

Annual Golf Tournament Brings Visitors; Events Set

The 34th annual Southern Oregon Golf championship tournament, traditionally played on the Labor day weekend at Rogue Valley Country club, has already brought scores of visitors to the city.

To entertain the guests, a social hour is held at the club house each evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Serving as host chairman for these are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conrad and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coleman. Five couples from the club membership are assisting the Conrads and Colemans each evening.

An important event for the women here for the tournament will be the annual champagne luncheon Saturday at 1 o'clock at the clubhouse. The party is given by the country club, and members of the Women's Golf association serve as hostesses.

Winner Arrives

Among the players already here is Miss June Robinson, Albany, who won the women's division of the tournament last year. She arrived Wednesday and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nulton, 341 Ardmore avenue. Miss Robinson, a graduate of Oregon State university in June, was medalist in the Collegiate golf tournament at Albuquerque, N.M., earlier this season, runner-up in a Canadian tournament and won the Astoria coast tournament. She will play in the Eugene tournament the week end of September 6-8.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Teutsch, who left Medford about two months ago to live in Eugene, are here for the tournament and are guests of the Edward C. Naves on South Oakdale avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell arrived Tuesday from Oswego, Ore., and are houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. John Nutch, 308 Murphy road. They will participate in the tournament.

Phoenix Club Plans Show

Phoenix "Fall Rhapsody" will be the theme of a flower show which Phoenix Garden club will give Sunday, September 9, at the Community club. Hours will be from 1 to 9 p.m. and a silver tea is planned.

Mrs. A. C. Lewis is club president and is serving as general chairman for the show. Entries may be in any of four divisions. Division I is for annuals, bulb plants, perennials, etc. Division II is the bloom cycle division, the third division is for the artistic design entries and Division IV is for the entries of other garden clubs.

Mrs. D. E. Lewis is scheduled chairman, assisted by Mrs. Elsie Lewis.

Mrs. S. E. Cox and Mrs. Robert Lewis will take charge of the horticulture entries; Mrs. W. A. Grochocni and Mrs. R. B. Nuckols the artistic entries. Other members are serving on various other committees.

Arcady Gardens will have a special display of cactus.

During the event the Senior Activity center orchestra will play, and a display of arts and craft work from the center will be arranged.

This is the first fall flower show ever held by the Phoenix club.

Hunters Return From Vacation

Central Point — Mrs. Ruth Hunter and children, Karen, Hugh and Sue, have returned to their home at 215 Maple street after spending the past two weeks on a vacation.

The Hunters went first to Seattle where they attended the World's Fair and were guests of a sister of Mrs. Hunter. From Seattle they continued to Kalispell, Mont., to see relatives and friends; they toured Glacier National park and saw the Hungry Horse dam and Swan lake. They also visited friends in Helena, and were with relatives in Minot, N. D.

In the latter region they visited the Garrison dam project, the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial park and drove through the Badlands. En route home the travelers spent some time with friends in Idaho Falls, and visited the Craters of the Moon National Monument in Idaho. They arrived home by way of Crater lake.

Costumer Talks For Soroptimists

Ashland — Davida Berger, Soroptimist club scholarship holder and assistant costumer of the 1962 Shakespearean season, was guest speaker at the Friday noon luncheon meeting of the club.

Miss Berger received her bachelor's degree in theatre and speech education at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. She has been technical director and costume designer for Barat college, Lake Forest, Ill., during the past year.

The speaker described the designing of costumes for the different plays, saying that each garment is made to fit the performer and is not made until the casting of the four plays is complete. She told of the choice of materials and color themes, the vast amount of behind the scenes work and of the extreme care taken in producing more than 150 costumes for this season's productions.

The regular Soroptimist club meeting which was held in the Mark Antony hotel Caesar room was conducted by the new president, Mrs. Mabel Winston.

At Drew

Tiller — Mrs. Hugh Ziemer and her daughter and grandchildren, Mrs. Mona Pineschi, Marsha and John, arrived Friday for a stay at the Ziemer place at Drew.

Social Events ♦ Women's News

Miss Margaret Wallace (center) a Methodist missionary to India for 22 years, was among the guests at a tea given last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Flanagan, 122 Pacific Highway north. Miss Wallace is pictured here with Mrs. Everett Faber (at left) and Mrs. Milton Snow. The tea was given by the board of Medford Council of United Church Women in honor of the wives of the city's ministers. (Knackstedt photo)

Physicians Study Way to Help Deformed Children

The Children's bureau has arranged for two physicians to visit West Germany this summer to study ways in which children with phocomelia, induced by thalidomide, are being helped. Mrs. Katherine B. Oettinger, chief of the bureau, announced today.

The physicians are Dr. Arthur Lesser, director, division of health services of the children's bureau, and Dr. Charles Frantz, medical director of the Child Amputee center in Michigan, which receives support from the children's bureau. Dr. Lesser's expenses are being paid by the Association for the Aid of Crippled Children. Dr. Frantz's trip is being supported by a grant from the Easter Seal Research foundation and the Michigan Crippled Children's commission.

"It is our hope," Mrs. Oettinger said, "that Dr. Lesser and Dr. Frantz can thoroughly study the techniques being used to care for these children and apply any improvements they discover to our own programs for the care of congenital amputees."

At the present time, more than 2,000 child amputees are being cared for under the state crippled children's program supported by bureau funds. About half of these deformities are congenital. While the number of children with phocomelia who are being cared for by the program is relatively small, children born without one or more of their limbs from other causes present some of the same problems of adjustment and prosthetic treatment.

The children's bureau, through its crippled children's program, has worked with the National Academy of Science's subcommittee on children's prosthetic problems to support research and demonstrations on child prosthetics which have revolutionized care for these children in the past two decades.

In addition, there are now some 19 child amputee clinics which are cooperating in a study of how to fit and use prosthetic devices, with particular emphasis on the help that both children and their parents need to give the children maximum use of these devices.

Dr. Lesser and Dr. Frantz will leave for Europe on August 25. They will study the methods of care for the between 3,000 and 5,000 infants in West Germany who have been born with deformities ranging from shortening of the arm to complete absence of one or more — or even all — extremities.

Dr. Lesser will pay particular attention to the growth and development of these children and to the reactions of parents and children to this congenital handicap and their abilities to adjust to it in a useful way. Dr. Frantz will study the orthopedic and prosthetic aspects of their care which can be useful in the general approach to children with congenital amputations here.

Wedding Planned At Navy Chapel

Mrs. J. D. Neill and daughter, Miss Karlene Neill, 1415 West Eighth street, plan to leave tonight for southern California. They are making the trip to attend the wedding of their son and brother, Lt. Jerry C. Neill, and Miss Toni Roberts which is set for Saturday, September 1, at the chapel on the Miramar Naval base.

The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robert of El Cajon, Calif.

Son Home

Matthew Rode, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rode, 2242 Buena Vista avenue, returned Friday after being away for the summer participating in the Naval Reserve Officers' training program.

He was stationed at the Naval Air Base in Corpus Christi, Tex., and later at the Naval base in Coronado, Calif., and the Marine base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The student will return to Oregon State university in September.

Family Here From Islands; Party Is Given

Among visitors in the valley is Mrs. Burton Daugherty and her children, Ann, Byron and Harlow, who came from Christiansted, St. Croix, the Virgin islands to spend some time with Mrs. Daugherty's father, Alfred S. V. Carpenter, and Mrs. Carpenter, Toppides, Old Stage road. Mr. Daugherty accompanied them to Medford and has returned home.

Also here for a time was Mr. Carpenter's son, Harlow, Waitsfield, Vt., who has also returned home. The visitors were honored at a cocktail party given August 19 at the Colony club by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Luther Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty and family made the trip west by train and stopped in Seattle for the World's Fair. Mr. Daugherty is headmaster of St. Dunstan Episcopal school in Christiansted which will open September 11 in a new building owned by the Episcopal diocese. The school, an outgrowth of an earlier institution, will serve children from kindergarten through high school and is open to all races, creeds and colors. It is expected that the enrollment this fall will be about 200 pupils.
