MIKE GLINES Returns To Comets

St. Mary's Meets Lakeview Saturday

A contingent of football players who "believe in winning but are not quite used to it" will provide the opposition for the St. Mary's High School Crusaders when they stage their home opener of the season here Saturday night.

Lakeview's Honkers are the visiting delegation. Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. at the Medford high stadium. This will be a Rogue league embroilment—a District 6 A-2 southern sub-district game.

The Honkers may not be used to victory but they started out the season with one last week when they beat Rogue member Sacred Heart of Klamath Falls 23 to 0. Lakeview consequently is the leader of the league.

A little more than 500 yards from scrimmage was gained by Lakeview in its game but the w/honker Coach Bud Dowling is a bit inclined to minimize the victory. He pointed to the Trojans as a real young club which will come along a little later and be tougher.

Among Lakeview offensive guns are "Night Train" Layne Clifton, left halfback, and Fred Williams, fullback. Both are lettermen and seniors. The quarterback, Ken Quigley, is a senior non-letterman and the right half is Buz Miller, a senior without previous experience.

A potent offensive lineman is 230-pound tackle Fred Baldwin, another senior who has lettered. He is fairly fast for his size and blocks a lot of line.

Among defensive stalwarts are Carl Coscorrosa, linebacker; Myron Steward, an end, and Baldwin. Coscorrosa, who is an offensive guard, calls the signals on defense. Dowling terms Steward, the offensive center, "the toughest kid" on defense. Baldwin was the leading tackler against Sacred Heart. The three foregoing linemen are seniors and lettermen.

Other lettermen who may start are Ray Vargas, end and deep back, the captain, and John Leavitt, another deep back on defense.

Dowling has indicated a basic defensive pattern of four-three-four. The University of Idaho grad, who came to Lakeview after coaching at Priestly, Idaho, voiced a word of respect for St. Mary's, calling the Crusaders a fundamentally sound club and indicating that his Honkers expect to have a battle on their hands. SM beat Glide 38 to 31 last week.

St. Mary's Coach Bill McKibbin said yesterday that Joe Smith, who has been hobbled by an ankle and foot injury, may be able to start at guard. However, Jeff Randolph, linebacker and fullback, appears to be out of action for another game because of his bad ankle.

ST. MARY'S DEFENSE - Larry Padra and Dennis Rose replace Tom and Tim Darland.

ILLINOIS VALLEY DEFENSE - Walter Ziesche, linebacker, replaces McNaught; Tom Berkner, end, replaces Gellert; Kentfield goes to safety.

Weatherly Winner by Full Mile

Newport, R.I. - (UPI) - The Australians took another day off from America's Cup racing today to see if they could find some way to stem Bus Mosbacher, his crew and swift Weatherly.

The American boat beat Gretel by a mile-literally-in Thursday's third race and put Weatherly ahead, 2-1, in this international yachting championship.

Joek Sturrock immediately ran up the flag asking for, and automatically getting, a postponement in the fourth race until Saturday.

The lack of wind was given by the Australians as the reason for their big defeat and no one would disagree. Weatherly just ghosted away from the Aussie boat in breezes dropping to three knots and never above 10.

The postponement might result in stiff winds by Saturday. It was under those conditions that Gretel won the second race-but only by 47 seconds. Weatherly won Thursday by eight minutes and 40 seconds.

It was a heartbreaker. Sturrock got Gretel across the starting line six full boat lengths, 75 seconds ahead of fast starts.

Within five minutes, Mosbacher had steered Weatherly up even. In eight minutes he was ahead. But at that point it was still a good race and they turned the first marker of the four six-mile lengths with only a minute's time between Weatherly and Gretel.

Then came Gretel's trouble. Winds dropped sharply. Sturrock gambled on a huge red, yellow and grey spinnaker sail. It would not fill up with wind. The Aussies hit a calm spot and scarcely moved.

Red Raiders Hosts To Chico Staters

Ashland-Southern Oregon College will play host to the Chico State Wildcats at 8 p.m. Saturday on Fuller field. The Raider-Wildcat encounter will be the season opener for the Chico team.

After viewing this film from last week's alumni game, Raider mentor Al Akins revealed "his boys will have a long way to go." It seems the Raiders have apparently had too much football too fast.

Coach George Maderos of the Wildcats has a good nucleus from last year's squad with eight returning lettermen and thirteen promising transfers. Leading the returning lettermen are guard Mario Serafin, 210, and end Ed Burton, 198.

Trainer Tony Brauner revealed that a lot of tape has been used and that several boys were competing for the "Johnson and Johnson" award. This is an honorary award that is given to the "most taped up player."

Akins has reviewed the films of last year's Chico game and states that "we just don't know what we are going to do." Akins feels the team is just not ready and that they have only been going at half speed in practice. Junior quarterback Doug Olsen, offensive captain for the Raiders, stated that the veterans are "really up" for the encounter Saturday evening. Olsen further revealed that some of the freshmen "will soon find out how it feels to get hit in a college game."

PHOENIX DEFENSE - Eugene Hill replaces Esp.

Berkeley, Calif. - (UPI) - A pretty miss with gray-green eyes from British Columbia today reigned as "Miss Football of 1962."

She is Lynn E. Galbraith, 21, a major in psychology at the university of British Columbia. She was named queen Thursday night.

Ceremonies in the 17th annual National Football festival continued here today, climaxed by the California-Missouri game in Memorial Stadium.

Rogue River Will Aim For Upset

Rogue River - "We feel we stand a chance of upsetting them this week."

That is how the Rogue River High school Chiefs view their football fracas with the defending Rogue league champion Phoenix Pirates tonight. The teams meet here with bootoff at 8 p.m.

"The kids are working real hard," reported Coach Wayne Misener. "We're hoping," he said, "We'll give them a bad time if nothing else."

The game is going to be a hard one and breaks may determine the outcome, Misener feels.

Practices this week have stressed offense but defense is being geared to halt the running of Phoenix backs Jim Cronsbuck and Dennis Grennan. Misener's aim is to have his defensive ends thinking tough. There has been a lot of work on fundamentals.

The mentor indicated that his lineup may vary little from last week. With one exception starter likely will play both ways. Brad Frazer, a tackle, likely will replace, Bob Clark, center for defense.

Eagle Point Encounters IV Cougars

Eagle Point - Eagle Point high will try for its eighth straight football triumph over Illinois Valley tonight.

The Eagles encounter the Cougars at 8 p.m. in a Rogue league brush. IV has not trimmed the Eagles since 1954.

Word from over Cave Junction way is that Coach Bill Stewart has spent much of the week on drills aimed at fortifying the defense of the Cougars. The offense went fairly well last week end as the IV eleven reeled off 320 yards against Gold Beach in a 34 to 32 losing cause.

Measures to strengthen the line have been undertaken and linebackers have been switched.

Offensive drill has emphasized the running game. John Baumgardner, right half with no experience, but showing lots of promise, is being groomed to bolster the ground attack. Stewart figures that the new gridders will hit stride in a couple of weeks.

Gellert Shines High point for the Cougars against GB was the passing game and the showing of quarterback Darryl Gellert. He had 13 completions in 23 throws for 240 yards and one touchdown. The figures don't show the whole story of his throwing. Only two balls were off target and not touched. Several of his throws were dropped. None were intercepted.

Coach Vern Steward's Eagles have spent considerable time on offense this week. Hot weather, however has slowed the squad. The mentor termed safety Mike House the improved player of the week for his defensive tackling. Bill Hoeft, Vic Eccleston, Bob Bonner, Bill Ayres and Merle Ford are boys who have looked good in drills.

The Eagles enter conference play after beating Brookings 7 to 0 last Friday. They beat IV 33 to 13 last year.

EAGLE POINT DEFENSE - Larry DeHaven enters at guard and end; Vic Eccleston at guard and end; Bob Bonner at halfback; TERRY McNAUGHT and Ron Kentfield, ends; Howard Verborough and Martin Pickle, tackles; Tom Pickle and Ron Goodpasture, guards; Larry Cox, center; Darryl Gellert, quarterback; John Baumgardner, right halfback; Ervin Wilcher, wingback; Ron Thornhill, fullback.

WALTER ZIESCHE, linebacker, replaces McNaught; Tom Berkner, end, replaces Gellert; Kentfield goes to safety.
