Martha Ansted Bride Of Randall C. Sikes

Eagle Point - Miss Martha Jeanne Ansted became the bride of Randall Clifford Sikes in a double ring ceremony read June 23 at 8 o'clock in the evening in the Eagle Point Community church. The Rev. Warren Christensen performed the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Byron Ansted, Eagle Point, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sikes, Shady Cove.

Miss Sharron Sikes, Shady Cove, a sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor.

Richard Hutchinson, Torrance, Calif., was best man for his brother, Ian and Jan Dusenberry, twin brothers of Trail, were the ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Alencon lace over taffeta styled with a fitted empire bodice accented with a lace bow and bell shaped skirt. Her elbow length veil was held by two white satin roses. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with pink rosebuds on a white Bible.

The maid of honor wore a frock of ice green satin with bodice of Alencon lace, accented at the waist with a satin bow. Her flowers also were white carnations and baby pink rosebuds. The church was decorated with pink gladioli, stock and white chrysanthemums. Ronald Ansted, brother of the bride, was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Hoyt.

The reception was held in the church rooms. Mrs. Henrietta Carter, Medford, aunt of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake, and Mrs. Ida Howenstine, Medford, poured the coffee. Mrs. Byron Craven, Trail, poured punch, and Miss Barbara Gysin, Medford, was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding and reception Mrs. Ansted wore a lace dress in dusty rose color with rose and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a soft blue dress of organza with white accessories. Their corsages were of gardenias with pink rosebuds.

The bride and bridegroom attended Eagle Point schools and the bridegroom also attended school at Trail. The bride is a student at the Medford School of Beauty and the bridegroom is employed as a carpenter for Ralph Ferguson of Medford.

The couple made their wedding trip to Crescent City, Calif., and are living at 214 Lincoln street, Medford. For

Increase Use Of Center Is Noted in June

George E. Breece, former teacher at the Christian college in Hawaii prior to moving to the Rogue Valley Manor, will show slides of that state at the Monday session of the Arm Chair Travelers.

The showing will start at 1 p.m. and will be held at the Senior Activity center, 601 East Jackson street. All persons 50 years or older are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Breece taught at the Hawaiian college following their retirement from the public school system of California. Last week they showed pictures of their travels in the Scandinavian countries.

Tuesday the oil painting class will meet at 1 p.m. Those who do not wish to paint at the center may do so in the park.

Wednesday the center will be closed since it is July 4. On Thursday the orchestra will practice at 10 a.m. Last week in addition to the 17 musicians several guests attended the session to listen.

During June some 330 seniors used the center for classes, travel enjoyment, committee meetings or as a place to read. This number is some 100 more than June, 1961. Last Wednesday, four different activities were held in the center starting at 10 a.m. and continuing until 9 p.m.

Valley residents are reminded of the opening today of the Senior Craftsman of Oregon Inc., in the Ashland Art center, 31 Water street, Ashland. The center will be open from 1 to 9 o'clock where persons may purchase craft articles made by senior citizens.

Visit Parents

Ashland - James McLaughlin and his family from Anaheim, Calif. and Morris McLaughlin of Sacramento, spent several days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. McLaughlin, 131 Ohio street.

Traveling the bride chose a blue suit with white accessories.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Caselier, aunt and uncle of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Caselier, cousins, all from Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. William Ludwig, aunt and uncle of the bride, and Mrs. Sophia Ansted, grandmother of the bride, all from Myrtle Creek, and Leroy Moore, Roseburg, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pinister, 3191 Merriman road, left recently to spend the next several weeks traveling.

Hospital To Benefit From Play

A portion of the proceeds from the Footlighters play, "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas," which will run July 3 through July 7, will be given as a benefit to the Sacred Heart hospital.

Curtain time for the comedy is at 8:30 p.m., each day.

Tickets may be secured by contacting cast members or from Mann's Department store, Purucker's Music shop, Sacred Heart hospital, members of the Providence guild, or at the box office the evenings of the performances.

Anyone who would like further information regarding the play of about the Footlighters group may call Mrs. Pat Wright, 535-2217.

Recent Shower Honors Bride

Cave Junction - Mrs. Herbert Kennedy was guest of honor recently at a bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. Dennis Kennedy. Assisting the hostess was Miss Maureen Kennedy.

Attending were Miss June Plumlee, Miss Linda Olsen, Miss Bonita Robinson, Mrs. Andrew Scott and Miss Kathleen Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pinister, 3191 Merriman road, left recently to spend the next several weeks traveling. The couple motored first to Portland, where they attended the annual Rose festival, and from there continued to Seattle for the World's Fair. From Seattle they flew by the polar route to Frankfurt, Germany, where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Ochs. Mr. Ochs is on duty with the United States Army. The Ochs and the Medford couple will tour several European countries by car and in Alba, Italy, Medford's sister city, they will call on city officials and deliver a message of good will from Jackson County Pomona Grange. In Rome they plan to attend one of the Pope's audiences, and in Florence they will visit a cousin of Mrs. Pinister who is an artist. The travelers plan to be gone two months.

'Snoop' Your Hotel Room, You Might Find a Turtle

By PATRICIA McCORMACK United Press International New York - (UPI) - Be the snoopy kind when checking out of a hotel at vacation's end. Get down on all fours and look under the beds. Your chances of finding a slipper or handkerchief are excellent.

Other times: Mald said it isn't a bad idea to prepare a check list as you pack at home. Use it to take an inventory before leaving the hotel at vacation's end.

Mald tries to practice what he preaches. But on a recent trip to New York, his wife left a hat box in the hotel lobby.

"The hotel air-freighted it to us in San Juan," he said.

Alan Mald, dispenser of the "search before you check out" advice, said in an interview that his hotel was most grateful recently when a guest following the look-before-you-leave formula reported seeing a turtle under a dresser.

Find a Turtle "We retrieved the turtle," he said in an interview, "and were happy to have it handy when a harassed mother called from the airport nearby. The creature belonged to her son. We arranged a reunion."

Mald, general manager of the El San Juan Hotel in Puerto Rico, said that the forgetful Henrys and Henriettas are so common that he has instituted the check-out check list to make sure guests remove all their possessions when they remove themselves.

Women are the most forgetful, Mald said better than 50 per cent of the females leave something behind. The most common item: A shower cap.

Male guests most frequently forget to retrieve their razors or electric razor cords. The most unlikely to be forgotten possessions left behind in the San Juan hotel during the last year included a diamond-encrusted jewel case - and a Schnauzer pouch. The latter was found snoring under a bed.

And the jewel case? It had been tucked far back in a dresser drawer too far back to be seen in a hasty check-out.

Based on 26 years experience in the hotel business, Mald also recommended the following procedures before checking out.

Open all drawers, starting with the bottom ones.

Check all flat surfaces of chairs, desk, bureau. Look under menus, pamphlets, blotters. Keys and personal letters frequently are found hidden in the folds of the paper.

Look under the pillows. Purses and billfolds have been found there.

Look behind all doors. Most frequently left hanging pajamas, robes, beach hats.

Examine the far reaches of closet corners. Belts, socks and stockings are found there.

Glance at walls and lamps. Hotel maids regularly

Californians Celebrate Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

Happy Camp - Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hobbs observed their 25th wedding anniversary June 24 with an open house at their home in Happy Camp. Later in the day the couple was honored at a dinner and dance at the Buckhorn lodge.

Some 40 relatives and friends attended the open house held on the lawn of the Hobbs home.

An anniversary cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Gilbert Head. Thirty relatives and friends were guests for the dinner and dance.

Attending the events were four generations of the pioneer Titus family of Happy Camp. Mrs. Hobbs is the former Geraldine Titus, a descendant of John Titus Sr. who established one of the first trading posts on the Klamath river at Happy Camp in the middle 1800s.

The four generations were represented by A. B. Titus, father of Mrs. Hobbs; Mrs. Hobbs, Gary Hobbs, a son of the honored couple, and Tracy Hobbs, their grandson. Tracy is the fifth generation of the Titus family to be born in Happy Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs have four children, Gary Hobbs, Miss Shirley Joy Hobbs, Sacramento, who was also present for the observance; Dennis Hobbs and Randolph Hobbs.

Among the out of town guests attending were Miss Lori Wyley and Miss Lavina Grimm, both Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bassett, Medford; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Puckett, Seiad Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs were married in Grants Pass, Ore., June 26, 1937, and lived near Napa and Yreka, Calif., prior to returning to Happy Camp in 1947. Mr. Hobbs operates a log trucking firm.

Miss Miller will be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Miller, 2200 Ruhl way, until mid-August. She will then return to Nurnberg for another year of teaching.

Daughter Here From Germany

Miss Carolyn Miller recently arrived in Medford after spending two years in Nurnberg, Germany, teaching dependent children of Army personnel.

Miss Miller will be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Miller, 2200 Ruhl way, until mid-August. She will then return to Nurnberg for another year of teaching.

Indoor Picnic

Southern Oregon Stamp club will hold an indoor picnic Thursday, July 5, starting at 6:30 p.m. for members, families, and friends. The event will be held in the Girls Community club. After the picnic lunch the members are to see slides owned by Dr. Harper J. Hibbe, of a collection of the Columbian commemoratives issued for the Columbian Exhibition in 1892. Dr. Hibbe is a retired dentist, now living in Grants Pass.

Picnic to Honor Visitor From East

Mrs. Charles Fife, the former Carol Smith, is in Medford to spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Smith, 2410 Charles lane. Mrs. Fife brought her two children, Traci Lynn, 2, and Shane, 5 months, with her by plane from their home in Norfolk, Va. She will leave the middle of the week to return east.

In honor of the visitor, her friends and relatives are invited to a potluck picnic today at 12 o'clock at TouVelle park.

Mr. Fife is a dental technician in the United States Navy.

Weston Woman Is Guest in City

Mrs. William Nickolas of Weston, Ore., is a guest in Medford of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Castillo, 714 West Tenth street. During the visitor's stay, trip were made to Crater Lake National park, to Weaverville, Calif., and through Lassen National park to Reno, Nev.

In Crater Lake park, the travelers found that the road from Annie Springs to the lodge is undergoing construction, and is in poor shape. Alternate routes for visitors are in fine shape, it was said.

At Weaverville they visited the old Chinese Joss house, said to be the oldest authentic Joss house in this country.
