Siskiyou County News

Yreka—Rhody Aiden, assistant Siskiyou county health officer, will be the featured speaker at a no-host dinner meeting of the Siskiyou County Tuberculosis and Health Association Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Savoy Hotel in Weed, according to an announcement by Mrs. Edith Lea, Grenada, president of the local TB organization.

Alden's talk will be based on health problems of Siskiyou County, and he will answer questions pertaining to the newly formed Siskiyou County Public Health Service.

The no-host dinner is open to the public, and anyone interested in learning about the health problems of Siskiyou County and how the new department plans to cope with them is urged to attend.

Swim Classes
Yreka—Classes for beginners, advanced beginners and intermediate swimmers will begin today and run to Aug. 10, City Recreation Director Bob Weber announced.

Signups are not limited to Yreka children exclusively, Weber said. Children who have passed one class this summer may enroll in the next higher class and receive another card.

Classes will also be offered for advanced and adult swimming instruction during the same period. To begin this class a minimum of 15 students will be needed, Weber added.

Adults may phone 712-2262 to enroll in these classes. A fee of $3 will be collected at the first swim session.

Brother III
Hornbrook—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Breceda returned home Tuesday from a short trip to Coos Bay, Ore., where they were called by the critical illness of his brother, Roland A. (Ras) Breceda, a former resident of Hornbrook for many years.

Regional Roundup

by Cleve Twitchell
Mail Tribune Regional Editor

We hear that the weatherman said the only cool place in Oregon the last week was the coast. We can believe it. We went over there last Wednesday night and, after perspiring in the Rogue Valley, nearly froze on the coast. It wasn't really cold, but the contrast with 100-degree heat made it seem so.

During the day Thursday we took the Rogue river boat ride up to Agness and back. It's a pleasant trip, although on days when it's hot inland, one has to be equipped for varying temperatures. We left Gold Beach in fog, wearing two shirts and a jacket. A few miles up the river we were down to a single shirt. Remembering that a boat is a good place on which to get a wicked sunburn, we tried to keep covered up. But it's difficult to wear a mask in such situations, so we came home with a shiny, pink nose.

The boat trip seems to be rather popular. One of the women behind the counter at Gold Beach told us that over 300 had taken the ride the day before we did, requiring use of all the mail boats. That number dropped to around 150 the day we took the ride.

Passengers on the boats are given a choice of two lodges at Agness at which they may be served lunch—for $1.75 to $2.50 per person. For those on a limited budget, however, we are pleased to report that at least one of the lodges, the Singing Springs ranch, has free picnic facilities.

More From Bertha
We've had a couple of more letters from Bertha Hancock, our Phoenix correspondent, who is on a jaunt around the United States. She reports she drove—and at times swam—across from the Dakotas to New York state. It rained almost every day everywhere she went. The Midwest is nice and green, she reports, in contrast to the dry, tan (or should we say golden) hills east of Phoenix. From Montrose, N.Y. she wrote, "My hosts tell me there are 30 counties in New York that have been declared disaster counties because of drought. In fact it has gone four weeks without rain, so they're in trouble, and no one irrigates. Well, it's rained every day I've been here."

This report points up an interesting comparison between the East and the West. A month without rain in New York creates a disaster, whereas much of the West goes without rain for several months during the summer every year.

Flat on His Back
Bill Jeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jeter of Hornbrook, has made a couple of hundred parachute jumps without injury, reports Katherine Chapman, our Hornbrook correspondent. But recently he tripped while walking and suffered a broken back. Bill, a senior at Chico State college, has been brought to his parents' home, where he'll remain flat on his back for three weeks.

Central Point Jaycees Hear Cambridge Student

Central Point—The Central Point Jaycees held their regular weekly meeting July 26, Gak Hallett presiding.

Frank Brierly, a university student from Cambridge, England, was guest speaker for the evening.

Brierly said he wished that everyone in England could have an opportunity to visit the U.S. He is one of 19 students sponsored by the Jaycees now in Oregon for the summer. They were all in Medford last week end for the Oregon State Jaycees meeting.

Publicity Chairman Ernie Kennedy announced the Jaycees will sponsor a Northwest league baseball game to be played at Camp White Aug. 13. The proceeds will go to the stadium now being built at Crater High school.

Plans were made to have a food booth in the Gold Rush Jubilee to be held in Jacksonville.

The next meeting will be Aug. 2. All young men of Jaycees age are invited to attend.

Many Alterations In Facilities At Butte Falls School

Butte Falls—Much activity has been going on at the Butte Falls Elementary school during the summer months.

Many changes and new faces have been added to the buildings.

A centralized library has been built in one end of the gymnasium for the use of the entire grade school.

Additional changes include a new ceiling in gym, a fire wall installed in the main stairway, canopies over fire escapes, new blackboards installed, complete interior painting of building and gym, new locks on doors, two new floors installed, new wiring and lighting throughout gym and the removal of the old woodshed.

This has been accomplished under the direction of Leonard Stratton, principal of the Butte Falls Grade school.

A contractor from Central Point was hired for the main portions of jobs. Ray Chapman, grade school custodian has assisted throughout this summer project.
