Old West Scene Depicted By Butte Falls Lions Club Float

Butte Falls - A scene depicting the old West during the gold rush days was the theme of the float entered in the Jacksonville Jubilee parade by the Butte Falls Lions club.

Can-can girls, poker stakes with guns lying close at hand and a background of the old piano playing to cover some of the noise ever present in the old saloons, set the scene for the float.

Although Butte Falls didn't win a prize, spirits were kept high by the applause received up and down the parade route. Since this was a "first" for the Butte Falls club with much effort put forth, members are determined to build a permanent type float to be used on many occasions.

Butte Falls was asked to enter their float in the Prospect Jamboree parade held Aug. 11 but due to the early hour, it would have been impossible to get the float to Prospect and redecorate it by 10 a.m., club members found.

As it was it took two hours traveling time to get the large semitruck to Jacksonville to make final decoration for the parade there.

The Butte Falls Lions club would like to thank all connected with making this event possible. Many costumes and props were borrowed.

69 Who Attended School At Hornbrook During 1930's Have Reunion

By KATHERINE CHAPMAN
 Hornbrook - A feeling of nostalgia and good fellowship flooded the Grange hall here Aug. 11 as 69 former classmates of the Hornbrook grammar school, with their mates, gathered for their first reunion since their schooldays during the decade of the 1930s.

Plans for the reunion were begun last spring by several friends in the Hornbrook, Medford and Yreka areas, and in July invitations were sent to other classmates of their grammar school days.

Response Good
 The response to the idea of a get-together was heartwarming, and persons from 18 towns in California and from four in Oregon were present.

Gene Bray of Yreka acted as master of ceremonies, and called upon each of his former school friends to state their name, place of residence, number of children, and their "fondest memory of Hornbrook."

Stewart Kipp of Portola Valley, Calif., summed it up best when he said, "There was always a community spirit, and a sense of closeness here which I am sure we all felt, evidenced by the fact that we are here tonight." Others remarked that no matter how far away the intervening years may have taken them, Hornbrook was always "Home."

After the introductions were completed, the crowd called for a song from Eldred (Buddy) Gott, now superintendent of schools at Corning, Calif., and Mrs. Russell Seaman (Joy Clawson) of Yreka, and they responded with their old favorite, "Walking My Baby Back Home," which they had sung together at school and grammar programs.

A "chorus line" was formed by Mrs. Marjorie Bloomingcamp Snyder, Medford; Mrs. Gerald Schulte (Dorothy Cummins), Riverside, Calif.; Mrs. Stanley Balfrey (Edith Bray) and Mrs. Russell Seaman, both Yreka, who staged their old routine to the tune "The Sidewalks of New York." These four had tap-danced together during their childhood.

Posted at one end of the hall were old school pictures, childhood snapshots, graduation pictures, a copy of the school paper, "The Pines," printed in 1934, the school Christmas program of 1932, copies of old school songs, and a copy of the play presented in 1939 by the Epworth League.

Introduced
 Mrs. Loren Cummins (Ruth Howard) who spear-headed the reunion was introduced, and given an ovation by the guests who voted the affair so successful they would like to see it repeated.

Members of Hornbrook Grange who catered and served the dinner also were present. Music for the dance which followed the dinner was furnished by Harrison Howell, Ruth Rider, Tony Marin, and Lynn Wilton.

Mrs. Rider and Mr. Howell were members of the old Bradley orchestra which played throughout the county, and to which the guests had danced 25 years ago.

Mrs. Thomas, sister of Mr. Beck, entertained a family group at their Bill's Creek ranch during the Beck's visit throughout Southern Oregon.

Attending the picnic reunion were Mr. Beck's mother, Mrs. Eva Beck, Grants Pass, and two other sisters and brothers-in-law and their families: Mr. and Mrs. William White and children, Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Johnson, Klamath Falls; his nieces and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bertram, all of Medford; Mrs. Nell Thomas and the Robert Thomas' children, Lani, Sharon and Bob.

Places of tourist interest were visited by the Beck's who flew from the islands to Portland, where they took delivery of a new car in which to enjoy their vacation. Crater and Diamond Lakes, Oregon Caves, House of Mystery and Klamath Falls were all on their itinerary.

The Beck's journeyed to San Francisco, where they shipped their automobile and boarded a jet for their home in the islands.

Mrs. Eva Beck accompanied her son and family throughout their five week vacation with family and friends.

It was the family's first visit to the mainland and the first time Mrs. Beck had met her daughter-in-law and grandchildren.

Former Prospect Principal Moving To Shady Cove Area

Smith will be principal of the fifth through eighth grades and will also teach at Eagle Point. Mrs. Smith will teach seventh grade at Shady Cove. Smith was principal of the grade school in Prospect for several years, and Mrs. Smith taught home economics in Prospect one year.

The Smiths have four children, Shelly, Teryl, Greg and Kevin. Shelly and Teryl will go to the Shady Cove school. Greg and Kevin are not of school age yet.
