

IN PARADE—The Ashland Elks Kilty band was one of many participants in last Saturday's parade during the Siskiyou County fair at Yreka.

Siskiyou County Fair Drew 30,000

Yreka—The Siskiyou county fair, held last week end at the fairgrounds in Yreka, drew some 30,000 persons, reported Ed Mathews, fair secretary-manager. Attendance was up 2,000 over last year. The 30,000 attendance figure was just 3,000 less than the entire population of Siskiyou county.

Total amount of money paid out in prizes came to $20,124.70.

The annual fair parade held on Saturday drew a large crowd all along its route through downtown Yreka. The entrants all won a blue ribbon for participating, but the following winners of the big award ribbons were announced by Parade Judge John Janson.

The Sweepstakes award winner was the Civil War uniformed sheriff's posse led by District Attorney Albert Newton.

The music division award was won by the Ashland Elks Kilty band.

Float division act that won the top award was won by Clarice Reidel, who was seen as a washerwoman of old-times.

The horse-drawn group award was won by the Pony club of Southern Oregon, the Riding group award by the Lancerettes of Montague.

The family unit award was won by Ruth Burton and Dorothy Newton in a horse-drawn buggy; the best-dressed single rider was Dorothy Heskig who was dressed in vintage 1800 clothes and rode side saddle.

12 Students Complete Happy Camp Program

Happy Camp—A party was given by Librarian Rena Gunter for the children taking part in the Smokey the Bear reading program at the library recently.

Miss Gunter, librarian for the Happy Camp branch of the Siskiyou County library, gave award certificates to twelve students completing a required number of books concerning conservation.

A guest speaker from the Happy Camp Ranger Station, Earmen Pence, spoke to the children explaining the meaning of the many Smokey the Bear posters that are displayed at various campgrounds and other places in the forest.

Pence also explained to the children the cause of the recent fire near Steelhead Resort and the cost of such a thing caused by a careless fisherman. Pence told the children how to build a proper campfire and to always follow the rules on the back side of the campfire permit.

Miss Gunter gave certificates to Danny Willis, John Reagan, Donnie Jensen, Mike Kuehl, David Kuehl, Joy Kanig, David Reagan, Jerry Kanig, Beth Walters, Bobbie Cretton, Edward Reagan, and Jay Dolezal.

At the start of this year's reading program there were 23 young readers enrolled, however due to vacation trips some of the youngsters did not complete the required number of books for certificates.
