Official Report on Estes Allotments

Washington—UPI—An Agriculture Department official testified today that he wrote a false report whitewashing Billie Sol Estes' disputed cotton allotments on instructions from higher up.

The official, Thomas H. Miller, said he was given the "very definite impression" at the time that Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy, No. 2 man in the department, was among those who wanted him to write the favorable but false report.

Miller told the Senate investigating subcommittee that his instructions came directly from Emery E. (Red) Jacobs, deputy director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, who was asked to resign when the Estes scandals became public.

Miller related that Jacobs called him to his office Jan. 8 to tell him that Murphy wanted somebody "to take another look" at Estes' allotments.

Murphy had approved cancelling the allotments the previous month and had participated in a Jan. 6 meeting at which the cancellations were rescinded. Every Justification "In the course of the talk with me," Miller recalled, "He (Jacobs) said, 'I want you to find every justification to permit the retention of these allotments.'"

The witness added, "He also indicated and left me with the very definite impression that Mr. Murphy concurred in the idea."

Miller, acting director of the Southwest area ACSC, said he was "simply being loyal" to his superiors when he carried out his instructions as he understood them.

Subcommittee staff aides said a confidential memorandum written by Miller last Jan. 12, was a "whitewash job" on the Texas farm financier's profitable dealings in pooled cotton allotments.

The memorandum was prepared only six days after the Agriculture Department reversed an earlier stand and decided to hold up cancellation of Estes' suspect allotment transfers. In April, however, it ordered the allotments cancelled.

Other congressional news: Farm—The Senate was expected today to approve President Kennedy's sharply revised plan to curb feed grain surpluses and to impose rigid controls on surplus wheat production. The measure, which must go back to the House for action on Senate changes, represents the administration's last hope for a major farm bill this year. Even if approved, the feed-grain plan would fall short of the mandatory controls Kennedy requested.

House—The House remained in temporary recess until Thursday. The chamber began a 10-day slowdown last Friday in which it decided to meet only occasionally and not for any major legislation. It took the action when it became apparent that it was much closer to adjournment than the Senate.
