Iced Drinks Offer Cool Summer Relief

Hot summer weather is a brought to a full boil. It may then be poured over the tea or tea bags in a teapot, and carefully timed for steeping from three to five minutes.

Strain the tea into a pitcher, and let remain at room temperature until ready to serve. Then pour the tea into ice-filled glasses and add sugar and lemon to taste.

Coffee may also be made into a refreshing cool drink for the summer heat. With little effort a hostess may concoct mocha frosted. To do this, she should put two and one-half cups strong cold coffee into a mixing bowl. Add five tablespoons chocolate syrup and one pint coffee ice cream.

MANOR-ISMS

By ETHELYN EVANS

Our Administrator, Walter Higgins, is off for a special institute on management problems for housing retired persons held at Glenwood Springs, Colo. The institute is limited to 100 participants from the western states. We Manor members are certain that the housing problem has been superbly solved and settled for all time in this Manor building, so we feel that Mr. Higgins will have much to contribute, but doubt that the institute can give him many worthwhile pointers on that subject. Could be we are somewhat egotistical and smug - we hope not!

Let's go back to the ground floor of the Rogue Manor. (What? Again?) Well, I haven't told you all about our huge recreation room in the south wing. The room is the size of a city lot - 110 by 40 feet. We have mentioned the line of pool and billiard tables on the west side. In the center section we have two fine shuffle-board courts. They have been perfectly constructed and lovingly waxed and waxed to a high, smooth polish ready for speed. And, we betide any member who dares step on that polished surface or rake in a disc with the wrong end of the cue.

We have some expert advisors who know how the courts should be used. They have been most patient and generous in giving their time to instruct us in the game. They try to teach us the scientific way and then the practice and skill are up to us. Our woodworking hobby crowd has provided chestbenches for storage and seats, and locker cupboard for shoes and other individual sports equipment.

Naturally, ordinary shoes are not recommended. Shoes should be non-slide, etc., providing the proper foundation for the proper stance. It all sounds like and is like that harrowing game of golf. Nothing in this world is simple and happy-go-lucky any more, it seems, we must work hard at our play.

Full length of the eastern side of the room, we have something few had even heard of: an indoor bowling on the green court. One hundred fifty-one square yards of fine Welton, tightly woven, green carpet were used for this. Bob Evans, Santa Barbara, Calif., and Dr. C. C. Coudens, Palo Alto, Calif., both members of lawn bowling clubs in their respective cities, were among the first arrivals; and both left their personal bowling equipment for the use of beginners and other players as they arrived at the Manor.

Now the lockers are filled with equipment, and that bowling green has been a very popular place all winter for both men and women. Eventually, rival teams will be organized here and, I suppose, challenge outside clubs.

Also, in this recreation room we have small and special games, two "solitaire" disc games and an interesting "skittle" board table. This was hand made in the famous Berkia, Kentucky Mountain School and was presented to the Manor by the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Buhl, members from Pittsburgh, Penna. These three games are the delight of the visiting grandchildren, properly supervised by doting grandparents, of course.

Our congenial and efficient beauty shop owner, Mrs. Dorothy Totten, insists the Manor crowd is the "going out" bunch of customers she has ever encountered. Few regular weekly appointments.

Houseguests

Recent houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Hadley A. Yow, 109 Oak drive, Medford, were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Yow, and their two children of Greensboro, N. C.

The Thomas Yow family left Tuesday after spending several days in the valley. They had driven west to attend the Seattle World's Fair. Mr. Yow is a printer with the Greensboro Daily and News Record newspapers.

because members continually sail off for all points and then rush back, wanting appointments just before leaving and immediately upon return - which leaves her frantically busy or killing time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mosler have returned from a stay of several months in the Eastern states, mostly in their former home in Orange, N.J. They report that they enjoyed the trip and seeing old friends but are delighted to return to our valley. No eastern living for them ever again, they insist. Their houseguests this week are Rev. Dr. Benjamin Minnie and Mrs. Minnie, Rector of Grace Episcopal church in New York City. Dr. Minnie was formerly the rector of the Grace Episcopal church in Orange, N.J., to which the Moslers belonged.

The college and career class of the Community Bible church in Central Point gave the young couple a shower on June 20. The entire congregation of the church was invited, and about 90 persons were present.

Both Miss Reid and Mr. Evers are members of the church.

Their wedding is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 3, in the Central Point church. Miss Reid is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Reid, 541 Fairmont street, and Mr. Evers is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest E. Evers, Elma, Wash.

A commemorative four cent stamp issued by the Post Office department in honor of Girl Scouting's 50th anniversary went on sale nationally July 25. Pictured purchasing the first sheet of stamps to be sold at the Medford Post office Wednesday are (left to right) Julie Clarke, a Brownie from Troop 95; Cindy Vance, an Intermediate Scout of Troop 13; and Teresia Emmerich, a Senior Scout of Troop 192, all of Medford. Gerald D. Harper, postal clerk, is shown as he hands the stamps to the Scouts. The stamp depicts the head of a Senior Girl Scout against the stripes of the American flag, and is in red and white. It is significant that the stamp went on sale during the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup which opened July 18 and will continue through July 31 at Button Bay State Park, Vermont, on the shores of Lake Champlain. Major features of the roundup concern observances of the 50th anniversary. "Honor the Past - Serve the Future," is the Roundup's theme. (Kenn Knackstedt photo)

Self-Expression Essential For Interior Decoration

By GAY PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor

New York (UPI) - Do-it-yourself decorating succeeds if the homemaker remembers to let her own personality shine through the plan, says one leading interior decorator.

If the woman gets carried away and copies the pretty pictures in books and magazines, and their dictates on what colors are in currently, she's run-deep in trouble immediately, said Mrs. James R. Borzilleri.

"Forgetting to express herself and family in tastes and interests is one of the most common mistakes of the amateur," said Mrs. Borzilleri. "She winds up so far out in left field the results are what we in the trade call the 'drop dead' school-attention getting but not the least bit reflective of the woman's personality."

Long Distance Commuter - Elizabeth Borzilleri, whose clients include business and industrial as well as residential commissions, is a bustling blonde bundle of energy who commutes to her New York City offices from Buffalo, 584 air miles round trip.

"It's only 55 minutes each way by plane," she said. "After all, that's about the same time it takes to get between here and Tarrytown (a New York suburb) by train."

Mother Visits
