What Not To Do Rules Outlined for Parents

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK United Press International New York (UPI)—Resolutions for the parents most likely to be disappointed by grades on the off-spring's report card:

Let your "scholar" follow a flexible study schedule every night. Steady study periods interfere with killing time, television and telephone trances.

Follow a flexible schedule yourself, especially when it comes to getting up in the morning. So the children have to get ready for school the slipshod way? They might even be late two out of five mornings a week? The world won't fall in.

Take a very casual view of PTA activities. If the teacher really wants to talk to you about your child's progress—or lack of same—she knows your phone number.

Don't expect your youngster home after school much before dinner time. Respect his privacy. Curb the urge to ask where he's been killing time.

Keep your dander down when he fails to tell you know whom he's killing time with most nights after school. Surely, you don't place any stock in that saw about—"Show me your friends and I'll tell you what you are?"

Be Modern. Be modern in all respects. Neatness, for example, used to count in school attire. Times change. Who are you to try to stop a sloppy fad—say going to class with shirt-tails out?

Pay little attention to the nook where the offspring study. So what if the light's faulty and the desk wobbles? Remember? You sometimes had to study around the dining room table.

Be busy anytime your youngster wants you to listen to a speech he's practicing for an oratory contest. Ditto for the time he expects you to tune in his Sousaphone solo.

Never ask the children what they are studying when they finally get around to opening a book. It might interfere with your crossword puzzle.

Tell them you have a headache and can't be disturbed.

Chapter To Make Plans for Year Plans for the coming year will be made at a meeting of Epsilon chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, set for Saturday, September 15, at the home of Miss Delie Whisenant, 3355 Forrest avenue.

Delta Kappa Gamma is a professional sorority for women in the teaching profession. Dessert will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Pocahontas Lodge To Be Entertained Entertainment is being planned for the weekly session of Weatanka council, Degree of Pocahontas, to be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Redman hall, Apple street.

Calendar Calendar notices and news for the society section of The Mail Tribune must be submitted in writing and deadline for the Sunday edition is 1 p.m. Friday. Deadline for the weekly calendar is 9 a.m. of the day of publication and for week day news is 5 p.m. the day before publication.

Winners Game Set Saturday

On the week end calendar for bridge fans is the September "winners" game. It will be played Saturday, September 15, in Grants Pass with the Grants Pass Duplicate Bridge club as host group.

Medford Duplicate Bridge club played Tuesday night and with this session ended a series of contests which has been under way for the past several weeks. Men players swept the field, with the first three highest scores held by them: Chester Reavis was first with 127 points, Roy Pruitt, second, 111, and Paul A. Hutton, third, 101 points.

North-south winners for Tuesday's play were Mrs. Hutton and Mrs. R. J. Conroy, first, 170½; Millard Allen, Portland, and Mr. Reavis, second, 168; Mr. Hutton and Mrs. John Dougherty tied with Mrs. W. W. Stevenson and George Bratton for fourth with 163½ points; Mrs. Frank fifth with 159 points.

Baker and Leland Clark were winning east-west were Richard Finnell and Roy Pruitt, first, 183; Mrs. J. J. Finegan and Mrs. Hugh Collins, second, 153; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holmberg, Grants Pass, third, 149½; Mrs. Welch, Crescent City, Calif., and Mr. Dickman, Corvallis, tied with Mrs. Sam Richardson and Robert R. Dickey, fifth, 149.

Seven visiting players took part.

Seoid, too, the child who seems heedless all the time. Sure, the youngster says he can't hear well but you know that's just a dodge. You want proof. Wait until the school doctor suggests a hearing examination. That probably will be sometime after the first report card full of failing marks.

P.S. - Following these resolutions guarantees that your children won't do well in school. When the teacher calls to discuss the situation, tell her it's the school's fault.

Mothers of Twins Club Joins National Group

Medford Mothers of Twins club has become affiliated with the National Mothers of Twins Club of America with headquarters in Akron, Ohio, local officers of the group have announced.

The Medford club was organized in 1960 and is for the purpose of assisting new mothers of twins.

Club members have formed a pool for clothing and equipment for twins to be used on an exchange basis. The national organization issues books concerning care of twins, personality conflicts, dressing twins alike, and other subjects, which are available to members.

The Medford club meets the first Thursday of each month and anyone interested in information concerning the group may telephone Mrs. John Pogue, 826-4841.

Mrs. Herbert Daniken is president; Mrs. Robert Watmore, vice president; Mrs. Delvin Elder, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Martin Spielbusch, ways and means, and Mrs. Lee Hubler, visitation. Mrs. Pogue is publicity chairman.

Past activities of the twins group were a valentine party for twins; a film on cancer to which the public was invited, an Easter Egg hunt for all children of club members; a Fathers day picnic for their families, and an appearance of the twins on television.

Planned for this fall are lessons in first aid.
