

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON—A newly organized valley orchestra made its first public appearance at Jacksonville last Sunday. Ray Oliver, who played in vaudeville for years is organizer and master of ceremonies. The band is composed of members of the Veterans' domiciliary at White City. They chose the name "Astronauts" because of the "high quality" of their music. (Charles Matthews photo)

'Astronauts' Orchestra Is Organized at Domiciliary

White City—Seventeen years ago the bomb was dropped on Hiroshima that brought World War II to an end.

The Veterans Administration this week is observing the anniversary, and at White City domiciliary, V-J Day will be a day to be remembered by several hundred of the veterans now living there.

In honor of this occasion, the Astronauts, newly formed dance and dinner orchestra, made their first public appearance as a concert group.

Members of the orchestra, who last week end played during the Jacksonville Jubilee, represent three wars—World War I, World War II and the Korean engagement.

They were organized by two members, Kenneth Haacker, who is director, playing five instruments on occasion, and Ray Oliver, formerly in vaudeville, master of ceremonies, playing base viol in the orchestra.

Band Members

Here are the other members of the band:

Randolph Paulson, plays violin, saxophone, clarinet, base and guitar as well as the piano. He was with Henry Busse, Charlie Barnett and was a bandsman during his Army service.

Benjamin Joseph, drummer, formerly with Anson Weeks and Dick Jergens, had his own orchestra in Sacramento, was also an Army bandsman.

Sidney Johnson, ex-Army band leader, plays trombone and trumpet, was with Archie Loveland, Tiny Burnett (Orpheum circuit) and Vic Myers of Seattle.

Art Kenton, dance and recording artist with Stan Kenton and with Vic Myers, plays clarinet.

Pat Fredericks, plays tenor sax and was a member of the Chuck De Poes All Indian band in Minnesota. Also with Art Moro Indian band, Nebraska.

Louis Nichols, accordionist, was with the VA Hospital band, Roseburg many years. Alred Crank plays guitar and other stringed instruments.

Only one of the group is without professional experience. He is Clem Brown, violinist, who came to the Domiciliary four years ago and became a musician here. He is mostly self taught but has received help from other musicians who have been here. He now plays along with the best of them.

VACATION—Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy (left) catches up with Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, as the two walk ahead of a pack train which was to take them to their campsite in the Olympic National park in Washington. The pack train included two dozen pack and saddle horses.
