

Thornton Professionally Incompetent, Hatfield Declares

Foreign Briefs

WILLIAMS ON EUROPEAN TOUR
Paris—(UPI)—G. Mennen Williams, U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs, arrived Sunday night from Washington on the first leg of a five-country European tour.
A U.S. embassy spokesman said Williams had meetings scheduled with members of the French foreign office about "mutual interests in Africa."
Williams will be here for three days before leaving for Bonn. He also will visit London, Brussels and Rome.

PREHISTORIC DRAWINGS FOUND IN CAVE
Johannesburg, South Africa—(UPI)—A secret cave decorated with brilliantly-colored prehistoric drawings has been discovered by an amateur South African moviemaker. It was reported here.
Reports said the moviemaker, Charles Kent, found the cave high in the Southpansberg mountains of the northern Transvaal province. Kent, a farmer, said it was painted with pictures of buffalo, antelope, giraffes and a mysterious animal that looked like a goat standing on its hind legs.

TRUCK-BUS CRASH IN SPAIN KILLS FOUR
Valladolid, Spain—(UPI)—Four persons were killed and 25 injured Sunday when a truck crashed into a bus jammed with people on a day off from work, according to police. All the victims were Spaniards.

KHRUSHCHEV TOASTS CUBAN PEOPLE
Moscow—(UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev toasted Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and "the heroic Cuban people" at a dinner Sunday night in honor of a Cuban military delegation headed by armed forces minister Raul Castro.
Moscow radio said the dinner was given by the communist party central committee and the council of ministers. Castro, exchanging toasts with Khrushchev, expressed "thanks" to the Soviet Communist party and the Soviet people.

SOUTH AFRICA PONDERS DRIVING CHANGE
Johannesburg, South Africa—(UPI)—South Africa may consider a change from the British system and have the country's drivers drive on the right side of the road instead of the left.
The country's road safety council has recommended that the government consider the change before it modernizes the nation's roads.

Hostess Asks Help Of God as Airliner Ploughs Into Field

Amarillo, Tex. — (UPI)—Hostess Linda Howard said a prayer, then bravely set out to calm passengers Sunday just before her Continental Airlines Viscount II turboprop airliner crash-landed in a wheat field.
Miss Howard, 22 remembered almost all her safety procedure. She did not, however, fasten her own seat belt.
One passenger of the 13 persons and three crew members aboard required hospital treatment, for a cut right ear. The $1 million plane exploded twice just after the last person got off. Fire quickly engulfed the plane, which was a total loss.
"I just asked God to help them get down as safely as possible," Miss Howard, of El Paso, said.
Pilot Larry Lauratis executed a low-altitude turn after take-off, then brought the big plane down on its belly in the stubble of a recently-harvested wheat field. Lauratis said he knew the craft was in trouble from the minute of take-off.
The plane came to rest a mile from the airport.
"It turned out to be a good choice for a place to put her down," Lauratis, 43, said.
"In the back of my mind I was hoping that Linda was having no trouble with the passengers," Lauratis said.
Lauratis, Miss Howard and co-pilot Ed Gorman of El Paso all credited their training for emergencies with the safe landing.
Mrs. Connie Carothers, 70, of Fullerton, Calif., was the only person hospitalized. She was treated for a cut below an ear and was released. Ten other passengers were treated and released.

Three Residents Use Mercy Flights Inc.

Three patients were flown by Mercy Flights, Inc. in the past two days. Miss Claudia Potts, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Potts, 409 North Keeneway dr., was flown from Napa, Calif., to Medford yesterday. Miss Potts contracted mononucleosis and was flown home to recuperate.
Also transported yesterday was Aaron Ayres, 12 North Groveland ave. Ayres received a broken back in a water skiing accident on Shasta lake when he hit a submerged rock. He was flown from Redding, Calif., to Medford and taken to Rogue Valley hospital for treatment.
Mrs. Daniel Reams, 205 Portland ave., was flown to Los Angeles today. On arrival she was taken to the Kaiser foundation hospital in Harbor City, Calif., for further treatment of an illness.

ABOARD CRUISER
Kenneth A. Davis, gunner's mate third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Davis, 749 Posse lane, is serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Helena. The cruiser participated in Exercise Peach Tree off the California coast recently.

Sheep Field Day Held by 4-H Clubs

Yreka — Siskiyou county sheep field day was held recently at the Dudley ranch, according to Carl Hammond, club reporter. Melanie Dudley and the Etna Hi 4-H Club managed the day at which 30 4-H youngsters and 20 leaders and parents were present.
Talks were given by Marshall Martin of Shasta Valley on range sheep production and by Dr. Andrews of Ft. Jones on sheep diseases. C. M. Griswold, Grenada, demonstrated the tagging of a sheep and then sheared it. A demonstration of how to tell a sheep's age by its teeth was given by Melanie Dudley with a group of sheep of different ages. Other demonstrations were given by Ruth Mathews on ram markers, and Carl Hammond on docking lambs and on castrating. There was also a group demonstration on the preparation of lambs.
Tom Hayden showed feet trimming. Roberts Ashcraft showed washing a lamb. Wendy Cassidy demonstrated carding wool and Mike Cassidy demonstrated building a blocking stand.
Melanie Dudley demonstrated blocking a sheep then gave each youngster a chance to practice blocking and carding on a group of her sheep. Larry Maplesien made a sheep blanket and Bill Roodman had a class in showmanship where each 4-H'er participated.
Following lunch the group adjourned.

Stocks Lower on Light Turnover

New York — (UPI)—Stocks moved irregularly lower on fairly light turnover in early trading today.
Leading steels ranged from a 1/2 point lower in Bethlehem to a point lower in Youngstown and Allegheny-Ludlum. GM dropped 1/2 and Chrysler gained 1/4 in the motors. Most of the international oils were down minor fractions. Chemicals were narrow, except for Du Pont down 1/2 point.
Bills, utilities and miscellaneous blue chips were fractions lower in most instances. Some of the volatile growth stocks were under pressure, notably IBM and Polaroid down close to 3/4 point.

Phony Opinions Said Rendered by Attorney General

Bend—(UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield Saturday questioned the professional competence of Oregon Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton, and criticized what he termed "lousy, phony opinions" coming out of Thornton's office "year after year."
Thornton is Hatfield's Democratic opponent for governor in November.
"I would like to see a bar poll to see how other attorneys feel about his professional competence," Hatfield declared.

Hatfield charged that Thornton has reacted to the industrial development of Oregon "with apathy, indifference and sarcasm."
Statement Said 'Insult'

As for Thornton's charge recently that Hatfield is avoiding the Republican party label, Hatfield noted that he has been on the ballot 27 times as a Republican. He called Thornton's statement "an insult."
The governor said that Thornton's campaign so far has been built on "pettiness" and "inaccurate statements."

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr., joined in the criticism of Thornton and said electing Thornton governor would be "like appointing Billy Sol Estes Secretary of Agriculture."

Hatfield said that contrary to the Democratic assertions progress has been made in Oregon during the Hatfield administration, including a growth of the state's economy last year of 4.6 per cent compared to 3.1 per cent nationally under the Kennedy administration.

Hatfield tore into the national administration and said the President has dealt a series of "body blows" to the national economy.
Hatfield strongly criticized the President for refusing to set up a quarterly quota system on imports of Canadian lumber into the U.S. as a means of temporary relief for Northwest lumber.

The governor announced that Appling would be the working chairman of the Hatfield reelection campaign this year, succeeding Portland Attorney Lamar Toole, who will be in Europe.

Text of Oregon GOP Principles

Bend—(UPI)—Text of the Statement of Principles approved here Saturday by the Oregon Republican convention:
"The Republican Party of Oregon stands for freedom, for opportunity, for responsibility. It believes in a limited form of government, based upon constitutional principles, that seeks as its goal the maximum extension of individual liberty. It rejects the philosophy which assumes that government is responsible for all aspects of the citizen's well-being. Republican philosophy rests on the doctrine that the individual has God-given rights and dignity and that government's role is that of servant, not of master."
"The Republican Party of Oregon
"Believes in the individual's right and capacity to govern himself, to set his own goals and make his way toward them without the restraints of dictatorship or paternalism.
"Believes in providing adequate aid for the aged, ill, unemployed and needy and in assisting the restoration of such persons so far as possible to productive citizenship.
"Believes that human rights cannot exist without the individual right to keep and manage the rewards of his own efforts and asserts that any government that confiscates its citizens' possessions through excessive taxation and spending violates a fundamental freedom.
"Believes in fiscal responsibility through careful management of the people's tax money and the protection of citizens' savings, pensions and insurance from erosive inflation.
"Believes in maintaining the separation of the powers of government, with an effective system of checks and balances to protect the rights of the people and prevent the acquisition of dictatorial power by any branch of government.
"Believes that continued growth of federal bureaucracy smother individual liberties and that the role of local and state governments must be revitalized to preserve our republican form of government.
"Believes that in order to provide employment, good working conditions and a higher standard of living for all, it is essential to have a tax, labor and business climate that will assure adequate wage and profit levels and permit our industries to expand and be competitive at home and abroad.
"Believes that it is properly government's role to promote equality of opportunity for each individual and for all individuals, regardless of race, creed or national origin, in such areas as education, employment, housing and public accommodations, but it is not proper for government to attempt to force all persons into the same mold or to impose upon them uniformity of condition.
"Believes that attempting to solve our economic and social problems through give-away programs destroys individual initiative, self-reliance and tends to corrupt the moral fiber of the nation."

Regional Edition Page 2-A

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE
MEDFORD, OREGON, MONDAY, JULY 9, 1962

Communications Satellite To Be Launched Tuesday

Cape Canaveral—(UPI)—U. S. Scientists were ready to fuel up a three-stage rocket today for an attempt to launch the first privately owned "Telstar" radio-television communications satellite into orbit around the earth.
The 170-pound moonlet, which could pave the way for global radio and television programs within about four years, is scheduled to ride into space early Tuesday morning aboard a three-stage Delta rocket.
The ball-shaped satellite, built at a cost of nearly $1 million and composed of 10,000 parts, was safely tucked in the bulbous nose of the slender rocket. Technicians were expected to put fuel in the upper stages and begin the first half of a long countdown today.
The United States hopes to put the satellite into an orbit which will carry it once around the earth every two hours and 20 minutes, at altitudes ranging from 800 to 3,500 miles.

You'll grab at the savings!

Semi-Annual SHOE sale!

OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 9

Petite Debs
SOME AS LOW AS $4.90

CASUALS and FLATS
SOME AS LOW AS $1.90

SAMPLES
48 and 4 1/2" NOW 25% OFF

ONE GROUP FOLD-UP TRAVEL SLIPPERS $1.50

ONE GROUP THONGS 50¢ and $1.50

Natural Poise
SOME AS LOW AS $5.90

KEDETTES
Reg. $3.95 and $4.95 NOW $2.95

HANDBAGS 25% OFF

Pick's! SHOES

102 East Main Street

Saskatchewan Premier Calls in British Peer in Doctor Strike

Regina, Sask. — (UPI)—Premier Woodrow S. Lloyd said today he had called in a British Labor peer to help find a solution to a nine-day-old doctors' strike against Saskatchewan's controversial medicare program.

Lloyd said in a prepared statement his Socialist administration asked Lord Taylor, a former Labor member of Parliament and a medical consultant, to "study" the medicare situation. But Lloyd added, "It cannot be said that he is coming as a mediator."

"Lord Taylor is recognized throughout the world as an outstanding surgeon and as a parliamentarian," the Premier said.

The strike by 900 physicians against North America's first socialized medical care plan started July 1. The ranks of doctors providing emergency medical service were spread even thinner over the week end as physicians were reassigned to meet shortages about the province.

Medical Services, Inc., a voluntary, non-profit, prepaid health plan, proposed that it carry out a health insurance program for the government either alone or in conjunction with other private health insuring organizations.

Under the proposal, the government would underwrite basic health insurance, determine the level of benefits, set and collect premiums and designate beneficiaries. MSI and other health groups would offer additional levels of coverage over and above that provided by the basic government insurance, such as for drugs, special nursing, specialist care and private hospital accommodations.
MSI said it would operate the plan for the cost of claims and an administrative fee to be negotiated later.

An appealing feature to the doctors would be that it would remove them from dealing directly with the government to collect their fees.
Haley Horne, assistant secretary of the provincial College of Physicians and Surgeons, said Sunday, "The college is extremely interested in the fact that a private prepaid plan would be allowed to continue under the medical care act if the MSI proposal were accepted. The MSI plan has been looked at by the college."

Premier Lloyd, who returned to the province Saturday after a three-day absence, bitterly denounced the doctors instead of extending an expected olive branch.

He said that as far as he was concerned, the issue was no longer "simply a matter of medical care," but the medical profession's "challenge to the procedures of constitutional government."
"If this challenge continues," Lloyd said, "the situation will be comparable to anarchy."

House Cleaning? TRY MODERN CLEANERS' DRAPERY SERVICE

Your Modern Cleaner Driver Will...
• Take Down Your Drapes
• They Will Be Beautifully Cleaned
• "Decorator Folded"
• The Driver Will Rehang the Drapes for You
No Extra Charge for Our Extra Service!

HAND FINISHED DRESSES
Professional Care for Wash and Wear!

S&H Green Stamps
FREE PICKUP & DELIVERY

MODERN CLEANERS
Phone 772-4590

211 W. Main Across From COPCO

Phony Opinions Said Rendered by Attorney General

Bend—(UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield Saturday questioned the professional competence of Oregon Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton, and criticized what he termed "lousy, phony opinions" coming out of Thornton's office "year after year."
Thornton is Hatfield's Democratic opponent for governor in November.
"I would like to see a bar poll to see how other attorneys feel about his professional competence," Hatfield declared.

Hatfield charged that Thornton has reacted to the industrial development of Oregon "with apathy, indifference and sarcasm."
Statement Said 'Insult'

As for Thornton's charge recently that Hatfield is avoiding the Republican party label, Hatfield noted that he has been on the ballot 27 times as a Republican. He called Thornton's statement "an insult."
The governor said that Thornton's campaign so far has been built on "pettiness" and "inaccurate statements."

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr., joined in the criticism of Thornton and said electing Thornton governor would be "like appointing Billy Sol Estes Secretary of Agriculture."

Hatfield said that contrary to the Democratic assertions progress has been made in Oregon during the Hatfield administration, including a growth of the state's economy last year of 4.6 per cent compared to 3.1 per cent nationally under the Kennedy administration.

Hatfield tore into the national administration and said the President has dealt a series of "body blows" to the national economy.
Hatfield strongly criticized the President for refusing to set up a quarterly quota system on imports of Canadian lumber into the U.S. as a means of temporary relief for Northwest lumber.

The governor announced that Appling would be the working chairman of the Hatfield reelection campaign this year, succeeding Portland Attorney Lamar Toole, who will be in Europe.

Text of Oregon GOP Principles

Bend—(UPI)—Text of the Statement of Principles approved here Saturday by the Oregon Republican convention:
"The Republican Party of Oregon stands for freedom, for opportunity, for responsibility. It believes in a limited form of government, based upon constitutional principles, that seeks as its goal the maximum extension of individual liberty. It rejects the philosophy which assumes that government is responsible for all aspects of the citizen's well-being. Republican philosophy rests on the doctrine that the individual has God-given rights and dignity and that government's role is that of servant, not of master."
"The Republican Party of Oregon
"Believes in the individual's right and capacity to govern himself, to set his own goals and make his way toward them without the restraints of dictatorship or paternalism.
"Believes in providing adequate aid for the aged, ill, unemployed and needy and in assisting the restoration of such persons so far as possible to productive citizenship.
"Believes that human rights cannot exist without the individual right to keep and manage the rewards of his own efforts and asserts that any government that confiscates its citizens' possessions through excessive taxation and spending violates a fundamental freedom.
"Believes in fiscal responsibility through careful management of the people's tax money and the protection of citizens' savings, pensions and insurance from erosive inflation.
"Believes in maintaining the separation of the powers of government, with an effective system of checks and balances to protect the rights of the people and prevent the acquisition of dictatorial power by any branch of government.
"Believes that continued growth of federal bureaucracy smother individual liberties and that the role of local and state governments must be revitalized to preserve our republican form of government.
"Believes that in order to provide employment, good working conditions and a higher standard of living for all, it is essential to have a tax, labor and business climate that will assure adequate wage and profit levels and permit our industries to expand and be competitive at home and abroad.
"Believes that it is properly government's role to promote equality of opportunity for each individual and for all individuals, regardless of race, creed or national origin, in such areas as education, employment, housing and public accommodations, but it is not proper for government to attempt to force all persons into the same mold or to impose upon them uniformity of condition.
"Believes that attempting to solve our economic and social problems through give-away programs destroys individual initiative, self-reliance and tends to corrupt the moral fiber of the nation."

Regional Edition Page 2-A

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE
MEDFORD, OREGON, MONDAY, JULY 9, 1962

Communications Satellite To Be Launched Tuesday

Cape Canaveral—(UPI)—U. S. Scientists were ready to fuel up a three-stage rocket today for an attempt to launch the first privately owned "Telstar" radio-television communications satellite into orbit around the earth.
The 170-pound moonlet, which could pave the way for global radio and television programs within about four years, is scheduled to ride into space early Tuesday morning aboard a three-stage Delta rocket.
The ball-shaped satellite, built at a cost of nearly $1 million and composed of 10,000 parts, was safely tucked in the bulbous nose of the slender rocket. Technicians were expected to put fuel in the upper stages and begin the first half of a long countdown today.
The United States hopes to put the satellite into an orbit which will carry it once around the earth every two hours and 20 minutes, at altitudes ranging from 800 to 3,500 miles.

You'll grab at the savings!

Semi-Annual SHOE sale!

OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 9

Petite Debs
SOME AS LOW AS $4.90

CASUALS and FLATS
SOME AS LOW AS $1.90

SAMPLES
48 and 4 1/2" NOW 25% OFF

ONE GROUP FOLD-UP TRAVEL SLIPPERS $1.50

ONE GROUP THONGS 50¢ and $1.50

Natural Poise
SOME AS LOW AS $5.90

KEDETTES
Reg. $3.95 and $4.95 NOW $2.95

HANDBAGS 25% OFF

Pick's! SHOES

102 East Main Street

Phony Opinions Said Rendered by Attorney General

Bend—(UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield Saturday questioned the professional competence of Oregon Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton, and criticized what he termed "lousy, phony opinions" coming out of Thornton's office "year after year."
Thornton is Hatfield's Democratic opponent for governor in November.
"I would like to see a bar poll to see how other attorneys feel about his professional competence," Hatfield declared.

Hatfield charged that Thornton has reacted to the industrial development of Oregon "with apathy, indifference and sarcasm."
Statement Said 'Insult'

As for Thornton's charge recently that Hatfield is avoiding the Republican party label, Hatfield noted that he has been on the ballot 27 times as a Republican. He called Thornton's statement "an insult."
The governor said that Thornton's campaign so far has been built on "pettiness" and "inaccurate statements."

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr., joined in the criticism of Thornton and said electing Thornton governor would be "like appointing Billy Sol Estes Secretary of Agriculture."

Hatfield said that contrary to the Democratic assertions progress has been made in Oregon during the Hatfield administration, including a growth of the state's economy last year of 4.6 per cent compared to 3.1 per cent nationally under the Kennedy administration.

Hatfield tore into the national administration and said the President has dealt a series of "body blows" to the national economy.
Hatfield strongly criticized the President for refusing to set up a quarterly quota system on imports of Canadian lumber into the U.S. as a means of temporary relief for Northwest lumber.

The governor announced that Appling would be the working chairman of the Hatfield reelection campaign this year, succeeding Portland Attorney Lamar Toole, who will be in Europe.

Text of Oregon GOP Principles

Bend—(UPI)—Text of the Statement of Principles approved here Saturday by the Oregon Republican convention:
"The Republican Party of Oregon stands for freedom, for opportunity, for responsibility. It believes in a limited form of government, based upon constitutional principles, that seeks as its goal the maximum extension of individual liberty. It rejects the philosophy which assumes that government is responsible for all aspects of the citizen's well-being. Republican philosophy rests on the doctrine that the individual has God-given rights and dignity and that government's role is that of servant, not of master."
"The Republican Party of Oregon
"Believes in the individual's right and capacity to govern himself, to set his own goals and make his way toward them without the restraints of dictatorship or paternalism.
"Believes in providing adequate aid for the aged, ill, unemployed and needy and in assisting the restoration of such persons so far as possible to productive citizenship.
"Believes that human rights cannot exist without the individual right to keep and manage the rewards of his own efforts and asserts that any government that confiscates its citizens' possessions through excessive taxation and spending violates a fundamental freedom.
"Believes in fiscal responsibility through careful management of the people's tax money and the protection of citizens' savings, pensions and insurance from erosive inflation.
"Believes in maintaining the separation of the powers of government, with an effective system of checks and balances to protect the rights of the people and prevent the acquisition of dictatorial power by any branch of government.
"Believes that continued growth of federal bureaucracy smother individual liberties and that the role of local and state governments must be revitalized to preserve our republican form of government.
"Believes that in order to provide employment, good working conditions and a higher standard of living for all, it is essential to have a tax, labor and business climate that will assure adequate wage and profit levels and permit our industries to expand and be competitive at home and abroad.
"Believes that it is properly government's role to promote equality of opportunity for each individual and for all individuals, regardless of race, creed or national origin, in such areas as education, employment, housing and public accommodations, but it is not proper for government to attempt to force all persons into the same mold or to impose upon them uniformity of condition.
"Believes that attempting to solve our economic and social problems through give-away programs destroys individual initiative, self-reliance and tends to corrupt the moral fiber of the nation."

Regional Edition Page 2-A

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE
MEDFORD, OREGON, MONDAY, JULY 9, 1962

Communications Satellite To Be Launched Tuesday

Cape Canaveral—(UPI)—U. S. Scientists were ready to fuel up a three-stage rocket today for an attempt to launch the first privately owned "Telstar" radio-television communications satellite into orbit around the earth.
The 170-pound moonlet, which could pave the way for global radio and television programs within about four years, is scheduled to ride into space early Tuesday morning aboard a three-stage Delta rocket.
The ball-shaped satellite, built at a cost of nearly $1 million and composed of 10,000 parts, was safely tucked in the bulbous nose of the slender rocket. Technicians were expected to put fuel in the upper stages and begin the first half of a long countdown today.
The United States hopes to put the satellite into an orbit which will carry it once around the earth every two hours and 20 minutes, at altitudes ranging from 800 to 3,500 miles.

You'll grab at the savings!

Semi-Annual SHOE sale!

OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 9

Petite Debs
SOME AS LOW AS $4.90

CASUALS and FLATS
SOME AS LOW AS $1.90

SAMPLES
48 and 4 1/2" NOW 25% OFF

ONE GROUP FOLD-UP TRAVEL SLIPPERS $1.50

ONE GROUP THONGS 50¢ and $1.50

Natural Poise
SOME AS LOW AS $5.90

KEDETTES
Reg. $3.95 and $4.95 NOW $2.95

HANDBAGS 25% OFF

Pick's! SHOES

102 East Main Street

Phony Opinions Said Rendered by Attorney General

Bend—(UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield Saturday questioned the professional competence of Oregon Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton, and criticized what he termed "lousy, phony opinions" coming out of Thornton's office "year after year."
Thornton is Hatfield's Democratic opponent for governor in November.
"I would like to see a bar poll to see how other attorneys feel about his professional competence," Hatfield declared.

Hatfield charged that Thornton has reacted to the industrial development of Oregon "with apathy, indifference and sarcasm."
Statement Said 'Insult'

As for Thornton's charge recently that Hatfield is avoiding the Republican party label, Hatfield noted that he has been on the ballot 27 times as a Republican. He called Thornton's statement "an insult."
The governor said that Thornton's campaign so far has been built on "pettiness" and "inaccurate statements."

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr., joined in the criticism of Thornton and said electing Thornton governor would be "like appointing Billy Sol Estes Secretary of Agriculture."

Hatfield said that contrary to the Democratic assertions progress has been made in Oregon during the Hatfield administration, including a growth of the state's economy last year of 4.6 per cent compared to 3.1 per cent nationally under the Kennedy administration.

Hatfield tore into the national administration and said the President has dealt a series of "body blows" to the national economy.
Hatfield strongly criticized the President for refusing to set up a quarterly quota system on imports of Canadian lumber into the U.S. as a means of temporary relief for Northwest lumber.

The governor announced that Appling would be the working chairman of the Hatfield reelection campaign this year, succeeding Portland Attorney Lamar Toole, who will be in Europe.

Text of Oregon GOP Principles

Bend—(UPI)—Text of the Statement of Principles approved here Saturday by the Oregon Republican convention:
"The Republican Party of Oregon stands for freedom, for opportunity, for responsibility. It believes in a limited form of government, based upon constitutional principles, that seeks as its goal the maximum extension of individual liberty. It rejects the philosophy which assumes that government is responsible for all aspects of the citizen's well-being. Republican philosophy rests on the doctrine that the individual has God-given rights and dignity and that government's role is that of servant, not of master."
"The Republican Party of Oregon
"Believes in the individual's right and capacity to govern himself, to set his own goals and make his way toward them without the restraints of dictatorship or paternalism.
"Believes in providing adequate aid for the aged, ill, unemployed and needy and in assisting the restoration of such persons so far as possible to productive citizenship.
"Believes that human rights cannot exist without the individual right to keep and manage the rewards of his own efforts and asserts that any government that confiscates its citizens' possessions through excessive taxation and spending violates a fundamental freedom.
"Believes in fiscal responsibility through careful management of the people's tax money and the protection of citizens' savings, pensions and insurance from erosive inflation.
"Believes in maintaining the separation of the powers of government, with an effective system of checks and balances to protect the rights of the people and prevent the acquisition of dictatorial power by any branch of government.
"Believes that continued growth of federal bureaucracy smother individual liberties and that the role of local and state governments must be revitalized to preserve our republican form of government.
"Believes that in order to provide employment, good working conditions and a higher standard of living for all, it is essential to have a tax, labor and business climate that will assure adequate wage and profit levels and permit our industries to expand and be competitive at home and abroad.
"Believes that it is properly government's role to promote equality of opportunity for each individual and for all individuals, regardless of race, creed or national origin, in such areas as education, employment, housing and public accommodations, but it is not proper for government to attempt to force all persons into the same mold or to impose upon them uniformity of condition.
"Believes that attempting to solve our economic and social problems through give-away programs destroys individual initiative, self-reliance and tends to corrupt the moral fiber of the nation."

Regional Edition Page 2-A

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE
MEDFORD, OREGON, MONDAY, JULY 9, 1962

Communications Satellite To Be Launched Tuesday

Cape Canaveral—(UPI)—U. S. Scientists were ready to fuel up a three-stage rocket today for an attempt to launch the first privately owned "Telstar" radio-television communications satellite into orbit around the earth.
The 170-pound moonlet, which could pave the way for global radio and television programs within about four years, is scheduled to ride into space early Tuesday morning aboard a three-stage Delta rocket.
The ball-shaped satellite, built at a cost of nearly $1 million and composed of 10,000 parts, was safely tucked in the bulbous nose of the slender rocket. Technicians were expected to put fuel in the upper stages and begin the first half of a long countdown today.
The United States hopes to put the satellite into an orbit which will carry it once around the earth every two hours and 20 minutes, at altitudes ranging from 800 to 3,500 miles.

You'll grab at the savings!

Semi-Annual SHOE sale!

OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 9