Vern Parent and Harvey Tonn of Central Point and Owen Bristlin of Jay Allen each had two hits. Parent and Dale Lane doubled.

Pitcher Vern Neiswanger yielded four hits and one base on balls and struck out two while shutting out the Carmel JA twirler Jim Reinholz gave up eight safeties. He walked one and hit one and fanned three.

Somehow missed during the June rush was the fact that Jack Burk, mathematics instructor and assistant coach at Medford Senior High school during the past academic year, had resigned to accept the job of head track mentor at Roseburg high. The ex-University of Oregon pole vaulter moved up to the senior high last year after coaching at McLoughlin Junior high.

Along with Jack's resignation was that of his wife, Kay, who was a physical education teacher at McLoughlin. She'll take a similar post in a Roseburg junior high.

COLLEY TO HEDRICK
Bill Colley goes from Howard Elementary school to Hedrick Junior high this fall, taking an eighth grade PE post. The ex-Central Point high athlete will be an assistant coach with his exact mentoring assignment yet to be determined. His shift fills a gap made by the elevation of Ralph Monroe to head wrestling coach at the senior high.

The Howard post will be filled by Ron Singler, ex-Medford high and a grad this spring of Southern Oregon college where he was a stellar tennis performer.

MILITARY SERVICE DUE
Frank Albert, ex-Medford high athlete, who just this spring obtained a degree in political science from University of Oregon, reports that a couple of years of army duty are ahead of him, starting this fall. After his military service, law school is a possibility.

Another former Medford high graduate, Tom Hamlin, will complete his studies at Oregon State university in August. He will have three years of Naval service after that.

STOPPED STREAK
Central Point Crater Cubs, who whipped Albany 11 to 3 last Sunday at Albany, handed the Recs their first loss of the season. Albany had won seven games and tied one.

BASEBALL SUGGESTIONS
Tim Cobane, in Look magazine has proposed the following to keep baseball from becoming "The Great National Bore":

Order manufacturers to reduce the liveliness of the ball by 15 per cent; stop throwing a baseball out of the game when it has picked up as many as seven specks of dust; because light bats whip faster and propel the ball farther, outlaw bats under 34 ounces; increase the size of the strike zone; cut down on the number of warm-up pitches and quit throwing the ball around the infield after each out; cut the season from 162 to 144 games.

Dick Collins of the same magazine also suggests halting a game if one team leads

By seven runs or more after five full innings of play or calling it a game, when the inning is completed, if either team builds a seven-run lead after the fifth inning.

GAME LOST MONEY
We'd hesitate to call the Eugene Emerald - Salem Dodgers professional baseball game at White City last month a dud. For it was an interesting tussle with some fine play. It was, however, no success financially. The sponsoring and underwriting Central Point Junior Chamber of Commerce lost money on the game. A quick estimate of 2,000 fans attending was high. A more accurate count was around 1,300. This latter figure includes the Veterans Administration domiciliary members who did not have to pay—although we're sure a good number of them bought tickets.

The Jaycees should be able to come out in the black next time with a more concentrated ticket selling effort. There are three more Class B Pro No 10 west league games slated for Memorial field, White City—all in August. The Jaycees are to sponsor one of these and the Medford Lions club two. Lions have the Aug. 2 tussle when the Salem and Eugene clubs meet again.

NOT PROOF
The June 25 pro fracas didn't prove one way or the other whether pro ball might be a success in the Rogue Valley. Actually, the only way to find out is to have a full season. The other games this summer may show more enthusiasm. But, one, two, three or four games are no sure measure of how some 70 games might go.

MAIDS POPULAR
Some estimates place the attendance at the Dairy Maid-Lind Florist softball game, the night following the pro fracas, at larger than for the Em-Dodger mix. We think it was a bit under. But the turnout at the Dairy Maid-Phoenix Westerner scraps last Monday did appear a bigger one. It would appear that women's softball is the summer's leading sports attraction.

SO CHAMPS IN OGA
Two past Southern Oregon golf champions were women's finalists in the Oregon Golf association tournament which concluded at Eugene last week. Successfully defending her state crown was Mrs. Carole Jo Kabler Skala, Southern Oregon winner in 1955 and 1956. In the OGA finale last Tuesday the Roseburg player defeated Mrs. Shirley Sigmund Mitchell, Chico and Rogue Valley, the 1960 finalist in Medford's Southern Oregon classic. The 1961 women's SO winner, Miss June Robinson, Albany, reached this year's OGA semifinals where she was beaten by Mrs. Mitchell.

GIFFORD CHAIRMAN
Preparations are underway for the 1962 Southern Oregon tournament with Randall Gifford chairman and B. D. Mitchell co-chairman. The tournament is scheduled Aug. 29 through Sept. 3 at Rogue Valley Country club.

Out-of-town entries already total 108 compared to 40 which had been received in late July last year. The entries represent 16 communities in California, seven in Oregon and two in Washington.

Game Ticket Sale Under Way
Medford Lions club now has tickets available for the Rogue valley's second professional baseball game of the season.

The Eugene Emeralds and Salem Dodgers collide again in a Northwest league game at Memorial field, White City, on Thursday, Aug. 2.

Tickets can be purchased from any members of the Medford service club. Location where tickets may be bought will be announced later this week.

The Emeralds are playing four of their league games at White City this year. Two other games are scheduled later in August.

Medford Lions are sponsors for the Aug. 2 game and Tony Cappello is general chairman for the event.

Marichal Strikes Out 13 Dodgers

By SCOTT BAILLIE
UPI Sports Writer
San Francisco - (AP) - "Well," mused Walt Alston in a philosophical mood, "it was just as well to get those five errors squeezed into one game rather than have them spread out."

The boss of the Los Angeles Dodgers was discussing Friday night's 12-3 pasting by the San Francisco Giants which saw the Bay Area sockers creep back to a half-game behind his club in the National league land rush.

Manager Alvin Dark of the Giants, beamed over a five-hitter by Juan Marichal in which the Caribbean swiftly struck out 13 Dodgers for a career high.

"It was one of those deals where we played pretty good ball until tonight, then everything went h-e-l-l over the top kettle," said Alston, who reminded that the Dodgers not only saw a seven-game win streak snapped but had played errorless ball for nine consecutive contests.

No Larceny
Not only were the Dodger hats held to five hits, including Frank Howard's 11th home run, but base thief Maury Wills never got a chance to work his specialty. He got on first once, then was whizzed around to third on a single by Jim Gilliam as the Dodgers took an early lead.

Second baseman Larry Burright made two miscues for Los Angeles while third baseman Jim Gilliam, center fielder Willie Davis and first baseman Ron Fairly chipped in with one apiece.

Five of San Francisco's runs were unearned after they drew off to a 4-2 lead against loser Stan Williams (7-5) in the third inning.

While Marichal cruised aboard, the Giants climbed along Ed Roebuck for eight more runs, five of them tainted, after the veteran right-hander came in to start the fourth inning. It took Ron Perranoski to end the sixth

Russians Win At Henley

Henley - On - Thames, England - (AP) - Russian oarsmen won two titles in the Royal Henley Regatta Saturday - including the blue ribbon grand challenge cup for the second straight year - while the United States' last remaining crew was beaten in the semi-finals.

The Soviet Union's heavy-weight Navy General Sports club took the grand challenge cup by beating European champion Moto Guzzi of Italy by a third of a length in six minutes and 40 seconds over the one mile and 550-yard river Thames course after the Trud club won the steward's cup with a 1 1/2 length victory over the Dutch A.S.R. Neureus crew in 7:43.

The Washington - Lee High school crew from Arlington, Va., made a gallant bid for victory in the Thames cup for eight-oared shells, but bowed to eventual champion National Provincial Bank crew 2 1/2 lengths in 6:54.

The Bankers, averaging 24 years to the American high schoolers' 17, then went on to beat the Thames Rowing club in the faster time of 6:46 to take the title, winning by an even more impressive three lengths.

The Bankers, striking off at 42 to the youthful Americans' 36, opened up a three length lead at the mile and never trailed.

"I think we did as well as we could have done," said a not too disappointed Charlie Butt, coach of the Washington - Lee crew. "To finish 2 1/2 lengths behind that fine crew in pretty fast time is a satisfactory showing."

Australian Stewart Mackenzie, center of a disqualification storm on Friday, became the first man to win the Diamond Sculls six times in succession in the 123 year history of the famed Henley Regatta when he beat young Bill Barry of the Quintin Boat club by three lengths in 8:38.
