Columns, Crossword Puzzle Seen To Improve Congressional Record

By DICK WEST
Washington—(UPI)—Think what you might about the quality of its contents, there are no files on the Congressional Record when it comes to speed.
It provides overnight in print form a complete transcript of the proceedings and debates in the House and Senate, and thus performs a valuable service.
By reading the Record, members of Congress are able to find out the next morning what they said and did the day before.
Recently, the House of Representatives voted to spend up to $50,000 for a study of ways to improve the Record's appearance, legibility and organization.
Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.), who introduced the proposal, suggested that the addition of a table of contents would be one way of making the Record more convenient to read.
You can immediately see the advantages that would offer. It would enable a member of Congress to turn immediately to his own remarks without having to skim over what the other members had said.

Mrs. Green also suggested

Bulk Petroleum Rate Hearings Due

Salem—(UPI)—Hearings on a proposal to cut bulk petroleum rates under certain conditions will begin in Portland Aug. 21, Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill said today.
The proposal of the Pacific Inland Tariff Bureau is to drop rates 9 per cent for shippers who use hauling equipment for 400 or more hours each month.
The proposed rates are now in effect from Coos Bay to any point in the state on a temporary basis.
The bureau wants to make the Coos Bay rate permanent and to extend it to all other Oregon shipping points.
Bulk loads of jet fuel, gasoline, kerosene, naphtha, stove oil, solvent, crude asphalt and other petroleum derivatives would be affected.
The proposal was bitterly assailed by some witnesses and praised by others during earlier hearings.

Welfare Recovery Totals $48,533

Salem—(UPI)—During June the welfare recovery division of the State Department of Justice collected $48,533, according to Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton.
Of this amount, $47,700 was collected for child support and $763.64 for welfare fraud.

'Land and People' Conference Slated At Portland Soon

Portland—Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, will be chairman and keynote speaker at a regional "Land and People" conference to be held in Portland's Municipal Auditorium Oct. 1-2. John A. Baker, assistant secretary for rural development and conservation, will serve as temporary chairman.
The conference will stress rural areas development and conservation. Its chief purpose will be to stimulate interest and participation in local development programs designed to make the best use of natural resources and insure adequate economic opportunity for people in rural areas and communities, Freeman announced.
Farmers, businessmen, educators, and civic and government leaders will be invited to present their proposals for insuring prosperity in their communities through rural redevelopment programs. More than 1,000 persons from Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, and Idaho are expected to attend the Portland meeting.
Freeman said the meeting and four other regional conferences are an outgrowth of the national "Land and People" conference held in Washington, D. C., last January. The other conferences will be at St. Louis, Sept. 17-18; Denver, Oct. 8-9; New Orleans, Oct. 15-16; and Philadelphia, Oct. 22-23.
"A major objective of the conferences," he said, "will be to broaden public realization of the interdependence of rural and urban people, and the stake that city people have in the welfare of our rural land resources and the people and institutions that provide our nation so bountifully with food and fiber. The meetings are being shaped up to provide the broadest possible opportunity for community leaders, department officials, state and local government to exchange opinions on the special problems and possible remedies in each region."
The Secretary said many rural areas must aggressively create income-producing enterprises and employment opportunities if they are to keep pace with the national economy.
Those attending will be asked how this can be achieved through such measures to improve and protect adequate family farms, provide conservation and more economic use of land and water resources, incentives for commercial and industrial growth, and the creation of

Actress Seeking Swiss Residence

Gstaad, Switzerland—(UPI)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor has started proceedings toward establishing permanent residence in Switzerland.
Miss Taylor is living at the $280,000 Chalet Ariel which she purchased last winter. "This is not sufficient under Swiss law to grant her residence privileges."
But an official source said negotiations concerning which part of the actress' income would be taxed in the future have already begun. Once the tax question is settled, Miss Taylor and her four children can be expected to obtain residence permits.
Miss Taylor has been making automobile excursions into the Alps and the Lake Geneva region, occasionally with actor Richard Burton, costar of her latest movie. Burton has a villa at Cully near Geneva, about two hours by car from here.

and Rep. Jack Westland (R-Wash.), a former amateur champion, could write one on golf. Or vice versa.
Another thing that might help would be to have a crossword puzzle. There are plenty of puzzles in the Record already but the crossword variety would be a novelty because it could be solved.
Finally, I think the Record would be vastly improved by adding a comic strip. It could be called "Bernie Earbanger, Boy Filibusterer."
If some cartoonist will supply the drawings, the congressman themselves can furnish the dialogue.
