Nicklaus Heads Open

By WILLARD D. EBERHART
United Press International
Portland, Ore. —(UP)— Jack Nicklaus returns to college Monday and he may take the Portland Open golf championship with him.

He started the second round of the $25,000 tournament today a stroke ahead of the pack after his eight-under-par 64 Thursday.

The 22-year-old golfing scourge, who goes back for another term of study at Ohio State next week, shot almost perfect golf Thursday to lead Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., by one shot.

Two strokes behind was the portly gallery favorite, Billy Casper Jr., who has won this tournament the last three years, the only time it's been played. Shooting 32-34-66, Casper was tied for third with Bob Rosburg of Portland.

Six pros were three strokes off the pace—Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Bob Harrison, Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Ron Weber, Bayside, Calif.; Bill Eggers, Henderson, Nev., and George Bayer, Miami.

Woods, Water, Wildlife

By Hank DeVoss

There is no doubt but that the commercial fishing interests in the upper end of the state are glistening with glee over the present situation that threatens to take the steelhead petition off the forthcoming ballot. The issue isn't decided as yet, but the commercial interests might as well face the fact that the sportfishing interests are going to make steelhead a game fish in Oregon regardless of any delaying tactics.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

For those who are unaware of the facts, here is a short history of the steelhead of Oregon — the most confused game food fish on the west coast:

The Oregon steelhead, a rainbow trout with sea-going tastes, is not considered a game fish in this state. Although this doesn't bother the steelhead a great deal, there is some confusion now existing on the Columbia river where Washington steelhead travel with game permits while their Oregon cousins exist as food fish. But because a Washington steelhead travels with the Oregon steelhead, commercial fishermen remain unfused by gill-netting any steelhead, be they game or food.

BILLS FUMBLLED

An attempt to resolve the confusion has been made several times by the sportsmen of Oregon, but each time the Legislature has managed to fumble the bill into oblivion. This year the sportsmen are trying to make steelhead a game fish through the initiative petition — by placing the issue on the ballot for a direct vote by the people. Commercial interests objected to the petition and managed to get the title changed while signatures were being collected; now they are objecting because the title was changed and they contend that the people didn't know what they were signing because of the title confusion.

VERY NEAT

One can't help but admire this strategy born of desperation. The last thing the commercial interests want is to have the people of the state given a chance to vote on whether or not steelhead should be a game fish. Once the steelhead is made a game fish, the commercial fishing in the Columbia river will be finished. It may take a little time, but this will be the eventual outcome.

THE BIG ISSUE

When the steelhead is declared a game fish, and thereby limits the catch of the commercial fishermen to convince the people that salmon should be sports caught and also considered a game fish in any river. Fishing pressures are going to be too great to permit otherwise. The title confusion was just that, a mixup as to what the title should say, but the petition itself remained the same. The big issue is whether commercial interests should be allowed to share in the harvest of the anadromous runs while those runs are in the Columbia river. Their days are numbered.

THE ANGLER'S LOG

One week until the opening of the battle between deer and men. It's most frustrating that the fishing news is getting better and better to the extent that the first of October may be the beginning of the fall steelhead season for the serious fishermen of the valley.

Klamath River — For those brave enough to withstand the traffic jam at the mouth of the river there is news of many over 30-pound chinooks being taken. Steelheaders should take note that there was a 15-pound ironhead taken yesterday at the bridge just up from the mouth. With the normal rate of progression these fish should be in the Happy Camp area sometime after the first of October. This will be if there is some rain to cool the water in the meantime.

Rogue River—Reports are coming in that steelhead are being caught from Casey Park to Agness. Since the steelhead in the upper river are summer run fish and in short supply, the recommendation is that the Rainier Falls area will be the best bet for the week end. Please don't walk on salmon spawning beds, it's not good for the young springs.

Diamond Lake—Fishing is good to excellent. Most of the catches are 9 to 11 inch rainbows. Best baits are PFW, FF&I, FF&I, and various small lures. There are a few fish being taken that run from 2 to 2 1/2 pounds. Average catch is 3 fish per angler.

Fish Lake—Fishing is good. The rainbow are running up to 18 inches with the smaller brook trout taking at this time. Most of the fishermen are limiting out. Howard Prairie—Flatfish, flax, and worms are the fish getters at this lake. The trawlers are getting most of the action, with bank and still fishermen having a spotty time of it. Nothing under 12 inches, and a few stories of fishermen being cleaned out by something BIG!

Hyatt Lake—Fishing is picking up with mostly limit catches of rainbow running 13 to 18 inches. The best system seems to be two red eggs topped with one pale egg per hook.
Klamath Lake—Is getting better. Harold Haviland of Gold Hill has scored again with an 11-pounder taken yesterday on a knobby wobler. The water is clear.
Willow Lake—Bank fishermen are catching fish off both sides of the spillway. Kokanee and rainbow up to 16 inches. Trollers must go deep.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER

It's very gratifying to see the State Sanitary Authority concerned about the placer mining operation on the headwaters of the Cheico river. Let's give it support in this attempt to see that mining is controlled to the extent that other values are not lost. GOOD LUCK!

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN... TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. It took 17 days to go 1,066 miles! This is the road south of Loreto.

When you came to a river, you got wet. This Baja river bottom was covered with rocks the size of melons. It was a rough crossing.

Tight squeeze for the conventional medium- and heavy-duty units in this narrow gorge. Their new narrower front ends certainly paid off here (7 inches slimmer).

The new ladder-type frames on all models took severe punishment from terrain such as this (as did all components, of course). Temperatures as high as 122 degrees F. burned the land around Dry Lake—one more ordeal the trucks had to shrug off.
