Subcommittee's Coordinator on Witness Stand

Washington — (AP) — Senate investigators opened their long awaited investigation of the Billie Sol Estes case today by hearing a statement that it was "inconceivable" that government inefficiency alone enabled the Texan to amass thousands of acres of improper cotton allotments.

This assessment was given to the Senate investigations subcommittee by Paul E. Kamerick, the group's assistant counsel and coordinator for the Washington phase of the committee's staff study of Estes' operations.

Kamerick was the first witness. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman was scheduled to testify later in the day.

Even as the politically explosive hearings got underway, Sens. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) and Edmund Muskie (D-Maine) became involved in a dispute over the possible outcome.

Muskie said he could not resist noting Mundt's opening comment that "We enter these hearings... with no prejudgments," and the senator's following statement that "It appears that we will find glaring examples of indecision, conflicting decisions, and duplications..."

Something Amiss
Mundt said he was sorry Muskie saw fit to "challenge" the remarks, and said he stood on both of them. He added that no one could follow the staff inquiry without learning that something was amiss in the Agriculture Department.

"I did not challenge the statement; I simply read it," Muskie replied.
Kamerick said inefficiency probably did play a part in the case. He said the subcommittee might want to consider proposing "a major reorganization" of the Agriculture Department and farm program which he said had been developed "piecemeal" fashion over the century of its existence.

South Carolinans Elect Nixon Backer

By United Press International
A state legislator who led a "Democrats for Nixon-Lodge" drive during the 1960 elections defeated a former Kennedy campaign official Tuesday in a Democratic congressional primary in South Carolina.

State Rep. Albert W. Watson, 40, defeated Frank Owens, 63, by about 1,000 votes in incomplete returns.

Owens, trying for a political comeback, handled financial affairs for the Kennedy campaign in South Carolina, which narrowly went for the President. Watson supported the Nixon-Lodge ticket in the state.

Watson will meet former Democrat Floyd Spence in the November election for the congressional seat being vacated by the widow of Rep. John J. Riley, (D-S.C.) Mrs. Riley, who filled the unexpired term of her late husband, did not seek reelection. Spence will run on the Republican ticket.

Voters in Idaho and North Dakota also selected congressional nominees in primaries Tuesday.

Rep. Orval Hansen, 35, Idaho Falls attorney, won the Republican nomination for Congress in Idaho's 2nd District from former Rep. John Sanborn, 76.

Incumbent Sen. Milton Young gained an easy victory over a self-proclaimed "conservative" opponent in the North Dakota Republican primary.

CREMATION FEDERATION TO APPEAL BAN
Margate, England — (AP) — The International Cremation federation announced Tuesday it will petition the ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic church to change its ban on cremation.

Sir John Cameron, president of the British Cremation society, told 250 delegates here that he believed the ban was a measure on which the objections of the church could be overcome.
The ecumenical council, which meets in October, "may not meet again in our lifetime, and if any change is to be made, it must be made now," Cameron said.

Jerry Lewis, Wife Robbed of Jewels

New York — (AP) — Thieves stole gems valued at $185,000 from the midtown Manhattan hotel suite of entertainer Jerry Lewis Tuesday night while the comedian and his wife, Patti, were out.
It was the sixth large jewel theft from Manhattan hotels within the last two months. Police notified the FBI, on the theory the loot might be taken across state lines.
About 35 pieces of jewelry were stolen, the bulk of them belonging to Mrs. Lewis. The largest were a diamond necklace and matching bracelet valued at $35,000.
Last Friday, gems valued at $35,000 were stolen from the ninth floor suite of Mrs. Florence Adelson at the same hotel.
