

WIGS GONE—Wigmaker Jack Evans holds a hairpiece dropped by a thief as he stands behind eight mannequins who were snatched bald in his shop in Hollywood, Calif. Evans told police a browsing shopper lifted three of them before the store was closed. He left the case open so police could complete their fingerprint tests. When he returned to the shop the next morning, five more were missing. Value of the stolen merchandise is $1,600. (UPI)

Grange News

Phoenix Grange

Acting master at the last meeting of Phoenix Grange was Lecturer, Mrs. Lloyd Lay, as both the master and overseer were absent.

Charles Hockersmith reported the hay crop as good. He also told about a meeting he attended and heard a student from Katanga, Africa. The student described the African soils and the primitive manner in which farming is done in his country.

Mervin Hixon stated that raising alfalfa seed commercially has been found to be a high cost operation to the small grower.

Vaughn Quackenbush suggested it is now time to summer prune roses. He explained how to do the job and its benefits. He also reported a heavy crop of Bartlett pears in the area.

Mrs. Olin Poe was escorted to the master's station where she received a community service award.

During the literary program a piano solo was played by Mrs. Jesse Sanders followed by a skit by Mrs. Quackenbush and Mrs. Raymond Cyr. Mrs. Willis House read an article on preservation of flowers using corn meal and borax.

The serving committee was Mr. and Mrs. Harland Glasscock and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Simmonds.

WINE CONSUMPTION

New York—The wine industry still has a long way to go to make Americans real wine drinkers. Although wine consumption is rising steadily, it is still only about one gallon a year per capita, against 30 in France.

BACK PAY

Chicago, Ill.—Back pay awards to employees discharged or laid off because of their union activities exceeded $1.5 million during the year ending June 30, 1961, according to the Commerce Clearing house.

Wheat Exports In State Decline

Salem—Wheat exports from Portland declined sharply in the export trade year which ended June 30, the Oregon Agriculture department said today.

Exports from Portland totaled 38.4 million bushels compared to 53.1 million bushels the previous year, and 48.8 million bushels two years ago.

Total grain exports, with grain the runnerup to wheat, were also down. Total grain exports for the trade year just ended totaled just over 60 million bushels, down from the 64.8 million bushels last year, and the 71.9 million bushels two years ago.

T. Ralph Berry, grain division chief for the department, said Oregon wheat growers may lose some of the markets they have developed in Asia for white wheat unless they get relief under present federal wheat allotments.

Minear Sees Higher School Finances

Eugene—Dr. Leon P. Minear said Wednesday that by 1964-65 the state should be paying school costs based on $150 per census child, or 48 per cent, moving to 50 per cent thereafter.

The state superintendent of public instruction said the present state contribution to local school costs of $120 a census child should increase to $135 per census child by 1963-64, or $77 million, and 46 per cent of local school costs.

He addressed a school finance workshop here on the University of Oregon campus. Minear said that more than 1,000 new classrooms will be needed in Oregon in the next biennium. He predicted that by 1965, some 12,000 more teachers, supplies, equipment and transportation facilities will be needed.
