

LA Dodgers Take Lead Back With 13-Frame Victory

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Casey Stengel and Walt Alston went to the mat — and Casey won — but the Los Angeles Dodgers took over first place in the National League anyway.

It sounds confusing, it was. The managerial tug-of-war delighted 19,000 fans at Chavez Ravine, who set for four hours and nine minutes Thursday night before big Frank Howard finally doubled home Jim Gilliam in the 13th inning to give the Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the New York Mets.

Casey went to work in the eighth inning with the Mets trailing 3-1. Pulling out all the stops, Stengel employed four different pinch hitters and a pinch runner to score three runs and go ahead, 4-3. The last of Casey's pinch hitters — and his personal favorite — Rod Kanehl, singled home the two runs that put the last-place Mets in front.

Alston wasn't sleeping all this time, either. During that feverish eighth, he relieved starter Johnny Podres with Larry Sherry. When Sherry failed to throttle the rally, Alston brought in Ron Perranoski, and when Perranoski gave up a hit and a walk, Alston again called time and summoned Ed Roebuck in from the bullpen. Roebuck proved to be the right choice.

The veteran 30-year-old righthander blanked the Mets on two hits and struck out six over the last 5 1/3 innings.

to record his fifth straight triumph without a loss. Even though the Dodgers tied the score in the bottom of the eighth on Maury Wills' triple and Gilliam's single, Casey had his day in the sun. Wills also stole his 41st base of the season during the contest.

Ken MacKenzie, who relieved Al Jackson in the eighth, was the loser.

Winning Streaks Broken

Only two other National League games were scheduled, both winding up in the same score and both being marked by the end of five-game winning streaks.

The Philadelphia Phillies knocked the San Francisco Giants out of first place and snapped their five-game winning streak, 7-2, and the Chicago Cubs handed the St. Louis Cardinals their first loss in six games, 7-2.

In the American League, the New York Yankees took over second place and moved within 1 1/2 games of the idle first-place Cleveland Indians with a 4-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins, the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Chicago White Sox, 6-0, the Los Angeles Angels hopped all over the Boston Red Sox, 19-7, and the Kansas City A's walloped the Washington Senators, 10-7.

Don Demeter drove in three runs with a pair of homers for the Phillies in their victory over the Giants. After hitting a bases-empty homer in the second inning, Demeter broke a 2-all tie in the seventh when he cracked his 13th homer with Roy Sievers on base.

Wine, Dalrymple Homer

Both homers came off loser Juan Marichal, now 11-5. Bob Wine and Clayton Dalrymple also homered for the Phils. Southpaw Bill Smith held the Giants scoreless in 7 2/3 innings of relief to gain his first victory.

Ernie Banks drove in three runs for the Cubs with a pair of doubles and Ron Santo added a two-run homer to sink the Cardinals. Rookie Cal Koonce brought his record to 6-2 although he was tapped for 10 hits, including Ken Boyer's 11th homer. Roger Maris slugged his 14th homer in the fourth inning for his 10th in the same inning and Mickey Mantle conformed off loser Jack Kralick, but Elston Howard's double and an error by reliever Lee Stange gave the Yanks what proved to be the winning run in the seventh, Bill Stafford won his seventh with an assist from Marshall Bridges in the eighth.

Steve Barber held the White Sox to eight hits and struck out seven in winning his sixth game for the Orioles. Brooks Robinson hit his 12th homer off loser Dan Zanni in the first inning and then

Rafael Osuna Goes Into Quarterfinals In Net Tournament

Wimbledon, England—Rafael Osuna of Mexico, a student at the University of Southern California and the NCAA champion, gained the quarterfinals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships by downing Alan Mills of England, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

Osuna, who teamed with Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., to win the doubles here in 1960, swamped the Briton who Thursday upset seventh seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy, by attacking the Briton's weak forehand.

Of the five American survivors — one in men's singles and four in the women's division — only one was scheduled for singles action today.

In that match Vicky Palmer, Phoenix, joined three other American girls in the fourth round of the women's singles by beating Robyn Ebbern of Australia, 2-6, 6-0, 7-5.

Frank Froehling, a skinny college student from Coral Gables, Fla., was the lone Yank survivor in the men's singles. Billie Jean Moffitt, Darlene Hard, Karen Hantze Susman and Vicky Palmer were the U.S. representatives in the women's singles.

They were all that remained of the 31 Americans — 16 men and 15 women — who started singles play Monday in this ancient tournament, which is recognized as the "World Series" of amateur tennis.

MEET POLES

Chicago—America's newly selected track team, boasting two sub-four minute milers and a 16-foot-swinging pole vaulter, engages Poland in a two-day international track meet beginning Saturday.

The U.S. led by milers Jim Beatty and Gary Weliger and pole vaulter Ron Morris, are expected to establish more than a few meet records and perhaps a world record or two on the lightening-fast red-cinder track at the University of Chicago.

Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., who reached the final of last year's men's singles, bowed out in Wednesday's second-round. This calamity was followed Thursday by the elimination of Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., America's No. 1 player, and Davis Cupper Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.

Rod Laver of Australia, who beat McKinley in last year's final, needed only an hour to outclass Reed, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4. Marty Mulligan, another member of the power-Aussie team, fought off three match points in outlasting Ralston, 3-7, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Froehling, a 6-4 beanpole who attends Trinity, Tex., University, was left to carry on alone for Uncle Sam in the men's division when he turned back Owen Davidson of Australia, 8-6, 7-5, 6-8, 6-4.

In the women's division, Miss Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., followed up her startling upset over top-ranked Margaret Smith of Australia by scoring a 7-5, 6-3 victory over her closest friend, Carole Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif.

Miss Hard, another Long Beach, Calif., resident, required only 18 minutes to dispose of Holland's Eva De Jong, 6-0, 6-0, and Mrs. Susman, who hails from San Antonio, Tex., edged England's Elizabeth Starkie, 7-5, 10-8.

The U.S. ranks were further reduced when Rene Schuurman of South Africa rallied to defeat Justina Bricka of St. Louis, Mo., 2-6, 6-1, 6-4, and Deirdre Catt of England downed Nancy Richy of Dallas, Tex., 9-7, 8-6.

None of the other American survivors in singles was scheduled to play on today's program, which was devoted mainly to doubles.

Omaha Nine Moves Closer To Top Spot

United Press International
The Omaha Dodgers moved a little closer to the American association lead last night with a 9-4 victory over front-running Indianapolis. Denver beat Oklahoma City 8-4 in 10 innings and Louisville topped Dallas-Ft. Worth, 6-1.

Omaha's win put them 2 1/2 games behind Indianapolis, which leads the league.

Omaha's big inning was the six-run 7th, when Kurt Roberts rapped a solo homer and Joe Altobelli got two RBI's on a single.
