

American League Still Has Race; Angels Tip Yanks

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

There's still a race in the American League thanks to a Los Angeles Angel victory that is valued conservatively at $250,000.

Yep, it means that much to head off a New York Yankee runaway.

And that's just what the fighting Angels did Thursday when they salvaged the third game of their series with a 5-4, 13-inning triumph over the Yankees. A Yankee victory would have ended the American league race for all practical purposes. Today there's still hope in Los Angeles and Minnesota — although the Angels trail by five games and the Twins by six — and where there's hope there are cash-paying customers.

The "money game" — for the Angels and the league — was one which would have tried the nerves of a saint — if not an Angel.

Took Early Lead

The Yankees breeched to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings behind 18-game winner Ralph Terry. It looked like the same old story — a sudden Yankee push crushing their opposition in the big series. But the Angels bounced back, tying the game at 4-4 with the aid of two homers by Billy Moran and finally winning it in the 13th on Lee Thomas' single, a sacrifice and George Thomas' double. The Yankees had loaded the bases in the 12th with none out but Dan Osinski pitched his way out of the jam.

Los Angeles' victory was "the savor" because the Minnesota Twins blew a doubleheader to the Washington Senators, 6-4 and 6-0, and dropped six games behind the Yankees. There's hope in Minnesota... faint and dying... but still there because of the Angels.

The Detroit Tigers downed the Cleveland Indians, 8-5, and the Boston Red Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 8-2, in other AL action.

Dodgers Topped Phillies

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2, the San Francisco Giants shredded the New York Mets, 2-1, the Cincinnati Reds routed the Chicago Cubs, 14-3, the Milwaukee Braves edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2, and the Pittsburgh Pirates whitewashed the Houston Colts, 4-0.

Tom Tresh's three-run homer was the big blow of the Yankees' early attack on Dean Chance who nevertheless went eight innings before giving way to Osinski. Bill Stafford, who took over for the Yankees in the 12th, suffered his eighth loss against 10 wins.

Ken Retzer's two-run sixth-inning homer enabled the Senators to beat the Twins in their opener and then Don Rudolph pitched a six-hitter in the nightcap to complete the sweep. Bennie Daniels pitched hitless ball for five innings to win his fifth game in the opener. Bob Johnson and Chuck Hinton homered in the second game for the Senators.

Kalene Led Tigers

Al Kalene hit two homers, a double and a single, drove in two runs and scored four times to lead a 13-hit Tiger attack that brought Hank Aguirre his 12th win. Norm Cash and Chico Fernandez also homered for the Tigers, who dealt Jim Grant his sixth defeat.

Gene Conley pitched a six-hitter and struck out five to win his 12th game for the Red Sox. Conley, Eddie Bresnahan, Lu Clinton, Pete Runnels and Russ Nixon had two hits each for the Red Sox. Dan Pfister, routed in four innings, suffered his 11th loss for the Athletics.

Marichal Won 15th

Ernie Bowman drove in both the Giants' runs with a fifth-inning homer and a 10th-inning single to give Juan Marichal his 15th triumph. Al Jackson, one of the Mets' hard-luck pitchers, suffered his 17th defeat compared with six victories.

Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman homered and Pinson, Coleman and Marty Keough had three hits each to lead a 21-hit Cincinnati attack on four Cub pitchers. George Altman homered for the Cubs.

Roy McMillan's two-run pinch-double in the eighth inning was the big blow of a Milwaukee rally that tagged Ernie Broglio of the Cardinals with his sixth defeat against 10 wins. Bill White and Charlie James had two hits each for the Cardinals and Del Crandall and Frank Bolling had two each for the Braves.

Vern Law pitched a four-hitter to win his 10th game for the Pirates, whose seventh-hit attack was paced by two hits each by Bill Virdon and Dick Groat. It was the Colts' seventh consecutive loss.

Walton Session At Prineville

Portland—Directors of the Isaac Walton league's Oregon division will come to grips with two major questions affecting the state's natural resources — the problem of the timber industry and those of the game commission — at their fall meeting Saturday, Aug. 25, in Prineville.

Allan L. Kelly, state division president, said the league will make a close study of the problems of private enterprise as part of the overall forest resource picture. H. G. Lamoreaux, logging supervisor for Boise Cascade Corporation, Joseph, will represent the forest industries in the discussion.

World Softball Tourney Starts

Stratford, Conn. — Gov. John N. Dempsey will toss out the first ball to open the Women's World Championship Softball tournament tonight.

Nineteen teams are entered in the women's world series — including the defending champion Whittier, Calif. Gold Sox and the Osaka, Japan team.

Other top contenders are the Erv Lind Florists of Portland, Ore., and the Orange, Calif., Lionettes.

POTT, DILL LEAD

Oklahoma City — A pair of young professionals, one well-known and the other unknown, carried the lead into today's second round of the $35,000 Oklahoma City Open. Johnny Pott, in his sixth year as a touring pro, and Terry Dill, who gave up law school a few months ago to try his luck at golf, sliced four strokes off par Thursday to card 68s and lead the onrushing field by one stroke.

Work Progressing On Crater Stadium

Central Point — The Crater High school stadium project, moving rapidly toward completion, was scheduled to take further strides in that direction today.

Everett Faber, chairman of the stadium committee, said that this morning crews were to start laying out the back wall which will be used for supporting the roof. Pacific Power and Light company was also to install the power service today.

Steel supporting pipes for the roof are due to arrive today.

Concrete pouring has been finished, including that for a special section for fans in wheel chairs.

Faber reported that the committee has on hand at least enough money to complete the project but needs to sell 40 more of the three-year season tickets. They are $30 each. If the 40 are sold immediately, the roof can be put on in time for the first game of season on Sept. 14 against Bend. Faber pointed out September 14 is the projected dedicatory date for the stadium.

Central Point — Superintendent C. A. Meyer of District 6 schools issued a reminder today that persons who have purchased the three-year season tickets for Crater High school football games can select their seats and pick up their tickets at the school district administration building here. The tickets will be available at the administration building until Sept. 4. Meyer said that there are still 80 of the three-year tickets to be sold.

The chairman also reported that the Lions club has arranged to handle installation of the seat brackets and seats as well as the painting of the seats. They plan to begin this week end. He stated that several community projects are in the process of raising money, aiming at stadium completion by the target date.

John Robison of R and M Construction company has had a large crew on the job.

Hawaii Finally Subdues San Diego Padres 5-4

By RAYMOND L. ANDREWS

It was a long wait between victories but Hawaii finally topped San Diego in Pacific Coast league play Thursday night by a 5-4 margin.

The victory was the Islanders' first over the league leaders since June 1 and manager Irv Noren got into the act with a run-producing single in the ninth for the decision.

Vancouver took Portland in a doubleheader 8-5 and 9-4 and Seattle downed Spokane 5-2 in other action.

All of Hawaii's runs were unearned as the Islanders posted their second win over the Padres in the 15 games played between the two clubs.

A miscue by Tom Harper helped load the bases in the ninth and Noren's clutch single gave the victory to relief hurler Hay Griggs who owns both the Hawaii wins over the Padres.

Jim Rivera's two-run homer in the eighth wrapped up Seattle's triumph over Spokane. Tracy Stallard was the winner and went all the way for his seventh victory.

A double by Mike Shannon, a single by Ted Schreiber and Stallard's double netted two Rainier runs in the second and Shannon's second double of the evening scored Paul Smith in the third.

Jay Ward swung the big bat in Vancouver's two wins over Portland. Ward belted two homers in the seven-inning opener and added a solo clout in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

The Mounties broke the second one wide open with three runs in the seventh. Two of those crossed on Ron Henry's triple.
