

Hauptert Describes Trip To View Norway's Midnight Sun

(Following is the third in a series of letters written by Garner T. Hauptert Jr. He has been in Stor Dejlum, Norway, as an American Field Service exchange student this summer. Hauptert who will be a senior at Medford High school this fall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garner T. Hauptert, 222 Valley View dr., Medford.)

By GARNER T. HAUPERT JR. (July 7)

Jon (my AFS brother) and I are going north to try to see the midnight sun! We are going by scooter. We shall go to the city of Tromso on the northwest coast. The journey will be 975 miles, one way, and will take two weeks. We are going to sleep out if the weather is good, and stay in youth hostels if not.

(July 22)
Well, we made it. All 975 bumpy, hilly, rocky, muddy, narrow, curvy and delightful miles of it. It was a wonderful trip, and I have been through some rugged country. I cannot possibly describe the whole journey but will try to review it briefly.

For a long time we were in Norway's largest and most famous valley. It has steep hills, covered with green trees and shrubs. A river ran along the center of the valley. It reminded me of the Columbia river gorge area, but it was not so wide and it was much greener. In the highlands there are large treeless mountains with patches of snow on them and small blue lakes along the road.

Following a River
Going out of the mountains we followed a river like the Rogue higher up. The rivers here are clear, clean and quite fast.

Few roads in Norway are paved, and the traveling is rough. The first day we made 300 kilometers; 332 the second. (One kilometer is one and six-tenths miles.) We traveled for about six hours along the Trondheim fjord. The fjords are pretty, blue and clear. You can see to the bottom in about 30 or 40 feet of water. We also passed the Arctic circle.

Our stay in the youth hostels was fun. I have met kids from many different countries, including France, Britain, Germany, Sweden and The Netherlands. I find that people in Europe travel a great deal, especially young people.

Many of the kids I met in the youth hostels were hitchhiking. I have seen girls hitchhiking, too, but usually in pairs. The youth hostels are popular with these people. It costs three kroner to stay for one night (that is 42 cents).

Sees Midnight Sun
We saw the midnight sun when we were in the town of Narvik. We rode a cable car part way up a mountain, and then hiked the rest of the way to the top. We saw the sun, and it was really beautiful. It is a big red-orange ball which is almost into the ocean. More beautiful than the sun itself. I thought, was the light it played on the clouds that had gathered over our head during the late evening.

NOTED ARRIVAL

Tokyo — (UPI) — The Communist Chinese New China news agency Tuesday noted the arrival in South Viet Nam of the son of the late World War II hero Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell. The agency, in a broadcast monitored here, reported that U.S. Army Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Jr., "is the son of Joseph Stilwell, once commander of U.S. troops in Kuomintang-controlled areas of China in the Second World War."

MONTGOMERY WARD

LET WARDS INSTALL YOUR NEW WATER HEATER... FAST!

We went by ship from Tromso to Trondheim on the return trip. By doing this we were able to see a great deal more of Norway, the inland and coast and fjords.
The town of Tromso is large for Norway, about 15,000 people. We did a much walking that I practically had it memorized. We went to a museum which features Lapp stuff. We also saw an aquarium.

A funny thing happened one evening. We went into a shop to buy an ice cream cone. I asked for it in Norwegian and placed my money on the counter. I did not catch all of what the lady said but obviously I didn't have enough money. I said, "I am sorry, I don't speak Norwegian." She just smiled all of a sudden, took the money on the counter, gave me two big ice cream cones, and smiled some more.

In Trondheim we spent over two hours at a famous cathedral. It was begun in 1150 and is expected to be completed in 2080. We also saw an old castle and Norway's largest wooden building.

I am sure that everything that can happen to two boys on a motor scooter happened to us. We had speedometer trouble just before we left home and made the whole trip without one. We lost one each of two pairs of boots. We ran out of gas in the middle of nowhere. We lost a part out of the carburetor, but we went back down the road and found

FILM WITHDRAWN

Edinburgh, Scotland — (UPI) — The West German movie "Tear to Stalin" has been withdrawn from the Edinburgh Film Festival because it offended some Russian visitors, according to a festival spokesman. He said no official protest was made. The withdrawal followed Soviet comments that called the film's English dialogue anti-Soviet propaganda, untrue and damaging.

Conference Chance Explored by Church

Nashville, Tenn. — (UPI) — The Methodist church is exploring the possibility of calling a world conference on family life in a few years. The matter presently is in the hands of a subcommittee of the general committee on Family Life, which has asked for a discussion of the proposal at a higher level in denominational echelons.

PUBLISHER DIES

Portland, Ind. — (UPI) — Sherwood C. Ide, 65, former publisher of the Portland Commercial-Review and the Dunkirk News & Sun newspapers, died Tuesday of a heart attack.

SENATOR DIES

Chico, Calif. — (UPI) — California state Sen. Paul Byrne, 50, died Tuesday of a heart attack.
