David Maddock, Wilmington, Calif., was best man. The church was decorated with candelabra and white tapers, and blue and white gladioli.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath frock in a dark aqua shade for her daughter's wedding and the reception. Mrs. Bryant wore a gown of black and white silk organza with white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant gave the reception after the wedding which honored the newlywed couple. Assisting was Mrs. Ted Kelly, sister of the bridegroom.

The family of the bridegroom also gave a bridal shower for the couple before the wedding.

The newlyweds traveled to Catalina, Calif., for their wedding trip. The bride wore a white knit suit with orange accessories.

To slice Brazil nuts thin for a garnish, first parboil them for a few minutes, then slice with a vegetable peeler.

Mrs. George Flanagan (at left) wore a colorful oriental robe for the annual benefit tea given August 14 by the Women's association of First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Flanagan is shown serving Mrs. H. C. Massinger and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, who were among the 160 women who attended the party.
