

Mobilization Reported in Communist China

WAREHOUSE BURNS—This is all that was left of the Sears warehouse in White City after the building and contents were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. L. C.

Lisenbee, chief of the Central Point Rural Fire department, called it a total loss. The fire was reported at 2:54 p.m. Its cause was unknown.

Lake Camp Sites Being Expanded; Other Work Done

The camp ground area is being expanded at Howard Prairie lake and a winter toboggan run is almost completed there, according to Neil Ledward, Jackson county parks and recreation director.

Thirty new camping units are planned at the lake, not all will be in this season, the parks director said this morning. This will bring the total camp sites available to approximately 105.

Work on a toboggan run near the concession building is almost completed. During the winter, the concession building will be open and a man kept at the lake all winter.

By spraying and scraping it may be possible to keep a rink area cleared for ice skating on the lake, he said. Skating has been popular at the lake the last two winters.

New Picnic Tables
Thirty new picnic tables have been installed in the free day use area, Ledward said. County road crews are oiling roads in the Howard Prairie area.

Emigrant lake has about eight camping units, the parks director said, and about 44 picnic tables. Fifteen more tables are planned.

There have been good week end crowds at both lakes, Ledward said. The Savage Archery club, Ashland, has a public range at the west arm of Emigrant near the Green Springs highway, he added.

Union Sued by Klamath Firemen

Portland—UPI—A $175,000 damage suit was filed here Monday against the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers by seven Klamath Falls firemen.

The firemen charged they were suspended improperly by the union.

The controversy stems from regulations which penalize any employee for working more than 3,000 miles in one month. Any work beyond 3,000 miles may result in two days suspension for each 100 miles over the limit, on union orders.

All seven men work on the Klamath Falls to Crescent Lake run. They said only eight of 13 firemen who worked over the limit on that run were suspended.

The complainants are E. E. Keck, C. H. Skinner Jr., James A. McClain, Ronald D. Bechtold, V. R. Dalton, Corman Smith and B. L. Whitt.

Passenger Traffic At Airport Might Double in 5 Years

The number of air passengers served at the Medford municipal airport will more than double by 1967, according to the 1962 National Airport Plan, recently released by the Federal Aeronautics agency.

Present annual air passenger service at the airport, according to the report, is about 57,000, which is expected to rise to about 120,000 in the next five years.

Because of the expected increase in use, the report suggests several improvements at the airport in its recommended airport development five-year plan.

Runway Extension
The runway, taxiway and apron at the airport will all have to be extended, according to the report. The longest runway at the airport now is 5,419 feet. This will have to be lengthened to about 6,100 feet to make it capable of accommodating the largest aircraft expected to be using it.

By 1967, the Boeing 727, a four-engine, turboprop aircraft. The report also suggests the necessity of further land acquisition to expand the airport, widening existing taxiways, and making improvements in the lighting and fencing facilities.

Medford municipal airport is classified as a "Small Hub" type facility, the designation given to those communities which originate from one-twentieth of one per cent to one-fourth of one per cent of the nation's air passengers.

Pendleton was also classified as a small hub, while Portland was designated as a medium hub in the report.

16 Acres Burned In Grass Fires

More than 16 acres were burned in four separate grass and brush fires in Jackson and Josephine counties, the state forestry department reported today.

Biggest loss was in a fire in Avery gulch, 2 1/2 miles west of Merlin, where 15 acres burned. The fire, reported about 3 p.m., was blamed on a careless smoker.

One acre burned on the island in the middle of Howard Prairie lake. Forestry department men borrowed a boat to get to the fire. It also was blamed on a careless smoker, and broke out about noon.

Half an acre between Interstate Highway 5 and the railroad tracks east of the city of Rogue River burned, also about noon. The fire was blamed on sparks from a nearby mill burner.

A tenth of an acre burned near Selma early yesterday afternoon. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Arraignment Due For Medford Man

Portland—UPI—A Medford man accused of practicing an unorthodox way of doubling his money was scheduled to be arraigned here today.

Rodney F. Davis, 23, is accused of manufacturing bogus bills by splitting $1 and $20 notes and attaching the face of one to the back of the other, and vice versa, thus obtaining $40 on a $21 investment.

Portland Secret Service agent Frank Kliney said Davis was arrested by Central Point police after a grocery clerk refused one of the bills and called police.

Angry Protests Launched Against Supreme Court's Decision on Prayers

Washington—UPI—The Supreme Court's ruling against officially prescribed prayers in public schools touched off a barrage of congressional protest today and constitutional amendments were offered to overturn the decision.

Rep. Roy A. Taylor (D-N.C.) told the House he had dropped in the hopper an amendment specifically to legalize prayer and Bible reading in public schools. Rep. Frank J. Becker (R-N.Y.) said he was drawing up a similar constitutional amendment, and he called for fast House action to approve it. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.) announced that he was introducing in the Senate a constitutional amendment that would affirm the right of schools to make available to students periods for prayer or religious observance.

In the House, member after member rose to denounce the court's ruling, which held that reading of an official prayer in New York public schools violated a constitutional ban against establishment of a religion.

Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy (D-Miss.) said the decision was further evidence that the high court has power to destroy the country. He called it shocking to the Free World and pleasing only to "a few atheists" and world communists.

Wants Court Curbed
"If there remains any doubt in anybody's mind that the court should be trimmed down in power Monday's decision should have removed it," Abernethy said.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said the decision was in line with others handed down by the court recently, and said it was Congress' own fault that nothing had been done about it.

In the Senate, Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga.) said the ruling was "an outrageous edict which has numbed the conscience and shocked the highest sensibilities of the nation."

Talmadge said "the Supreme Court violated every tenet of American law and every principle of the spirituality of man."

"It has dealt a blow to the faith of every believer in a Supreme Being," Talmadge said, "and it has given aid and comfort to the disciples of atheism by whatever name they call themselves."

Ruling Changes America
In a bitter attack on the Supreme Court, Talmadge said the justices have sought to change the American form of government by receding alien meanings into the Constitution.

"But never in the wildest of their excesses," he said, "have they gone as far as they did on Monday."

The reaction of religious leaders to the ruling ranged from approbation to shock and dismay. The president of the American Jewish committee, A. M. Sonnabend of Boston, welcomed the ruling as a blow in behalf of "the basic constitutional principle of separation of church and state."

The Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, Francis Cardinal Spellman, said he was "shocked and frightened" by a decision that "strikes at the very heart of the Godly tradition in which America's children have for so long been raised."

Pro and Con
Protestants lined up on both sides of the question. In Washington, Dr. C. Emanuel Carlson, executive director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, said he was not disturbed by the elimination of "required prayers" from schools because he has never felt that rote recital of such prayers has any real religious value for children.

But the Rev. Dr. Harold R. Albert, president of the Pittsburgh area Council of Churches, said any court decision which has the effect of "subtracting religious expression" from American life is a step in "a disastrous direction."

The high court's 6-1 ruling was handed down Monday. It dealt specifically with a 22-word non-sectarian prayer, known as "The Regents' Prayer," which has been officially prescribed for use in New York state schools. The prayer says:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Schumaker indicated that an investigation under Capt. Lyle Harrell of the state police had located most of the property.

Offshore Islands Shelled, Defense Ministry Asserts

Concern Voiced By Washington

Hong Kong—UPI—Communist China was reported mobilizing workers today in Canton, where angry peasants rioted this month, ostensibly to meet any Nationalist Chinese attack on the mainland.

Canton Radio said every worker in the city was being placed on a "voluntary mobilization" footing pending orders to go into action against a possible Nationalist invasion.

The Defense Ministry at Taipei reported that Communist artillery on the mainland shelled the Nationalist offshore islands and Quemoy and Matsu with 178 rounds Monday.

Eighth Time
There was no indication whether the fire was returned. It marked the eighth time this month that Quemoy has been bombarded and the fourth time for Matsu.

Officials in Washington and London have expressed concern at intelligence reports which depict a military buildup in Red China's Fukien Province, across Formosa Strait from the Nationalist island.

The Cantonese announcer claimed there had been "extremely good response" among the workers to anti-American and anti-Nationalist rallies held in the city the past two days.

Communist China has been grinding out a massive propaganda campaign recently accusing Nationalist China of preparing for an invasion with U.S. help.

Some Western diplomats have viewed this as an effort by Peking to turn both internal and external attention from Communist China's farm and industrial failures.

Many Turned Back
Most of the thousands of refugees who flooded into Hong Kong last month came from the Canton area. The British, unable to handle them, turned many back across the border.

Canton is in Kwangtung Province, 335 miles southwest of the National offshore island of Quemoy. Last June 2 Chinese peasants rioted at Canton's railroad station when Communist authorities refused to let them travel to towns near Hong Kong.

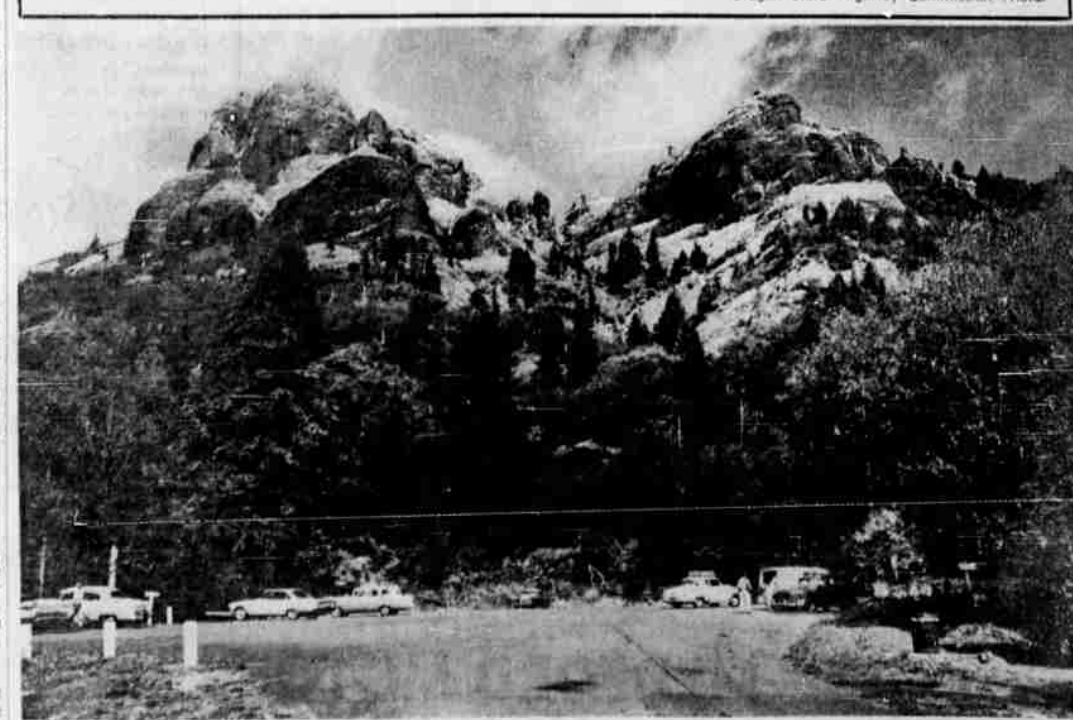

The peasants beat up a number of policemen and were dispersed only when Communist troops were called in, reports said. Subsequently word leaked out that the Reds were policing their own troops in Canton with armed patrols.

Grand Jury To Get Withycombe Testimony
Oregon City—UPI—William Schumaker, Clackamas county district attorney, said today information uncovered in the investigation of $6,000 worth of missing property at Camp Withycombe would ultimately be presented to a grand jury.

Schumaker indicated that an investigation under Capt. Lyle Harrell of the state police had located most of the property.
