginative thinking in the layout of the floor plan plus a wealth of notable and ingenious details adds up to elegant living that will meet the requirements of the most exacting family.

Complete working drawings for this plan can be purchased at a cost of $7.50 for the first set and $3 for each additional set when ordered at the same time. This plan will be available at these prices until Oct. 17. Please allow two to three weeks for delivery.

If the above home does not entirely meet with your approval, a new home plan book, Ranch and Modern Homes, can be purchased for $2. Send all orders for either plans or books to Hiawatha Estes, post office box 464-T, Northridge, Calif.
