

Yanks Wrap Up American League Pennant

By FRED DOWN

The old champs got their knockout, too, with the time-tested one-two punch of Mantle and Ford.

And so today it's only a question of whether it'll be the Los Angeles Dodgers or San Francisco Giants in the opposite dugout when the New York Yankees begin the defense of their world baseball championship.

The Yankees made it official Tuesday night when they clinched their second straight pennant under Ralph Houk and their 27th flag in all with an 8-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

It was the knockout blow as far as the Minnesota Twins were concerned although the Cleveland Indians later added the coup de grace with a 5-1 triumph over the Twins.

Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, who are always ready for a party, were the fellows who flashed the signal to pop the champagne corks.

Mantle enjoyed a perfect night at bat with four singles and a walk, driving in two runs and scoring two others, while Ford scattered 12 hits and struck out six in going the distance for his 17th win of the season. Bill Skowron also drove in two runs with a single and his 23rd homer and Tony Kubek had three hits in the Yankees' 16-hit attack.

The National league race, meanwhile, is far from over with the Giants making a late push and the Dodgers dragging their heels.

The Giants cut their first-place deficit to a mere two games on Tuesday night when they beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2, and the Houston Colts topped the Dodgers, 3-2, in 10 innings. The Dodgers' magic number remained at four with both them and the Giants having five games to play.

Jack Sanford pitched a seven-hitter to raise his record to 23-7 behind a nine-hit attack that included two hits each by Matty Alou, Willie Mays and Tom Haller. Bill White homered for the Cardinals.

Maury Wills stole two bases to raise his record total to 99 but Dick Farrell scrambled off to score his 10th win for the Colts. Ed Roebuck, who hadn't lost a game in two years and had a 10-0 record this season, suffered the defeat when Al Spangler homered in the top of the 10th.

The Detroit Tigers beat the Los Angeles Angels, 3-2, and the Boston Red Sox defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4-0, in other AL games while the Cincinnati Reds shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1, and the Milwaukee Braves defeated the New York Mets, 7-3, in other NL action.
