

Expensive Hotel To Open Near City Of Caracas Soon

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International
Caracas, Venezuela — (UPI) — A $40 million hotel started five years ago by the Venezuelan government is scheduled to open by the end of the year under the management of a leading U.S. hotel chain.

The hotel, possibly the world's most expensive at a cost of about $100,000 per room, is situated on a beach an hour and fifteen minutes' drive from Caracas and only a few minutes from Venezuela's chief seaport of La Guaira and Maiquetia international airport.

To be called the Sheraton Macuto, the 410-room hotel, with rooms beginning at $9 for a single and $13 for a double, consists of four buildings containing 16 kinds of Italian marble, espresso machines, television in every room, a snack bar and enough washers and dryers in the basement to operate a commercial laundry.

Extending along 1,500 feet of beach are a 12-story main hotel building with a night club, bar and health club on the top floor. Next to it is a smaller structure devoted to apartments for long-term guests. The two other buildings were constructed on the Hawaiian land principle of informal living and plenty of fresh air. Cabanas have been installed on the beach for Venezuelans wishing to join the hotel's beach club.

Under a long-term contract, the government will own the hotel while Sheraton operates it. The hotel was to have opened last spring, after long negotiations, but Sheraton experts arranged for the government to make a number of alterations to make the resort more attractive to large conventions. Foremost among the changes is construction of an air-conditioned ballroom large enough to accommodate 1,000 convention delegates.

Because the hotel expects to serve around 2,000 lunches on week ends and a mere 200 on some week days, its officials want to make the operation as flexible as possible.

Restaurants
A specialty restaurant will feature seafood, with guests being able to select their fish or lobsters from a tank in the middle of the room. On the beach will be an outdoor grill and snack bar. In addition, plans call for a night club and several other restaurants. The installation of shops will make the hotel a self-contained resort.

Three Divisions
The beach, protected by a man-made reef, will be divided into three sections, one for the public, one for members of the private club and

Week End Trip To Coast Is Slated

Ashland — Southern Oregon college is sponsoring a week end trip to the Oregon Coast Saturday, July 21. Bob Bennett, summer session recreational director, has announced.

Townpeople are invited and may begin making reservations Thursday at the SOC student affairs office.

Four members will leave Britt Student Center at 4:30 a.m. and return at 6 p.m. The bus will be equipped with a public address system, restrooms, and air conditioning. The student fee is $3.50 per person and the non-student fee is $4. This includes a light breakfast en route, Bennett said.

Activities scheduled include stops at Cave Junction, Crescent City, Jedediah Smith State Park and Redwood Forest.

Dr. Irene Hollenbeck of the college science department will serve as naturalist. Lunches may be taken individually or packed by the college for 75 cents.

NOT FINGERPRINTS
London — (UPI) — A laborer was freed Tuesday on a charge of breaking into a fruit store when an expert testified that toothmarks on a pear identical with the defendant's might belong to another person. Toothprints, the expert testified, are not as unique as fingerprints.

from the United States to Venezuela, where they are being manufactured from native woods. Upholstery fabrics, drapery materials, carpets, china, silver and glassware are being sent from the United States for assembly by Venezuelan craftsmen.

"It is going to be a truly international hotel," a Sheraton official said.
