

GIANTS' PENNANT HOPES SURGE

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Suddenly, the San Francisco Giants look better than a million dollars again all because a pair of money players — Juan Marichal and Willie Mays — made the Los Angeles Dodgers look like small change.

More than that, they reduced the Dodgers' lead to 2½ games again by collaborating in a 3-0 victory Wednesday night that provided new pennant hope for the second-place Giants.

Manager Alvin Dark insisted before this series that his Giants would have to win three out of four to stay alive. They've taken two out of three so far and get their last crack of the season at the Dodgers tonight.

Mays was his usual magnificent self as he banged out three of the Giants' nine hits and drove in two of their runs with a pair of resounding doubles.

And Marichal, who gained his 18th victory, permitted only four singles before wrenching his right ankle while fielding Willie Davis' grounder in the sixth. Bob Bolin took over in the seventh and held the Dodgers scoreless on two hits the rest of the way.

No Bones Broken
X-rays taken of Marichal's ankle after the game disclosed that no bones were broken.

In other National League activity, the Cincinnati Reds climbed to within five games of first place by sweeping a pair from the Chicago Cubs, 7-5 in 10 innings and 10-3, the Milwaukee Braves blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, and the Houston Astros nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3, in the only other scheduled games.

The Minnesota Twins missed an excellent opportunity to gain ground on the rained-out first-place Yankees in the American league when they won the opener of a twin bill against Washington, 9-7, in 11 innings, but dropped the nightcap, 3-0. The Chicago White Sox nipped the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, the Detroit Tigers took two from the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2 and 6-0, and the Boston Red Sox crushed the Kansas City A's, 12-4.

Hubb's String Ends
Rookie second baseman Ken Hubb's string of consecutive errorless chances ended at 418 when he threw wildly on a double play ball in the eighth inning of the nightcap between the Cubs and Reds.

Hubb's major league record of 414 perfect chances in the opener, which the Reds won 1-0, was shattered.

Dodgers Play SF Tonight For Final Time in 1962

By ALEX KAHN
Los Angeles — (UPI) — There was no doubt today about the Los Angeles Dodgers setting a National league attendance record, but there still was considerable ground for the club to cover before it can be as sure of capturing the pennant.

The San Francisco Giants kept their pennant hopes alive Wednesday night with a 3-0 shutout that left them 2½ games behind the Dodgers while the Cincinnati Reds closed to five games by taking a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers went into tonight's game with a seasonal attendance of 2,233,509 and needed only 20,378 patrons to equal the National league attendance mark of 2,253,887.

With the attendance for the last three games having bettered 50,000 each, a new league mark was assured tonight.

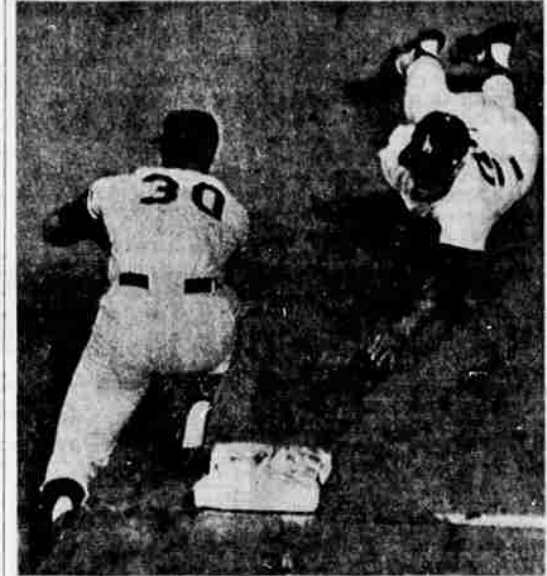

The big gun of the Dodgers pitching staff, Don Drysdale, who owns a 23-7 record and leads the majors in victories, takes the mound in the final game of the season between the Dodgers and Giants.

San Francisco's starter will be Billy O'Dell, 16-12. The classy Giants southpaw has beaten the Dodgers twice this season while losing to them three times.
