Reservists Complete Program of Study

FL. Lewis, Wash.—Approximately 200 reservists and national guardsmen have completed a two-week study program conducted here by the Portland U.S. Army Reserve school.

The students, who are from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, California, Wisconsin and Minnesota, received instruction in judge advocate general (JAG) and command and general staff (C and GS) classes.

The school, which began July 22 and concluded Aug. 4, presented courses that were a continuation of inactive duty instruction the students acquired at their home reserve schools.

Brown Wastes Little Time in Denying Clemency Request

(The Week in California)
United Press International
Gov. Edmund G. Brown wasted little time last week in denying a clemency appeal from Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Duncan and the two men she hired to kill her pregnant daughter-in-law.

Less than 24 hours after a clemency hearing for the three, the Governor issued 44 terse words saying that he had reviewed the facts, could find no reason for a commutation and that he would not intervene in the executions, which are scheduled in the gas chamber Aug. 8.

Following Brown's action, the State Supreme Court in San Francisco rejected a writ of habeas corpus and an appeal for a stay of Mrs. Duncan's execution. If an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court fails, Mrs. Duncan will be the fourth woman to be executed in California.

She and Augustine Baldonado, 28, and Luis Moya, 23, were convicted for the 1958 murder of Olga Duncan, wife of Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank. The two men pistol whipped and strangled the young woman on orders from the much-married "Mother" Duncan.

Less grim news connected with motherhood came from the state department of public health which said that although 75 California doctors had received the drug thalidomide for experimentation there were apparently no adverse effects from its use.

The department added that all the physicians who received the drug have either returned it to the maker or destroyed it. Thalidomide is the drug taken by Mrs. Sherri Finkbine of Phoenix, Ariz., who sought an abortion for fear of having a deformed child.

Also last week, four firefighters were fatally burned and two others critically injured when a brush and timber blaze in the Sierra National Forest swept over them. Observers on a borate-lifter plane above the men said that they were ahead of the fire lines when the blaze took a turn and suddenly engulfed them. The plane dropped its fire-suppressing borate directly on the spot, but without success.

ORANGE BOOM

New York —(AP)—Orange production in Florida has risen 239 per cent in the past 20 years and is expected to rise another 30 per cent in the next three years, according to a study of the Florida orange industry by Continental Can company.

And the furor over government attempts to tax reparations money paid to Japanese-Americans appeared headed toward a resolution. In Washington, Sen. Thomas Kuchel, (R-Calif.), introduced a bill to exempt the reparations funds, which were paid to Japanese-Americans who were relocated during World War II. Kuchel said that the taxation attempt added "insult to injury."

Girls: Two young female prisoners at the federal prison on Terminal Island created a waterfront diversion by climbing to the top of a 40-foot prison smokestack and remaining there for 38 hours.

Warden Raymond W. May called the action, which drew hoots from passing boats in the harbor and cheers from other women prisoners below, "kid stuff." He said that the girls, one 19 and the other 20, would not be punished. The girls climbed down Wednesday, probably because of hunger, lack of sleep, and sunburn.

May said they may have been inspired by a group of prisoners in Pittsburgh, Pa., who climbed a water tank and sat down several weeks ago.

Palmdale: Los Angeles county now has 74 cities inside its boundaries. The latest is the Mo'ave desert community of Palmdale, whose residents voted to incorporate July 31 by a 2 to 1 margin.

Auburn Dam: The Senate Interior committee has voted to authorize the $267 million Auburn Dam-Folsom South canal reclamation project. The dam and canal, which would be integrated in the Central Valley Project, would bring water from the American river to Sacramento and San Joaquin counties for irrigation, municipal and industrial use. The House Interior committee has not yet completed hearings on the measure.

McCarthy: Democrat Robert McCarthy, who broke with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's administration in a bitter dispute, has endorsed Brown's running mate, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson. McCarthy resigned as Brown's director of motor vehicles last year and said later that he was considering running against the Governor in the Democratic Primary.

Aerospace: Aerospace scientists at Caltech in Pasadena have asked the Los Angeles county board of supervisors for help in solving a space problem. They want to get rid of the traffic jam around the jet propulsion laboratory during quitting time.

Wineries: Negotiators for the Winery and Distillery

Workers union and representatives for 64 California wineries have proposed a new two-year contract. About 2,200 workers will vote on the proposals shortly. Pills: State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk warned that stimulant and hypnotic pills are replacing the marijuana cigarette in California's illicit drug traffic. "The price is right, the intoxication is great, the effects last longer—there are no tell-tale signs," he said.
