The strange objects in the sky, which we see by yesterday's "Potluck" column have caused a little excitement in Eugene, have also created some interest locally. We received a phone call a couple of weeks ago from a woman in Central Point asking if anyone could explain to her what she had seen the night before. She reported having watched a star-like object move slowly across the sky to about the center of it, then stop and hover for about five minutes following which it took off in another direction and gradually disappeared. Asked what we thought the object might have been, we remarked that it probably was nothing more than the Venus to Mars express.

We saw a star-like object too the same night as the lady in Central Point, but the one we saw did not stop. It just kept moving in a straight line and looked suspiciously like a satellite. We believe that there is ample evidence (for those willing to take the trouble to hunt for it) to indicate that our little planet here has been under occasional observation by extra-terrestrials for thousands of years. (Don't let that worry you. If the boys out there had any intention of taking us over, they would have done it when we were running around with clubs.) We see little need, however, to label every object in the sky an interplanetary spacecraft. As far as we're concerned, what we saw the other night looked like a satellite, because it did nothing extraordinary.

This business of satellites makes UFO detection more difficult because there are so many natural explanations that can be used to explain a sighting of a strange object in earth's terms (which seems to be a desperate necessity for some people.) We sometimes wonder what methods were used to explain away UFO sightings in the days when there were no conventional aircraft in the skies. (Interestingly enough, there have been numerous sightings of unidentified flying objects in just about every chapter of recorded history.)

An interesting case is the incident which took place, we are told, in 1902 over the city of Chicago. A large craft hovered over the center of the city for 20 minutes and projected some type of searchlight on the ground. This object was seen by thousands of people. It was photographed, and the photo along with news stories appeared on the front pages of Chicago newspapers. The photo and the newspapers are still in existence, we are told.

After the object had hovered for 20 minutes it took off and was triangulated between Chicago and a suburb. The triangulation showed that the object had traveled at a speed of 247 miles per hour. This fact more than any other caused the object to be dismissed, because scientists of the day argued that nothing solid could possibly travel at a speed of 247 miles per hour. According to the story, an astronomer, who hadn't seen the object, was consulted for his opinion. He replied that there just was no point in having an opinion, because the incident simply could not have happened. He advised that the best thing to do was to forget about it as quickly as possible. And that's pretty much what happened. The sighting was forgotten so completely that it took seven years of intensive investigation by a UFO researcher in Chicago before the fact that it had taken place at all could be documented.

The above case is a good example of the fallacy of the oft-heard contention, "Well, if there really are visitors from other worlds up there, why don't they just hover over a big city for a few minutes. Then everyone would be convinced they exist." In 1902 something did hover over a big city for 20 minutes, and it didn't prove a thing.

Prospect Jamboree Queen Competition Nearing Climax

By VELDA BARR
Prospect - Competition between four girls for the honor of being Prospect Hillbilly Jamboree queen is gaining tempo as the date of the jamboree, this Saturday Aug. 11, draws near.

Competing are Renalda Griffith, Donna Wilson, Jean Grisby and Sharon Valentine. The winner will be determined on the basis of ticket sales.

The senior class at Prospect High chose Miss Griffith, better known as "Snooks," as its princess. Snooks is quite active in school. Among her duties at school this coming year will be the office of student body president. Her biggest challenge right now in the world of sports is water skiing.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Griffith are her parents. She is 16 years old. The sponsor mother for the seniors this year is Mrs. Walter Anderson.

Miss Wilson is a blue eyed blonde and is representing the junior class. Her hobbies include swimming and collecting records.

She is 16 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Wilson of Prospect. Her activities in school include being vice president of the Girls American Athletic club and treasurer of the Pepsters. Donna was the winner of the Revolving Trophy for the third week in the contest.

Mrs. Everett Shafer sponsors the junior class.

Miss Grisby is the sophomore princess for the Jamboree. She is a cute little redhead, is 13 years old and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene C. Williams of Prospect. The class Jean represents was winner of the contest last year.

Jean likes to swim and is active in GAA and Pepsters during school. Mrs. Frank Boothby is the sponsor mother for the sophomores.

The freshmen choice for princess is Miss Valentine, who is 13 years old and is 5 feet 1 inch tall. Her hobbies include a little bit of everything. She is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Valentine of Prospect. Sharon won the Revolving Trophy awarded weekly for the first two weeks. Sharon's sponsor mother from the class is Mrs. Raymond Maurer of Prospect.

Illinois Valley - Contract loggers Roy Robinson, Jim Rodgers and John Rossiter have returned to logging on their job above Lake Selmac.

Work was held up a few days for some repairs due to the fire July 19.

The men expressed appreciation for all the help and time given in fighting the fire by Bill Moore and his state forest crew, the Cabax mill crew, including Raymond L. Frost and his big caterpillar and all the men that helped with the equipment.

H.C.L. IN EUROPE
New York-478-The cost of living in many European countries has risen much more steeply than in the United States in the past decade. The rise in this country was 13 per cent, compared with 42 per cent in France, 29 per cent in Britain and 22 per cent in Italy.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch-Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) - For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain - without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all - results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) - discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in proprietary or patented form under the name Protoproctol 20%. All all drug counters.

Paved Highway From O'Brien To Happy Camp Not Far Off

By LETHA COOKE
O'Brien - A paved highway from Happy Camp to Illinois Valley is a possibility that may become a reality in less than three years.

Local Forest Service personnel are surveying for a new road, which will completely renovate the present Page Mountain road from Four Corners to the Oregon boundary near Bolan Lake.

Klamath National Forest on the California side sold several large timber sales last year involving specific road construction, warranting paving and two lanes, and connecting with the present Forest Service surveys.

It is not known if Siskiyou county in California will undertake the oiling and maintenance of the road but in all probability the task will be accomplished for the benefit of the Happy Camp area.

The paved highway will give Happy Camp a link to Crescent City ports which is desirable for the large ore and lumber shipments which are a product of the region.

Happy Camp road starts at Redwood Highway 199 at O'Brien on a portion of road known as Waldo road. Happy Camp is shut off from Illinois Valley during the winter and early spring because of snow-fall on the existing route over Page mountain.

The Forest Service is also surveying a road from Happy Camp junction for timber access, which when completed, will come within 1/4 to 1/2 mile of Tannen Lake. Tannen is 3 1/4 miles from a parking area near Bolan Lookout. It is planned to leave Tannen lake a remote area by not constructing roads directly into the shore.

Contracts Awarded For District 9 Oil

Eagle Point - Western Oil and Burner, Valley Fuel, and L. G. McLaren companies have been awarded separate fuel oil contracts for the 1962-63 school year for District No. 9, subject to the Eagle Point School board's approval when it meets Thursday in the vocational agricultural building of the high school.

Bids were opened Aug. 1 at the Eagle Point School.

Bids were received from Farmers Supply, McLaren, Medford Fuel, Naumes Equipment, Valley Fuel, Western Oil, and Standard Oil companies with bids being requested separately for stove oil, fuel oil, and black PS 300.

A fraction of a cent per gallon was the deciding factor as several of the bids were very close. Valley Fuel company received the contract for stove oil at .136 with Western Oil and Burner the runner up at .14 per gallon.

L. G. McLaren company received the contract for fuel oil at .1249 per gallon with Valley Fuel and Western Oil and Burner both bidding .125 per gallon.

Western Oil and Burner was awarded the contract for black PS 300 at .0999 compared to McLaren's runner up bid of .1022 per gallon.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Starts in Yreka Tuesday

By DORIS ROBINSON
Yreka - Tomorrow has been proclaimed the opening day of a drive for funds to support Girl Scouts in Yreka.

Mayor Charles Cooley issued a proclamation last week urging area citizens to support the drive.

This is an annual independent fund drive carried on by the adult volunteers in the West Siskiyou district. The sum needed is $2,300 to support Girl Scouting.

There are 19 troops, 233 girls and 95 adult volunteers. A total of 136 girls attended Day Camp at Whispering Pines Camp and 24 girls are attending established camp at Lake of the Woods, while 71 adults volunteered their services as unit leaders, assistant leaders, etc.

It takes money to form new troops and its costs money to recruit and train new leaders and to provide the best program for girls. The girl scout camp is a vital part of scouting and it costs over and above the fee charged each girl scout to maintain and operate camps.

The Girl Scout Board of Directors determines the annual budget and accounts for all expenditures. The Girl Scouts get 10 cents from each box of cookies they sell and the same from their calendar sale. This money is used for day camp expenditures, while the drive is for operating costs.

Northern Siskiyou Little Leaguers Reach Tourney Finals Before Losing

Hornbrook - In the finals of the District One Little League Baseball tournament played at Toyon park in Redding July 29, the Redding American League All-Stars blanked the Northern Siskiyou All-Stars by a score of 25-0.

On July 28, in the first round games, Nor Sis defeated Dunsmuir 2-1, while a superbly strong Redding team was crushing Shasta Dam, 31-0.

In spite of their defeat in the finals, Nor Sis managers and coaches felt their Little Leaguers had done a fine job and had had a successful season, and that the youngsters had gained much valuable experience in sportsmanship and teamwork and in the art of losing gracefully as well as winning.

Parents of the Little Leaguers, too, felt that their sons had lived up earnestly and sincerely to the words in the Little League pledge - "I will play fair and strive to win, but win or lose, I will always do my best."

Members of the Nor Sis All-Stars team were, from Mon-tagne, John Teteins, Ronald Edeline, Stephen Sylva, Albert Bray, Erik Hansen, and Arthur Cooley; from Hill, Mike Tdina; from Gazelle, Patrick Campbell and Daniel Edwards; from Granada, William Fuller and Ralph Stroud; and from Hornbrook, David Rutledge, Billy Spearin and John Snyder.

Manager of the All-Stars was Jack Stacey, of Gazelle, season manager of the Gazelle Eagles, and coach was George Smith, season manager of the Hornbrook team.

Parents and friends from this area attending the tournament in Redding last week end were Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Lester (Ike) Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rutledge and daughter Ann and Miss Pat MacKinnon, and from Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Gino Trinea.
