

Grants Pass Gets New Parole Office

Salem - (UPI) - The Oregon Board of Parole and Probation has announced opening of a new district in Grants Pass July 5.

Jack Harris of the Medford regional office will move to Grants Pass, and be the resident officer there, the board said. The successor to Harris at Medford will be named later.

The board said this is the first in a series of six new district offices designed to improve probation services throughout the state.

The board's headquarters are here. The board now has 10 regional and district offices.
