Small Worlds Around Us

By Lynn W. Watkins

(Register & Tribune Syndicate, 1962)

This Pair 'Broke the Rule' And Nested in a Tree

An example of a common bird, apparently breaking the rule of following the well-marked ancestral trail, came to the attention of a man who watched a pair of house sparrows build a nest in a tree, while all its bird-contemporaries were constructing their messy masses of straw and odds and ends in the crannies of buildings.

The members of the sparrow family (the house sparrow is not one) build regular, conventional nests in trees and bushes. But the house sparrow is different, it builds a huge pile of what we call rubbish in a building or even on the ironwork of a city fire-escape.

Folks in tearing down a house sparrow's nest are usually amazed at the amount of material the birds have accumulated, and the nest is much different from that built by the true sparrows.

Good Reason

There is a good reason for breaking the rule at times, and it goes back a long way in ancestral behavior. This pair who were assembling in a tree this mass of rags, straw, papers and twine mixed in with a generous amount of feathers were really, after all, following the dictates of inherited instincts.

To the human observer these house sparrows were forsaking the usual sparrow-way; they were building in a tree, reverting a little to their ancestors, for the house sparrow is related to the weaver bird of Africa, and like it they were constructing a covered nest, fitted with a small opening at the lower side.

Mate Helps

Of course, Mrs. House Sparrow never could assemble all the necessary material all by herself. Her mate has to help. He seems as anxious to accumulate a great amount of material, as does his little brown mate.

Street gamins they are called, birds of low degree; little black and brown immigrants from across the sea. Once considered a city bird, the house sparrow has moved into the suburbs and rural areas. Today they are seemingly on the decline, in spite of the fact they are more widely distributed.

These two the man was watching build their nest in a tree were unconsciously showing their relationship with their ancient ancestors. They were repeating, in nest design and location, the influence of their weaver bird ancestors, by putting their messy structure in a tree instead of into the cranny of a building or on a steel fire escape.

Area of Tree Farms Increases in 1962

Washington–(UPI)– The industry-sponsored tree farm program of growing trees as crops under multiple-use forest management practices gained nearly a million acres in the first four months of 1962, according to the American Forest Products Industries.

Certified tree farm acreage on May 1 totaled 58,566,002 AFPI reported and the number of tree farms reached a record 23,294. Alabama led the nation with 6,251,735 acres, followed by Florida with 6,133,187.

BIGELOW

Oral auction bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor or his authorized representative at the office of the Forest Supervisor, P. O. Building, Medford, Oregon, beginning at 2:00 P.M., September 10, 1962, for all merchantable timber marked or designated for cutting on an area embracing 100 acres, more or less, within Sections 13 and 16, T. 40 S., R. 3 W., W. M., surveyed, in the Rogue River National Forest, Josephine County, Oregon. The estimated volumes are: 980 M board feet of Douglas-fir; 1,330 M board feet of ponderosa pine; 470 M board feet of sugar pine; 1,220 M board feet of white fir and other species. The minimum acceptable bid per M board feet is as follows: Douglas-fir $8.65; ponderosa pine $10.30; sugar pine $7.35; white fir and other species $4.65; This includes the following rates, per M board feet for stumpage including deposit for sale area betterment: $3.00 base rate plus an additional $4.20 for Douglas-fir; $3.15 base rate plus an additional $3.70 for ponderosa pine; $3.05 base rate plus an additional $2.85 for sugar pine; $2.00 base rate plus an additional $1.20 for white fir and other species and $1.45 for slash disposal for all species. The prices bid for stumpage shall be considered as tentative rates subject to quarterly calender adjustment upward or downward by 0.5 of the difference between the average of the monthly Douglas-fir Region Indices, as calculated by the Forest Service or the Western Pine Association Lumber Price Index for the three previous months, and the following base indices: Douglas-fir 105.15 (C); ponderosa pine 93.67; sugar pine 105.39; white fir and other species 92.98 (A). Such adjustments in the price for stumpage shall be applicable to timber scaled during the three-months period following the quarter for which the adjustment is computed. In no event, however, shall the payment rates for each quarter be less than the base rates as stated above. When the adjusted rates by species are lower than the base rates, the difference between the total dollar value of the timber cut at adjusted rates and at base rates will be recorded for each species. The stumpage rate for any species will not be increased above the base rate until the subsequent adjusted rates above the base rate will develop an accumulated total dollar value for all species in excess of the total recorded accumulated difference. Sealed bids will be publicly opened and posted, at the office of the Forest Supervisor, at 2:00 P.M., on September 10, 1962. All those who submitted a satisfactory sealed bid will be permitted immediately to continue auction bidding. A money order, bank draft, cashier's or certified check in the sum of $2,600.00 must accompany each bid, to be applied to the purchase price, refunded or retained for application to any claims for damages according to the conditions of sale. If requested by the purchaser, contract terms will permit felling of timber in advance of payment up to the value of the performance bond. If an oral bid is declared to be high at the closing of the auction, the bidder must immediately confirm the oral bid by submitting it in writing on a Forest Service bid form. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Forest Service bid forms for use in submitting sealed bids and full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale and the submission of bids should be obtained from the District Ranger, Star Ranger Station, Jacksonville, Oregon, or the Forest Supervisor, Medford, Oregon before bids are submitted.
