All-Los Angeles Series Is Possible

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Maybe it's sheer fantasy, like something right out of Disneyland, but can you picture an all-Los Angeles World Series this coming October?

If you were able to last April, and were willing to put your money where your imagination was, you'd sure be sitting pretty right now.

Not only would you be rubbing your hands with the Dodgers atop the National league, but you'd also be rubbing your eyes at the sight of those amazing Angels in a virtual tie for the American league lead.

The Dodgers seized the NL lead with 5-1 and 4-0 victories over the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night, with southpaw Johnny Podres equalling a major league strikeout record during the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

And the ragamuffin Angels remained within four mere percentage points of the pace-setting Yankees when Bob Rodgers belted a ninth inning homer for a 2-1 triumph over the Washington Senators.

Ties Strikeout Record

Podres tied the major league mark by striking out eight men in a row as he won his fourth game of the season following 10 unsuccessful tries. The Dodger lefty fanned a total of 11 and retired 20 batters in a row before tiring in the eighth and giving way to Larry Sherry.

Willie Davis hit a grand slam homer for the Dodgers, who then coasted to victory in the nightcap on Stan Williams' seven-hit pitching. Williams put in an exceptionally enjoyable night, striking out eight, walking no one and hitting a home run to gain his seventh victory and first in four weeks.

The victory for the Angels marked the ninth time this season they won a game in their last at-bat. Rodgers' blow came off reliever Steve Hamilton after Steve Bilko had homered in the sixth for the Angels' first run. Reliever Tom Morgan was the winner.

Casey Stengel's Mets knocked the Giants out of first place by beating them, 8-5, the Milwaukee Braves bowled over the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-3, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Colts, 4-2, and Cincinnati split a twi-bill with Chicago, the Cubs winning the opener, 6-5, and the Reds the nightcap, 4-3.

Yanks Beat A's

In the American league the Yankees clipped the Kansas City A's, 8-4, the Cleveland Indians blanked the Baltimore Orioles, 2-0, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Minnesota Twins, 4-3, and the Detroit Tigers shaded the Chicago White Sox, 2-1.

Veteran Gene Woodling broke a 5-all tie between the Mets and Giants with a three-run double in the eighth after Willie Mays' 22nd homer with one on had put San Francisco ahead in the seventh. Ken MacKenzie was credited with the victory and Stu Miller was the loser.

By DICK JEWETT
Mail Tribune Sports Editor

There's a solution to this matter of providing facilities in Medford for night baseball that is more simple and much less expensive than any plan which has recently been put forward. We are certain the idea has been thought of. Why it has not been recently discussed openly and thoroughly we just don't know.

The idea is this: Put lights on the Medford Senior High school diamond.

UP TO $22,000

A man who should know has told us that such lighting could be provided for $16,000 to $18,000 with wooden poles or for $20,000 to $22,000 with steel poles. The two grandstands seat an estimated 300 each. It should not be too terribly expensive to build additional seating of this type. But, for a time, portable bleachers could be used if it was found that the added seating was desired.

SHOULD BE CONSIDERED

We think this proposition should be thoroughly considered. Certainly, if the field were lighted, there would be considerable use during the summer months. It is doubtful that many high school tussles would be played because of the chilly weather during the spring. But, the summer junior baseball program, particularly American junior ball, would benefit. And, the summer program pays dividends to the high school brand of ball.

CHENEY UNSUITABLE

There was a time, and not too long ago, when Cheney field filled the bill for baseball competition under lights. Now, that "park" is unsuitable and downright hazardous for nighttime hardball play – and the "stands" have been torn down. In the meantime, it is nice to have the Veterans Administration domiciliary field available. The genial VAD staff has welcomed local teams and that welcome has been appreciated. But, there are drawbacks in the use of that facility. It's an 8 to 10-mile jaunt–16 to 20 miles round trip–for a good many fans. Perhaps, a lighted field in town would generate more interest in the general run of games.

LINEBACKER PROJECT?

We are interested in hearing reactions to the foregoing proposition. Sounds to us like a good project for the Medford Linebackers once the new football field grandstand has been built.

STADIUM AN ASSET

With the foregoing ideas we are not casting out the proposal of a large stadium of a multipurpose type. We do believe that such a facility, while perhaps rather costly, would have a multitude of uses of a varied sort. And, we believe that a stadium would prove not only an economic asset to the valley but would provide immaterial benefits.

STADIUM VOLLEYBALL

But this game of "volleyball" must discontinue if any stadium plan is to move along. The ball seems to just keep bouncing back and forth between the county court and stadium advocates.

Recently the county budget committee requested County Judge Earl Miller, as chairman of the county court, to notify all interested parties in the various proposals to meet and coordinate plans and ideas in relationship to a stadium and the cost factors to be involved. He has done as requested and we understand that one such meeting was called.

The ball was tossed back to the court when it was determined that three influential individuals at the stadium session should write a letter to the court asking the court to name a committee of its own choosing and to set aside a sum of money with which the committee would obtain a professional survey concerning the needs and best location for a stadium.

DIVERGENT VIEWS

It's a bit hard to see how the two sets of stadium proponents can come together when each is so strong for its view and the plans are so divergent – one group speaking in terms of $600,000 to a couple of million dollars and the other talking in the thousands. If, there is any compromise, it will come from the fact that the "big" plan can be a long range one with a limited number of seats provided at first.

If lights could be installed at the senior high school diamond, that might be the answer to advocates of the "Legion" plan.

Women's Golf

Rogue Valley lady golfers play for last Thursday was medal.

Winners were: A group, Mrs. Richard Finch and Mrs. E. W. Sickels, tied; B group, Mrs. Frank Benesh and Mrs. Randall Gifford, tied; C group Mrs. Dick Knight; D group, Mrs. E. C. Trumbly; nine-hole group, Mrs. Bruce Hammond and Mrs. James Gish, tied, and second low net, Mrs. G. F. Flint.

July 12 is day of the monthly luncheon and women's fun day. Ladies are to make their own pairings and sign up their own groups only on the starting time sheet.

First round matches of the club championship tournament will be played July 6 through 12.

Play for this Thursday, July 5, will be medal and the fourth play on the Rogue Valley trophy.

JACKSON TURNS PRO

Toronto – (UPI) – World figure skating champion Donald Jackson of Oshawa, Ont., turned professional last week when he signed a contract with Eddie Shipstead of the Ice Follies. Jackson's contract is understood to call for $70,000.

St. Luke's Wins Uphill Victory Over Eastwood

Hunter Dixon tripled with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning and scored on a wide throw to the plate to give St. Luke's Methodist an uphill 13 to 12 victory over Eastwood Baptist in a church league softball game at Cheney Field Monday night.

Rick Bell, who hit two for two for St. Luke's, had scored previously in the inning to tie the score and set the stage for Dixon's only hit of the game.

Danny Dixon and John Hay connected for three hits in five times up for the winners. Chuck Brooks hit two for four for Eastwood and Bill Wertz hit safely in his only official time at bat.

The game was a "pitchers' battle" with Bill Sweet walking nine and striking out two for Eastwood. Hay issued seven free passes and whiffed two in four innings and Dave Jordan walked eight and struck out two in three innings for St. Luke's.

St. Luke's, undefeated in league play, won a 19 to 6 victory over Grants Pass Methodists in a practice game at Grants Pass Friday night.

Karen Susman Only American Left in Wimbledon Tennis

Wimbledon, England – (UPI) – Karen Hantze Susman of San Antonio, Tex., emerged the only American to reach the Wimbledon women's singles semifinals today when favored Darlene Hard and unseeded Billie Jean Moffitt were eliminated.

Miss Hard, America's top-ranked women's player, was upset in the quarterfinals by unseeded Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Susman, ranked second to Miss Hard in the United States, defeated Renee Schuurman of Sout Africa, 6-4, 6-4, and thus became the lone American standard-bearer in the round of four survivors.

Miss Moffitt, the bespectacled 18-year-old Long Beach, Calif., girl who a week ago fashioned Wimbledon's biggest upset, bowed out of the tournament in the quarter-finals when she was beaten by Ann Haydon of England, 6-3, 6-1.

KENNEDY GIVES OK

New York – (UPI) – President Kennedy has given his approval to Salk Institute Baseball day, which will be observed throughout the nation on July 4. Contributions will be solicited that day in baseball parks, both major and minor, to help complete construction of a Salk institute building in San Diego, Calif.

TO GIVE INSTRUCTION

New York – (UPI)–Two groups of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association will visit 48 boys camps this summer in Connecticut, Vermont, New Jersey and New York. An estimated 10,000 boys will receive instruction from the basketball players.

SECOND BASEMAN – Bob Schroeder plays second base for the Medford Cokes who meet Klamath Falls this evening in an American Legion junior baseball game at Memorial field, White City.

Newland and Kinney Combine For No-Hitter

Rick Newland and Mark Kinney combined efforts to pitch a no-hitter for the Medford Yankees Monday as the Yanks beat Jacksonville 19 to 1 in a Southern Oregon Junior Baseball intermediate league game.

Bruce Bertrand and Ron Schwindler homered for the winners and Mike Farthing and Jack Mullen each got four hits.

In other intermediate action, the Medford Giants won out over Phoenix-Talent, 11 to 8.

Cokes Encounter Klamath Falcons

Medford's league leadership and the championship defense aspirations of the Klamath Falls Falcons meet headon this evening in a crucial American Legion junior baseball conflict.

The Cokes and Falcons collide at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial field, White City. It will be an Area 4 Southern division game.

Medford goes into the fracas with a 4-2 loop record. Klamath Falls (3-2) is a half-game back in second spot. The Cokes need to win desperately to solidify their position as frontrunner. The teams will switch positions in the standings if the Falcons come out on top.

And, the way games in the league have been going, neither team has the role of favorite except in the sentimental way. Medford nosed the Falcons 5 to 4 in the clubs' first loop tangle in the middle of last month.

Young To Pitch

Stuart Young is the probable pitcher selection of Coach Cliff McLean for the Medford nine and Mary Edwards is an almost certain choice to do the Klamath hurling.

Medford's lineup could see Ken Phipps or Mike Barnes, catcher; Scott Eaton or Jim Calhoun, first base; Bob Schroeder, second base; Dan Miles, shortstop; Dick Deffley, third base, and among Gary Miller, Mike Neatham-er, Tom Barker, Calhoun and Wayne Couch, outfielders.

For the KF lineup Coach Bob Williams could pick Dave Saks, catcher; Kent Franklin, first base; Lanny Guyer, second base; Ted Crutchfield, third base; Sharm Allen, short stop, and Kent Hunsaker, Larry Smith, and Terry Maw or Larry Binney outfielders.

This will be the second appearance at White City within a week for the Falcons. They beat Central Point at the VA field last Friday. For Medford the game is next to the last on its regular league slate. The Cokes meet Central Point on July 9 in the league finale. They play Central Point this Friday in a non-counter.

Maids Break Even With Westerners

Memorial Field, White City –A last ditch seventh inning eruption gave the Rogue Valley Dairy Maids all their runs and a 3 to 2 verdict over the barnstorming Phoenix, Ariz., Westerners here last night in the first encounter of a women's softball doubleheader.

Phoenix copped the second ruckus 10 to 2 with a six-run third chukker assuring triumph.

Yvonne McIvor scored the winning counter of the opener on an error, a fielder's choice swat by Doris Hickson. Nadine Brood's single had brought home two runs to tie the count.

The Westerners collected but one hit, by Mary Jane Campagna, in their big canto of the second mix. They received five bases on balls in the frame from Maid pitcher Ellen Callaghan. Three wild pitches, a passed ball and three errors figured in the scoring.

Maids Play Roseburg

Phoenix headed for Portland to play the Erv Lind Florists and the Maids await a Fourth of July foe. They entertain the Roseburg Lumberjills at 1:30 p.m. here on the holiday.

Jo Wilson blasted two triples for the Westerners in the first fray and scored each time. Lily Vasquez singled her home in the third inning and an error allowed her to score in the fifth.

Pat Barron launched the Maids big seventh with a bunt single and was safe at second on Janet Pfaff's fielder's choice bop. McIvor walked to fill the sacks. Brood hit to bring in Barron and Pfaff. Jan Bateman walked. Hickson whacked the ball and a bad throw to the plate enabled the victory run.

Barron pitched a five hitter for the Maids, walking four and whiffing eight. Westerner tosser Shirley Marshall permitted three hits and six walks. She struck out four.

Two-Run Triple

Pitcher Rosemary Urtuzuastegui tripled and drove in two runs for Phoenix in the second inning of the second game. Nancy Larremore singled home another in the panel.

The Dairy Maids tabulated once in the fourth stanza of the second mix on a single by Glenda Hull, an error and a double by Iola Martinson. The other run was in the fifth inning on singles by Bernice Bigham and Ellen Callaghan and an error.

Brood singled and doubled for the Maids, who had five walks and six hits off Urtuzuastegui, who fanned two. Callaghan gave up all four hits and nine runs to Phoenix, walking six and fanning two.
