HOWCUM DEPT. ALMOST A QUARTER OF A MILLION SOULS IN TOWN

SO WHY IS IT YOU CAN'T FIND A SINGLE RESIDENT ALL ALONG MAIN STREET?

Five Persons Appear in Circuit Court

John Albert Parrack, 23, of 300 South Columbus ave., Medford, was placed on probation Friday when he appeared in Jackson county circuit court. Imposition of sentence was suspended for five years on a charge of using a car without permission of the owner.

He pleaded guilty of taking a car owned by William R. Roberts, 32 Ashland ave., Medford, May 16, without intent to steal.

Clarence Edward Self, 1730 1/2 North Riverside ave., Medford, pleaded guilty to charges of assault with a dangerous weapon. A pre-sentence report was ordered.

Was Being Detained

Self is charged with hitting Clayton R. Brown, 1746 Upton rd., with an ash tray. Brown was detaining Self at the time in Paulsen and Gates Thrift Market in Central Point.

Rodney Franklin Davis, 26, of 23 Mistletoe st., Medford, pleaded guilty to charges of obtaining personal benefit from false pretenses. A pre-sentence report was ordered.

He is accused of passing together a half of a $20 bill and a $1 bill and passing one of them in Medford June 12.

Lee Maria La Torre, 38, of 217 South Riverside ave., Medford, pleaded guilty in circuit court to charges of forgery. Her case was continued for receipt of a pre-sentence report. The charge involves a check.

John Arthur Hopton, 17, of route 1, box 46B, Jacksonville, pleaded guilty to charges of burglary not in a dwelling. A pre-sentence report was ordered.

Hopton is accused of entering a car company's body shop here March 17.

Visitors to Forest Asked to Use Care; Fire Danger High

Low humidity and moderate winds during the past few days have contributed to the fire danger in forested regions of southern Oregon, and Rogue River National forest personnel have asked forest visitors to use caution in the forest.

Snow is melting from most areas in Rogue River National forest, according to the weekly recreation report, but the Mt. Ashland Loop rd. still is closed because of snow. Some mountain trails also are closed by snow.

Following is the recreation report by district:

Applegate district: Ashland Loop rd. is still closed by snow below the Glade Creek rd. All other roads, except the Glade Creek rd., are open and are in good condition. Entrance to the Wrangle campground should be from the loop road and not from the Little Applegate.

All campgrounds are open, and are experiencing heavy use. More than 800 picnickers and swimmers used McKee and Jackson campgrounds on July 4.

Jackson campground, one mile from McKee, is being used, but facilities are limited. People should take their own tables and chairs when visiting the campground. It is planned to have full facilities by late August.

Fishing in the river is reported as poor, but it is fair in the smaller streams. The river and Carberry creek were stocked last week, but the location is unknown.

Warm weather is melting snow in the back country and making the river a "bit chilly" for swimming.

People are asked to be careful with fire and help keep the campgrounds and roadsides clean.

Ashland district: The roads at Fish Lake campground and North Fork, Beaver Dam and Daley Creek picnic grounds were treated with dust oil last week.

Forest service guards are now stationed at Big Elk Guard Station and Dead Indian-Soda Springs and Wagner Gap. Visitors are welcome at these stations. Visitors also are welcome at Robinson Butte Lookout and Wagner Butte Lookout.

Fishing is reported to be fair at Fish Lake. The wind has been troublesome for the past several days. Capacity crowds have been experienced in the forest service campgrounds and at Fish Lake Resort on week ends. Camping space is plentiful on weekdays.

Roads are now all open on the district except for the Mt. Ashland Loop rd. which is still blocked by snow. The road from Fish Lake to Lake of the Woods is fair, but construction activity is keeping it rough and dusty. The road to Fourmile Lake is now open.

Butte Falls district: Most of the snowpack in Blue Canyon is gone. Fishing has been fair to good with the better catches being taken by those in boats.

Heavy snowpack still blocks the trail into the Seven Lakes basin but most of the snow should be gone in the basin. No fishing reports have been received on this area.

Imnaha, Lodi Gap, and Camp 2 Guard Stations are open. The guards will be on duty week ends to be of assistance to the visitors.

Visitors are urged to sign the camp registers at the campgrounds and at the beginning of the trails into the limited areas. The information is important in determining the future recreation needs of the district.

All district roads are open and in good condition. Motorists are cautioned to watch for heavy logging traffic on the Twincheria rd. on weekdays.

Union Creek district: Tourists are advised to use caution on the lower portions of the Huckleberry Mt. and National-Wizard access roads because of heavy logging traffic. The Mt. Stella lookout road and Hershberger lookout road are open.

A change in the weather has brought warmer temperatures and clear skies making fishing conditions ideal. Reported catches are few.

All campgrounds are now open. To provide additional facilities in our Union Creek campground, road construction will continue throughout the month, Monday through Friday.

Beckies Cafe is now open 6:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. standard time. Tourist accommodations are available at the Union Creek resort. Supplies and gas may be purchased from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. standard time.

Code Is Approved

Ashland - A revised administrative code was presented to the Ashland city council last week by City Attorney Harry Skerry. It was approved.

Duties of the city superintendent were outlined, giving him maximum authority over department heads, the exception being those officers elected by the people and/or appointed by the mayor.

Property owners on Hillview dr. between Peachy rd. and Siskiyou blvd. appeared at a pavement hearing which resulted in ordering on pavement and gutters. Thirteen resident petitioned for the improvement.

Three protested the excessive cost, saying that their frontage totaled four-sevenths of the paving or more than 2,000 feet. They expressed intention to take legal action to prevent paving.

In uncontested action, pavement and gutters were ordered for all of Greenbrier place.

Neil Creek water rights were offered to the city by J. P. Clark and R. E. Van Vleet for $40,000, and the offer was referred to the water committee which will report at the July 17 council meeting.

In other action, Earl A. Johnson was granted a lease on the shop building of the old Cotton Mill. Johnson expects to use it for a cut stock operation loading platform.

A petition to close Wightman st. between East Main st. and Siskiyou blvd. to heavy traffic and logging trucks was referred to the street committee.

Democratic Picnics Sheded July 22

Annual picnics of the Democratic parties of Jackson and Josephine counties will be held jointly Sunday, July 22, at the new Valley of the Rogue State park, Ralph James, picnic chairman, said recently.

The park is located between Gold Hill and Rogue River.

Robert Y. Thornton, Democratic candidate for governor, will be the principal speaker.

Also attending will be Sen. Wayne Morse. Other candidates present will be Robert Duncan, candidate for congressman from the fourth district; Norman Nilson, labor commissioner; and Charles Cray, candidate for state representative. They also will speak.

Favors and prizes will be provided for children attending the event.

Pre-Registration Plan Instituted at Southern Oregon

Ashland - A newly-devised plan of freshman pre-registration for the coming fall quarter is being instituted at Southern Oregon college, Dr. Alvin A. Fellers, director of student affairs, has announced.

About 400 pre-registration cards have been dispatched to prospective freshmen through out the geographic region served by Southern Oregon college, including Douglas, Coos, Curry, Josephine, Jackson, Klamath and Lake counties.

Students who plan to enroll at SOC for the first time this fall are asked to report to the college on any one of four Wednesdays during July and August for academic counseling and scheduling for the fall courses. The dates are July 18, July 25, Aug. 1, and Aug. 8.

Benefit Students, Faculty
Fellers said that pre-registration would benefit both students and faculty. Faculty members at Southern Oregon would be partially relieved of the heavy load which academic advisors have during the usual Freshman Week in late September, while students would have the advantage of knowing what they are going to take.

Summer session faculty members, Dr. Fellers said, who will undertake this advisorship will remain the academic advisor for the student throughout the coming school year insofar as possible.

Thus, the student who pre-registers will not only have advanced knowledge of the courses he will take, Dr. Fellers said, but also will be acquainted with the campus and his academic counselor. The rigors of the first week of collegiate life will be lessened, Fellers added.

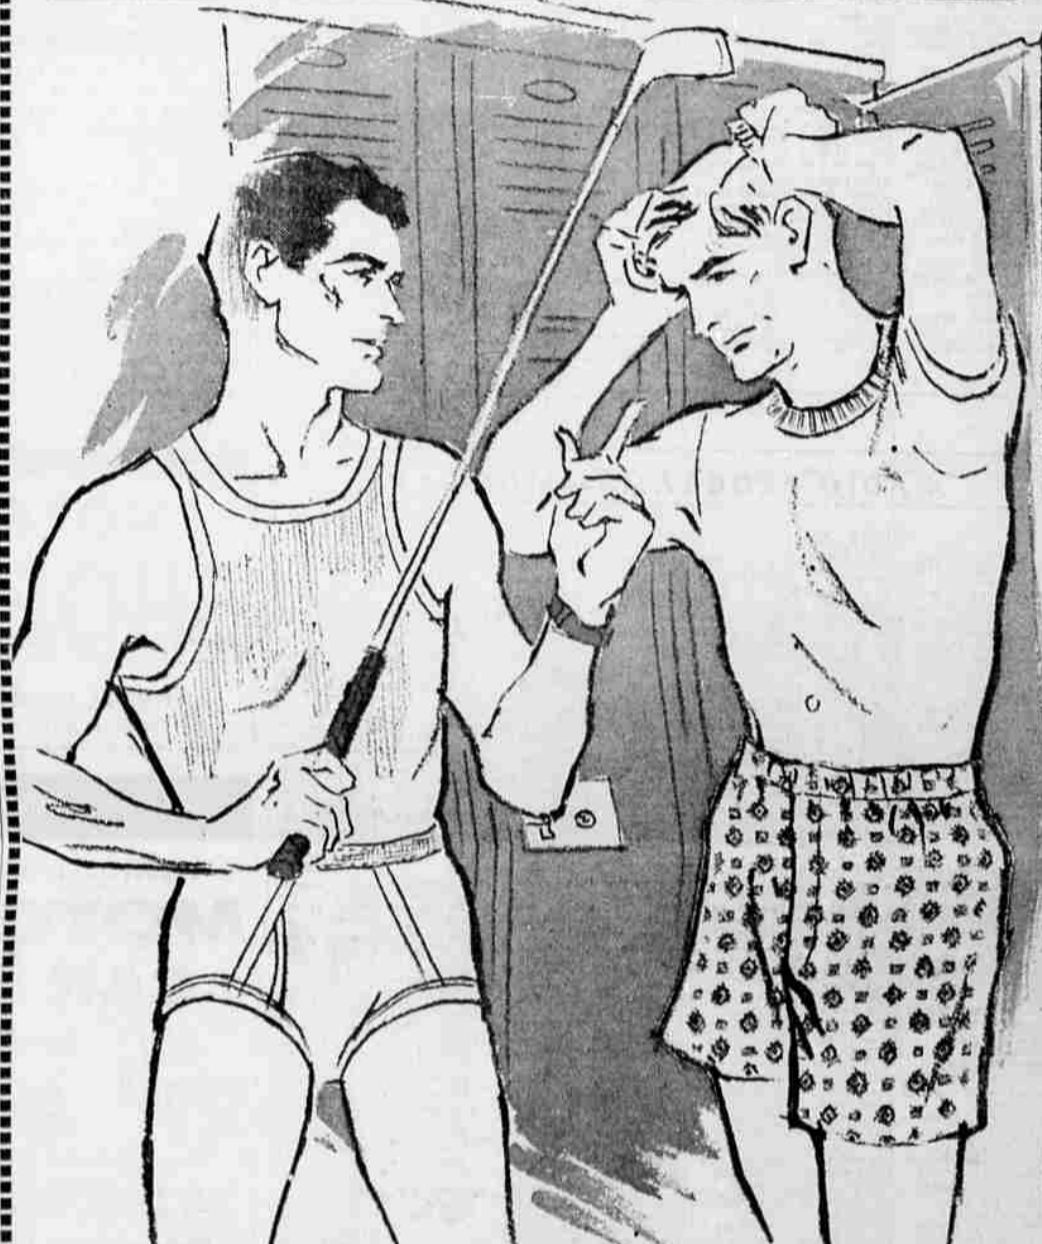

Person who plan to attend Southern Oregon college as first year students this fall, but who did not receive one of the cards, which were mailed last week, have been invited to report to Churchill hall, room 100, on any one of the four Wednesdays when pre-registration will occur, Fellers said.

To Administer Tests
He also pointed out that Southern Oregon college will administer the SCAT tests to the pre-registrants July 13 and Aug. 1 who do not have college board scores and for those who do not have the "C" average from high school required for admission.

The SCAT test is used by SOC for placement purposes. Fellers pointed out that SOC does not require the College Entrance Examination Board tests for admission. Some students will desire to take other achievement tests if they plan to enter special advanced classes in science, mathematics or foreign languages.
