

Eugene Takes On Salem Tonight In Pro Baseball at White City

Darrell (Pete) Peters, 21-year-old rookie and bonus player, is scheduled to pitch this evening for the Salem Dodgers when they play the Eugene Emeralds at Memorial field, White City.

Paul Arneson may be the Eugene twirler for the tilt.

The clubs clash at 8 p.m. on the Veteran Administration diamond in a regular counting game of the Northwest league, a Class B professional circuit.

Peters, considered valuable property by the Los Angeles Dodgers, is said to work in the classic style of Warren Spahn. He utilizes a big kick and has "beautiful" form. He enters the trenches with an 8-2 record for the Capital city team. Peters has pitched 79 innings, struck out 64 batters and walked 21. He has yielded 29 earned runs.

Arneson and Peters last saw duty for their respective teams last Thursday. Each picked up a victory. For Arneson it was his first Emerald win after being charged with three defeats. He has given up 41 hits, 26 runs and 10 bases on balls while fanning 26. His earned run average is 6.21.

Major League Ties

Salem comes here in third place in the league, three games behind the loop-pacing Wenatchee Chiefs who beat the Dodgers 7 to 5 and 2 to 1 yesterday. The Emeralds are the cellar team. They fell 5 to 3 and 4 to 1 in Sunday games with the Tri-City Braves. Eugene, however, took three of four games from the Wenatchee club last week.

Both of tonight's foes are associated with major league clubs. Eugene has its agreement with the San Francisco Giants and Salem, as indicated has its with the LA Dodgers.

Salem leads the Northwest league in home runs. The club is not consistent in its hitting but when the Dodgers do connect the ball often takes the long ride. The Dodgers have real good speed and fans tonight could see some wide open base running. Outfielder Vic Pangel leads the league in base stealing. Salem has a "sweet" fielding" shortstop in Ralph Plumlee, a high-priced bonus player. So far, he is not a great hitter, but he is expected to move into a high class of ball next season if he maintains his current batting mark of .261.

Eugene has a highly regarded bonus player in catcher Dick Dietz.

This will be the first of two games the Emeralds and Dodgers will play here. They collide at White City again in August. Eugene will play two other games at the VA field in August.

Play at the southern Oregon location has the backing of Northwest league officials who are ambitious to stimulate interest in Class B pro ball in the Rogue Valley. They are giving sports fans of this area a further sample after drawing large crowds at two turnouts at White City last year.

Central Point Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsor of the game tonight and its share of proceeds will go to the Crater high stadium fund. Tickets will be on sale at the gate.

Dodger statistics through last Thursday showed Wade Arnold, a catcher, leading the team in hitting with .319. Bill Kelso, another catcher, sported .308. Billy Ray Jones, outfielder, .306, and Tom Richards, outfielder, .296. Pacing Eugene were Wally Cockerell, outfielder, with .312, Carlos Dore, outfielder, with .298 and Dietz with .290.

Stan Wasiak skips the Dodgers. Bud Byerly is the Eugene manager.

Grants Pass scored

144, Orseburg 138 and Klamath Falls 28. Medford city recreation department sponsored the meet. Durham, N. C. — (UPI) — Hous-ton medalist Kermit Zarley won the individual NCAA golf championship Saturday afternoon with an upset 5-4, 36-hole victory over his team's captain and two-time all-American, Homero Blancas.

Zarley, 20-year-old junior and the son of a Yakima, Wash., restaurant owner, had a five-up lead after the 32nd hole over his older friend and rival, to take collegiate golf's highest individual honor.

Wenatchee Rides Crest In NW Loop

United Press International

Bill Cowan bagged his 21st home run Sunday as Wenatchee moved to the top of the Northwest League by sweeping a doubleheader from Salem 7-5 and 2-1.

The Yakima Bears, who had been leading the pack, fell one game back and split a pair with Lewiston, dropping the first to the Broncs 2-1 but taking the afterpiece 6-0.

Tri-City took two at Eugene, 5-3 and 4-1.

Heads Circuit

Cowan leads the league in homers and picked up his 21st solo, in the fifth inning of the opener. A two-run triple in the first inning of the nightcap gave Wenatchee the verdict in the nightcap.

Joe Pulco pitched a nifty one-hitter to stop the Emeralds in the nightcap and a two-run homer by Ron O'Shields gave Tri-City the first-game decision.

Don Marrs started Lewiston rolling to victory in the opener with a solo in the first inning, but Yakima took advantage of three Bronco errors in the fifth inning of the nightcap to score three.

The Bears picked up three more runs in the seventh, one on a wild pitch and two driven in on a single by George Copacz to take the late one.

San Diego Padres Hold Shaky Lead

By G. W. SCHULTZ
United Press International

The San Diego Padres are going upstairs in the Pacific Coast league, even if it's a long, tough climb.

The Padres moved to a shaky first place Sunday by splitting a pair with the Portland Beavers, who ended a Padre seven-game win streak in the process.

The Padres took the first game 11-8, but a determined Beaver club pocketed the second contest 9-4.

Salt Lake, long the leader, slipped one-half game behind when the Bees took the opener of a doubleheader at Vancouver 5-4, but let the Mounties bounce back for a 4-3 triumph.

The Seattle Rainiers continued a downward escalator ride to fourth place as the league-trailing Spokane Indians buffeted the Rainiers 2-0 and 8-4 to sweep their five-game series.

The Hawaii Islanders grabbed a 1-0 second game win over Tacoma in their doubleheader after the Giants had taken the first game 2-1 for three straight triumphs.

The Padres got away with six unearned runs in the first two innings off Beaver starter Bob Giggie in the opener.

That was good enough to overcome four Portland homers, two of them by manager Les Peden that were worth six runs.

But the Beavers got theirs in the nightcap. Padre starter Joe Nuxhall saw too many Beavers too fast and was sent to the showers in the third after Portland scored six runs off six hits.

A constant pursuit by the Mounties that included homers by Joe Taylor and Ray Looney failed to catch Salt Lake in the opener, but a two-run homer by Chuck Weatherspoon put the Mounties ahead in the nightcap. Al Schroll led the contest in the late innings by containing the Bees to eight hits.

John Werhas led the Indians in their sweep over the Rainiers with two solo homers in the nightcap. Right-hander Bill Bethel shut out the Seattle club in the opener on four hits.

Joe Cardenal lined one over the wall on the second pitch off Hawaii starter Ben Johnson in the opener, and the Giants sewed it up in the third when Gaylord Perry came home.

Islander Erv Palica loosed a one-hitter in the nightcap to turn the trick on Tacoma.

Dairy Maids Divide Eugene Games; Play Florists on Tuesday

Rogue Valley Dairy Maids split a Northwest Women's Softball league pair of games and lost a practice game at Eugene in Saturday and Sunday play. They now await tougher competition on Tuesday night, when they will encounter the high-powered Ery Lind Florists of Portland.

The Tuesday doublebill will get under way at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial field, White City. Those scuffles will be league games.

Rogue Valley will catch the Florists as they near the end of an extended barnstorming tour which has taken the Portland team to Utah, Arizona and California.

Eugene McCullough Chain Saw whipped the Maids 3 to 1 in loop play on Saturday. Rogue Valley won the Sunday mix 4 to 0. A five-inning just-for-fun scrape was taken by the Sawyers 3 to 2 on Saturday.

The Maids now own a league record of 4-6. League standings are not available.

Rogue Valley garnered its lone run and lone hit in the second inning of the counting game on Saturday. Bernice Bigham walked, advanced on a miscue and was singled home by Yvonne McIvor. Eugene packed its tallies into the third panel on a base on balls, two errors, a fielder's choice and hits by Millie Powell and Mooreen Larson.

Winning pitcher Jackie Rice walked four and struck out eight. Pat Barron threw three-hit ball for Rogue Valley, walking three and whiffing seven.

The Maids' two markers in the second Saturday fray were on two errors, a walk and a single by Glenda Hull. Eugene runs, all in the bottom of the fifth stanza, were on a hit by Rice and all three Maid errors. Eugene kept the Maid scoring down despite eight walks given up by Carolyn Jones who fanned one batter. RV's Doris Hickson issued no free passes and struck out one batter.

Yesterday, Jean Main knocked in two runs in the second inning when her hit followed a walk and error. A base on balls, a groundout and a single by Nadine Brood put over a fifth inning tally. A base on balls and misplay got the other score in the seventh. Ellen Callaghan shut out the Saw team on four hits. She walked two and whiffed one. Nancy Welborn, for Eugene, allowed two hits and four free passes. She recorded one strikeout.

Louise Mazzuca, a no-hit pitcher of national stature,
