

All-Day Service Now Available at Humane Society

Twenty-four-hour-a-day service is now available at the Southern Oregon Humane Society, where six small doors have been installed for animal deposit.

The doors, located at the society at 2902 Table Rock rd., open into cages, from which animals are removed periodically by the attendant in charge.

Each door is labeled. Four are for small dogs and cats, while the other two are for large dogs. The doors open from the outside at any time of day. After the animal has entered, they automatically are locked inside.

The project was financed through a special fund of donations, according to Bill Herring, humane officer. He added that the Medford society is the only one in Oregon having such a service.

Checks Cages

After being gone from the society, Herring checks the deposit cages on his return. He then transfers any animals found to regular quarters in the society.

Herring said the purpose of the setup is to encourage residents to give unwanted animals to the humane society. "Many people," he said, "are reluctant to face the humane officer, and so dump their animal in the woods somewhere, believing it will learn to fend for itself." Tame pets usually are killed by other animals or starve, he said.

Installation of the deposit system will enable people to leave pets without having to face the officer. In this way, it is possible for the society to find a suitable home for the animal. It is hoped by the humane society that people will use the service.

"We have had quite good response so far," Herring said, emphasizing the availability of the service.

Storm Leaves Hail In National Park

Wednesday afternoon's thunderstorm activity in southern Oregon brought rain, lightning and hail to areas in Crater Lake National park.

Francis Jacot, assistant chief ranger, reported considerable hail between 1 and 3 p. m. Wednesday, especially in the higher elevations on the south side of the lake. There also were several lightning strikes, causing at least one small fire. The hail fall was so heavy in some spots, the ranger noted, that it whitened the ground like snow.

There were reports of some snow flurries throughout the park, but it did not stay. One park spokesman reported a few white patches from about two miles inside the west boundary of the lake to the Diamond Lake junction. No new snow was reported near park headquarters.

Park rangers reported that considerable snow remains on the north side of the lake from winter storms. The drifts now are a maximum of 10 feet in depth.

It was pointed out that it is "rather unusual" to have much fresh snow this time of the year. However, park records show that snow has fallen at the lake during all 12 months of the year, rangers added.

Medford Youth Hurt In Valley Accident

Jerry Michael Bogart, 19, of 1310 Sweet rd., Medford, was treated at Rogue Valley hospital for a cut on his right hand last week following an automobile accident on Dark Hollow rd.

According to state police, Bogart was a northbound on Dark Hollow rd. when his car skidded in loose gravel. He was taken to the hospital for treatment by state police.

In another accident, a car and two-wheel trailer were extensively damaged at the intersection of Ross lane and Sage rd.

According to state police a car operated by Gary Lane Gustafson, 27, of 1695 Ross lane, was attempting to make a left turn from Sage rd. onto Ross lane at the same time a Jeep operated by Byron O'Neil Beasley Jr., 20, of 3487 New Ray rd., Central Point, attempted to turn left from Ross lane onto Sage rd. The Jeep had cleared the intersection, police said, when the Gustafson car collided with a two-wheel trailer pulled by the Beasley vehicle.
