

American Legion Players Honored

Members of the Medford American Legion junior baseball team were honored Tuesday night with a dinner at North's Chuck Wagon restaurant, Medford.

Charles P. Champlin, Medford police chief and guest speaker, praised the Legion officers, the baseball sponsors and the players themselves for their efforts.

Impressive Record
"You have rolled up an impressive record," the chief told the group. "We don't always come out on top."

Champlin praised the officers of the AL, saying they had been a "hard core" and had "kept it (the baseball program) going." He said the "distinguished guests" were, however, the players. The speaker admitted it was an expensive program, but certainly worthwhile. He emphasized several rewards the youths receive through their participation in Legion baseball—the art of developing friendship ("A good friend is invaluable"); learning sportsmanship; and developing the art of "clean living."

The police chief, who has long supported such youth programs, praised John Kovenz and Clifford McLean, coaches, for the time they have devoted to Legion baseball. He also recognized the sponsors—Coca-Cola Bottling company of Medford, Beck's Bakery and Weeks and Orr furniture. Champlin said the sponsors "believe in the program."

Offers Inspiration
"The American Legion offers the inspiration that makes the program possible," the guest speaker maintained. "And the basic asset is represented by the players in this audience tonight," he continued.

It was pointed out that there are about 20,000 AL baseball clubs in the nation. More than a half million youths are participating in Legion play nationwide, according to Champlin.

Coach McLean summed up the feelings of those present by saying the local youths were "darn good ball players and darn good citizens."

Citations Given
Citations for "meritorious service" were presented by the AL, Post 15, Medford, to Granvil Britsan, local Le-

'Century 21' Wins

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho—(AP)—Veteran Bill Muncy piloted Miss Century 21 to her second straight Diamond Cup unlimited hydroplane race victory here Sunday afternoon on Lake Coeur d'Alene.

About 70,000 fans lined the lake shores to watch the Century 21 win the final heat with an average time of 101.085 on the three-mile oval-shaped course and take the $2,500 first place prize money. A total of $10,000 went for prize.

The Tempest of Seattle was second in the final run. She was followed in order by the Seattle Too, Such Crust of Detroit, Miss Tahoe of Reno, Nev., and the Notre Dame of Detroit.

Muncy showed that he could win in a field of 12 as easily as he had last year against half as many. He kept the Century 21 tight on the corners as he won all three heats he entered. In the two prefinal go-rounds the Seattle boat averaged 108 miles per hour.

The Tahoe Miss, which as the Maverick won the first two Diamond cups, ran a dis-

World champion racing driver Phil Hill has been racing in competition for more than 15 years. Hill uses Super Shell gasoline.

Phil Hill with his 1931 Pierce Arrow Town Cabriolet. Shell products help him keep this classic automobile in "mint" condition.

World Champion Phil Hill talks about the gasoline he uses—reports that Super Shell, with 9 ingredients, gives him top performance on and off the track.

CALIFORNIA'S Phil Hill is the first American to win the World Championship for Drivers. Now battling for the 1962 title, Hill uses Super Shell in the Ferrari racers he drives. Here are his own words:

"I use Super Shell. Actually, I look for the same qualities in a gasoline that most drivers look for. Good anti-knock qualities, for example. Fast starts. And power when I need it. It's simply a matter of all-round performance. And Super Shell gives me that."

"I look for good anti-knock qualities"
Hill knows that Super Shell's nine-ingredient blend includes no fewer than three anti-knock ingredients:

Super Shell ingredient number one is anti-knock mix. This Super Shell ingredient guards against common, everyday knock.

Super Shell ingredient number two is Alkylate, known for fighting hot-engine knock at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

Super Shell ingredient number three is famous TCP* additive. TCP fights a kind of knock called "wild ping." It "fireproofs" the deposits that could cause this trouble.

"I look for fast starts"
A slow, hesitant start after a pit stop could make the difference between winning and losing a race for Phil Hill. Quick starts are important to you, too. Here's how one of Super Shell's ingredients helps your engine start promptly:

Super Shell ingredient number four is Butane, for quick starts. Butane is so eager to get going it can boil and turn to vapor even on ice. This means quick starts throughout the year—even when the weather is very cold.

"...and power when I need it"

In a race, Phil Hill needs power above all else. You probably rate power pretty highly, too. And today's Super Shell helps your engine deliver the power you want.

Super Shell ingredient number five is "cat-cracked" gasoline. Super Shell's potent power ingredient. You'll feel "cat-cracked" gasoline at work every time you put your foot down hard on the accelerator.

Ingredients your car needs

Those are five of Super Shell's nine ingredients—the five that are most important to Phil Hill in racing. Off the track, his car needs all nine ingredients. Yours does, too.

Here are the other ingredients and what they do to give your car top performance: Super Shell ingredient number six is Plat-formate. Super Shell's extra-mileage ingredient. Alone, it can release about 8 percent more energy than the finest 100-octane aviation fuel.

Super Shell ingredient number seven is gum preventive. It helps keep carburetors clean inside, helps cut the chances of costly repair bills.

Super Shell ingredient number eight is Pentane mix. Pentane mix works for smooth "warm-ups."

Super Shell ingredient number nine is anti-icer (added when the weather calls for it), to help your carburetor ward off ice that could make your engine stall.

Now you know what all nine Super Shell ingredients do for top performance.

Next time you need gasoline, remember what Phil Hill says: "I use Super Shell. It's a matter of all-round performance."
