Stocks Show First Drop in Six Days

New York—(UPI)—Stocks began the new month today with their first decline in six sessions.

The general list showed a heavy plurality of declines of fractions to around a point, but some of the colorful growth issues and the leading chemicals tumbled more sharply.

While most of the top oils, steels, motors, rails and utilities limited their losses to minor amounts, Du Pont shed more than 3 and Kodak around 2.

In the electronics, IBM lost around 10 and Fairchild, Litton, Beckman and Motorola at least a point. Among the big losers were Singer, Xerox, Polaroid, Coca Cola, Corning Glass and Crown Cork with losses ranging from 2 to 4.

Bill To Be Sent To Committee For 10-Day Study

Washington—(UPI)—Senate opponents of the administration's space satellite bill agreed today to halt their filibuster on the basis of a compromise that will send the bill to committee for a 10-day study.

Republicans, who Tuesday night blocked the first leadership effort to compromise the bitter dispute, agreed to the procedure today after being assured there was no likelihood the administration's farm bill would be called up for action in the interim.

Under the agreement, the controversial measure, opposed by a group of liberal Democrats will be studied for 10 days by the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

The agreement also was conditioned upon Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's promise that the satellite bill, when returned to the Senate floor by Aug. 19, would remain the pending business until disposed of one way or the other.

The bill would create a privately owned but government-regulated corporation to operate space communications satellites. Democratic liberals opposed to the measure had conducted a five-day filibuster against it.

Republican Sens. John G. Tower (Texas), Barry Goldwater (Arizona), and Roman L. Hruska (Nebraska), all of whom figured in holding up the agreement Tuesday night, accepted the compromise today.

Mansfield said he felt sure the Foreign Relations committee would start hearings on the communications bill Thursday.

Acceptance of the compromise by all sides ended the possibility of a cloture, or gag, move by the leadership.

Arizona Mother Considering Sweden As Solution To Problem of Abortion

Phoenix—(UPI)—A young mother seeking a legal abortion, rather than bear a child possibly horribly deformed because of a drug she took, looked with favor today on Sweden as a possible solution to her problem.

"I know we wouldn't go behind the Iron Curtain and it would be too expensive to go to Japan," said Mrs. Sherri Finkbine who has been thwarted in her home state in tries for legal clearance to terminate her pregnancy.

She added that "Sweden would be best—Sweden would be like home. It is very much like Minnesota where I was born."

Her husband, Robert, a high school teacher, said they still were exploring all possibilities and have not yet made any decision. It was expected the operation would have to be performed in the near future.

Mrs. Finkbine explained that the trip would be costly wherever they went and their only problem was money. She said they were not looking for any public financial support.

"This is our problem and we must solve it our own way. We will get a loan if we must. I think it would be easier to live with monthly payments for the rest of our lives than with the misfortune of a terribly malformed baby," she said.

The husband applied Tuesday in U.S. District Court to extend his passport to include his wife.

The application must be sent to Los Angeles where, if approved, it will enable the couple to travel anywhere in the world where U.S. citizens are allowed.

Finkbine used the passport a year ago when he chaperoned high school students on a tour of Europe. While on the trip in London he obtained tranquilizers containing the drug thalidomide.

Doctors recommended the abortion because the 30-year-old mother of four healthy children took the drug early in her pregnancy. A judge dismissed the case Monday which the local television star of a children's program had hoped would free her from possible prosecution.

Finkbine said Tuesday they were giving up their battle for a legal abortion and would "seek help in a more favorable legal climate." Arizona law says a mother's life must be in danger before such an operation can be performed.

Because of the time element involved, it was generally believed the Finkbines would leave the United States within the week for a country in which abortions are legal. Time is an essential factor in the Finkbines' decision. Doctors say that unless the abortion is performed before she has been pregnant three months, a hazardous Caesarian section would be required. Mrs. Finkbine has only 1 1/2 weeks before three months have elapsed.
