

NIXON'S SUPPORTERS - Republican gubernatorial candidate Richard Nixon poses with a group of airline stewardesses at Santa Monica, Calif., after they organized a "Nixon-Aires" volunteer corps. (UPI)

RUINS IN IRAN - A small child stands in a pile of ruins in Boen, Iran, after an earthquake earlier this month tore through the western section of the country, killing or injuring an estimated 20,000 persons and leaving thousands of others homeless. (UPI)

NEW EQUIPMENT - Modern art is no more mysterious than this x-ray equipment now installed at the VA medical clinic building at White City. Tom Andrews, x-ray technician, who operates the flexible features of this special camera says he cannot show how it works in less than six pictures but this one taken by Charles Matthews, domiciliary member, is adequate to let you know it is complicated. Suffice it to say, the projector suspended from ceiling tracks can take any picture desired from any position of the patient, even when standing on his head by means of the movable table. Moreover, the man does not have to be moved if wheeled in.

FIND QUAKE VICTIMS - Recovered from areas devastated by the Sept. 1 earthquake in Iran. They said still more bodies lay beneath.

White City Area Road Plan Reviewed By Commissioners

The Jackson county planning commission last night reviewed a road plan in a subdivision in the old Camp White area presented by Bud Hoover.

The overall plan had been reviewed by the commission's subdivision committee in February, but the committee's approval of the road plan had not been included in the commission's minutes.

The county court and the county engineer's office had requested the commission's approval prior to action on streets in the subdivision.

Gerald Latham, commission secretary, who presided at the meeting in the absence of the president and vice president, pointed out that the subdivision lots are in excess of five acres so it is outside of the scope of the county subdivision ordinance. The commission has the authority only to review the overall road plan to see if roads are considered to be good planning.

Opposes Two Streets

Commissioner Edd Rountree strongly opposed the placement of two streets since they did not line up with existing or planned roads. It was pointed out that the jobs in the roads shown on the map were at least one block in length and that the straight sections were in excess of one mile.

Rountree charged that it was "very poor planning when roads are put in helter-skelter," adding that in the future an urban renewal loan will be needed to correct a "slum."

The commission approved the road plan with Rountree voting against the plan.

Opposes Variance Request
Rountree also opposed a variance request by Mrs. Leona Robertson to erect billboard advertising signs in the South Talent road area.

The billboards, two new and one to be enlarged, are at the intersection of Highway 99 and the old Pacific highway south of Talent.

The commission approved the request on the condition

Duncan Stresses Democrats for All

Roseburg - Robert B. Duncan, speaker of the Oregon House, and Democratic candidate for Congress for the Fourth district, attended opening of the Democratic headquarters here Wednesday.

Duncan pointed out the importance of inviting all segments of our society into the Democratic party.

"The Democratic party must never become the party of labor, agriculture, big business or little business, but must always keep the doors open for all groups and all Americans," Duncan said. "This is our strength and our weakness. Our weakness because we lack - but don't want - party discipline, and are constantly plagued with interparty disputes; our strength because it forces us to constantly reexamine our position and program - so that we are constantly prepared to change for the greatest good for the greatest number."

Duncan continued his campaign in Douglas county Wednesday. Today he was to address a luncheon group in Lane county and the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce and McKenzie and Democrats tonight.
